LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OUR TERMS

Are One Dollar a Year in Advance!

Persons who receive a paper with this article marked, may know that they should renew their subscription, if they wish to continue to receive The Times.

CORRESPONDENTS will please bear in mind that orders received later than Saturday evening, or the down mail on Monday morning have to lay over until the following week.

Sale bills, or any kind of job printing done promptly at this office.

Sale of Personal Property.—We call attention to the sale of personal property, by Amos Fouk, in Carroll township, on Friday, the 18th inst.

No Name.—We have received a letter from Blain containing a remittance but with no name. So we know not who to credit it to.

Those who are governed by fashion's laws will take notice that chignons are now worn smaller, and a lady appearing on the street with one larger than a water bucket, would be out of style.

The State received the enormous amount of seven dollars from the treasurer of Perry county last year, for eating-house and restaurant licences—being the smallest amount received from any county in the State.

On Friday evening the horses attached to Robinson's hack, suddenly started as he was letting out a passenger, in this borough, and but for prompt assistance, would have done much damage. Fortunately they were stopped before any harm was done to either passengers or hack.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. William A. Darr, a carpenter employed in shingling the roof of Col. A. Noble's residence on Main street, fell, and was luckily caught in a grape arbor, which doubtless saved his life. He fell a distance of two stories and a half, with his head downwards, and escaped with a few bruises.—Carlisle Herald.

The best is always the cheapest, and this is particularly so when selecting a company in which to insure your property. Persons wishing insurance, are certain of selecting a good company, if they insure in the Etna. Mr. Lewis Potter, of Bloomfield, is agent for this company. If you wish an insurance ask him for a policy in the Etna of Hartford, which is one of the oldest and most reliable in the United States.

Found Dead.—One evening last week the startling news was brought to town that a man, a stranger in this vicinity, had been found dead in Centre township. One of the persons living in the vicinity had kindly removed the body into a new house he was building, and a sort of irregular inquest developed the fact that the cause of the sad affair was an over dose of whisky, mixed with sundry potions of ale. A verdict of DEAD DRUNK, from this cause, was accordingly rendered.

Church Notices.

In the Reformed Church preaching every evening during the week. Communion next Sabbath at 10 o'clock. Preparatory services on Saturday at 10 1/2 a. m.

In the Lutheran Church prayer meeting on Wednesday evening; preaching next Sabbath at 2 p. m.

In the Presbyterian Church prayer meeting on Wednesday evening, also on Sunday morning and evening.

In the Methodist Church preaching at 10 o'clock a. m., prayer meeting on Thursday evening.

The Best in Use.—The Parham Sewing Machine is the most simple, the most complete, works with less noise and will be found the best machine in use. They may be seen at the store of James L. Diven in Landisburg, or of F. Mortimer & Co., Bloomfield. Every person who thinks of purchasing a sewing machine, should, not fail to examine The Parham Machine.

Religious meetings at which great interest is manifested, are now being held in the church at Elliottsburg. It is expected that the meetings will continue through the whole of this week.

Newport Items.—We stated last week that a party had been arrested at this place on the charge of drunkenness, disorderly conduct and blasphemy. We have since been informed that the warrant only called for their arrest on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, no charge of blasphemy being made.

The youths of our borough have taken a step in a right direction. Having inaugurated a reform society, pledging themselves from swearing and to assist the adults of the place in generally maintaining order. May success attend their efforts.

The Odd Fellows Lodge intend to give a social supper next Thursday evening, to which all members are invited to bring their ladies.

Another Case of Being Dragged by a Mule.—Mr. Elias Smith, of Fayette twp., this county, while riding a mule on his way home on Saturday, 22nd ult., was thrown therefrom by the sudden frightening of the beast, and dragged for some distance. As the beast was plunging through Cocalamus creek, Mr. Smith by good fortune, managed to secure a hold on the flood gate, when the saddle-girth broke, and thereby releasing himself from his perilous situation. He was confined to his room for several days from the effects of the injuries he received. It will be remembered that about the last of December, a Mr. Dearing, of Milford twp., was dragged to his home under similar circumstances.—Junata Sentinel.

For The Bloomfield Times. SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 1, 1870.

Mr. Editor—I arrived here safely, on the steamer "Dictator"—an excellent steamer—and since my arrival I have been spending my time in looking about the city. The first thing that attracted my attention was the activity about the harbor. It certainly is a very different place from Charleston.—Here all is bustle and hurry on the docks. Everywhere I can see moving masses of living beings, and as far as my eyes can reach, I can see nothing but a forest of masts with the colors of their various nationalities fluttering in the breeze. On getting on shore immense quantities of cotton bales piled up all along the wharves met my gaze. Quite a number of vessels were loading with the staple. It is difficult to keep from being run over by a cotton derrick or truck whilst moving about the docks.—Among the curiosities here is a machine for reducing the size of cotton bales by means of hydraulic pressure. It would be impossible for me to explain the manner of doing this satisfactorily, suffice it to say that the bales before they are brought here, are packed and pressed so that it seems impossible to diminish their size to any extent, yet by means of this powerful machine, in less time than it will take me to relate, it will reduce a well-pressed bale of cotton to one-half its former dimensions. I was unable to learn the name of the inventor of this useful machine. On going beyond the wharves and walking along the first street running parallel with them, I saw nothing remarkable, except its filthiness, the meanness and inferiority of the buildings along it, and the large number of whiskey establishments. It seemed as though every door on the street had over it "Licensed to sell Liquor." I next wended my way into the heart of the city. Pavements and sidewalks of every description are scarce, and streets muddy beyond excuse. The only thing that makes them at all endurable, is the beauty of the shade trees along their entire length, and the many parks which are really attractive.

Among other things I observed, that goats were very numerous in all parts of the city, no matter where I went, I met them on the street sidewalks, on the steps of the houses, some inside gazing out innocently at the passer-by, and would venture a wager that I could tell this city from any other blindfolded by its goatly smell.—The people here seem less selfish than those of Charleston. The colored population present a better appearance—healthier and better clad, and there are but few idlers about the streets. There are but few good buildings in the city, such as are found in our principal northern cities. The Marshall House is one of the best, and would pass for a respectable second class hotel in New York or Philadelphia. x x x.

For The Bloomfield Times. SURPRISE VISIT.—Mr. Editor: Allow the undersigned to return their grateful acknowledgments, through your valuable paper, to the members of the Reformed congregation of Newport, who surprised them by a visit to the Parsonage on Thursday evening, the 3d inst, with gifts which supplied the wardrobe with useful articles—the pantry with flour, apples, potatoes, dried fruit etc., and the granary with corn and oats. The gifts thus deposited are worth at a reasonable valuation, between forty and fifty dollars. After an entertainment of an hour to which the inmates of the Parsonage, notwithstanding their want of practice, endeavored to contribute, the party took leave, carrying with them our kind acknowledgments. These tokens of regard furnish evidence of an appreciation of our labors in their midst. May the Lord abundantly remunerate the members of this congregation for their liberality and kindness to their pastor and family. W. F. COLLIFLOWER, A. E. COLLIFLOWER.

For The Bloomfield Times. Death of Prof. Andrew B. Smolnikar. ELLIOTTSBURG, Feb. 1st, 1870.

Mr. Editor: Dear Sir, I understand that Prof. Andrew Bernardus Smolnikar has departed this life, at the ripe age of 73 years. He was an extraordinary man, and claimed to be the third angel spoken of in Rev. 14th chapter and 9th verse. He was at Cincinnati, when he died, and had been writing something for the Ecumenical Council, which he considered very important, and wanted to get it published, but could get no one to furnish the means. The general opinion is that he was deranged in his mind, but I have studied his writings considerably, and I think he may be right enough, and has perhaps received the mission which he claims, of uniting all nations into peace and harmony.

If I knew you would publish a more lengthy article on his work, I should be glad to furnish it. J. R. For the defense, I remarked.

To the Ladies.—The subscribers having received a lot of Dry Goods, which were slightly wet during a recent fire in the city, are offering them at great bargains. The stock consists of Dress Goods, Cambrics, White Bed Spreads, &c., and though not really damaged in the least, are sold at twenty five per cent. less than the regular price. Now is your time for bargains. F. Mortimer & Co., New Bloomfield, Pa.

FOUTZ'S CELEBRATED Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines. It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.
