To Correspondents.-The letter giving "advice to the citizens of Duncannon. &c., we think best not to publish. If our correspondent is troubled by boys stealing his marketing, the best way is to have those boys arrested and punished, and not make a charge quite so sweeping as that contained in his letter.

Council Meeting .- Notice is hereby given that the last meeting of the present borough council will be held to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at the office of C. A. Barnett, Esq. All persons having unsettled bills, or business with the council are requested to be present.

Large Receipts.-By a report of the receipt for premiums of nine of the principal Insurance Companies in Hartford, Connecticut, we see that the receipts of the Ætna are nearly equal to all the other eight put together, thus showing how popular that company is. Lewis Potter, of this borough, is their agent, and if in want of inhim and ask for a policy in the Ætna Insurance Co., of Hartford.

The quantity of snow that fell was enough to cover the ground to the depth of about 17 inches on a level, but the warm sun of Thursday and Friday took it away so rapidly that by Saturday last, sleighing was "played out," and traveling on wheels was anything but XBloomfield Academy. The present proprietor of this institution seems determined to meet the demands of the public in every particular, and to offer all possible inducements to parents to depend upon this school for the education of their children. After the first of April, music, drawing and oil-painting will be taught there. The department being under the charge of Miss Lottie E. Dodge, a graduate of Genesee Musical Institute, and a young lady who has had some experience and comes highly recommended. We trust the citizens of this county will give Mr. Grier their hearty support.

Coal Oil Explosions.—Hardly a day passes without some person being injured by the explosion of coal oil lamps. These accidents are always caused by carelessness, or poor oil. To guard against the latter cause is very easy, by testing the oil in the following simple manner: Put a little hot water in a vessel and then let it stand until when tried by a thermometer, it indicates a heat of 110 degrees. Then pour a spoonful of oil on the water and touch a match to it. If the oil instantly blazes, it is not safe to use, and is of a quality no person has a right to sell. Use oil that will stand this test and till your lamps every morning, and coal oil is as safe as any other light.

The Bodies of the Condemned .- The Huntingdon Globe says as some may be curious to know what disposition has been made of the bodies of Bohner and Bodenburg, we relate. On Wednesday Sheriff Neety had appointed two colored men to bury them. They took the bodies to an open lot in the northeast portion of the town in the evening, but both the gravediggers got drunk and left the job before it was completed, and neither of the bodies were buried. On Thursday morning the Sheriff appointed another party to finish it, but while doing so the borough authorities interfered and would not allow them to be buried within the borough limits. The bodies were then taken to a field a short distance from town where they were mark the spot.

A Very Singular circumstance occurred near Mount Holly, on last Friday, Mr. Rawn started to the South Mountain, on left calculating to locate in Illinois. the morning of that day, with two horses and a wagon to bring a load of wood; not returning in the evening, his brother and some others started in search of him, fearing that he had met with some accident, and was unable to return. On arriving at the place they found the horses unhitched and tied to the wagon, the tree cut down, and the axe laid on the hounds of the wagon, but no traces were found of the Bob. Aker who has in times past, given rections until a late hour of the night, and resumed early on Saturday morning, without success. On Saturday evening a dispatch was received by a friend of the missing man, stating that he had lost his way in the woods, and was in Waynesboro', Franklin county on his way home. Carlisle Herald.

Mr. Editor - The "Purim" ball on Friday night in Keim's Hall was the great sensation of this season, in Newport. The 17th and 18th of March being the days upon which the Jews celebrate the Feast of Purim, our young citizens, although not all Jews, concluded to celebrate the occasion by a social hop on that evening. Being an invited guest, your correspondent had the extreme pleasure of being present, and en-joying the sweet music by "Zikoff's Band," led by a young gentleman of our borough, of much musical ability, and whose smiling countenance alwas puts us in mind of a full moon on a "bender." The beauty and elite of the place were present in force, but Mr. G. H---, with his lavender kids, could not be seen, his place, however, was well Mr. G. Hfilled, by the gent with the huge but elegant "Napoleonic moustache." The "Merchant from Venice" looked bold but elegant in his blue Chesterfield, with brass buttons, and his commanding voice, as he called the figures, rang like the clarion notes of some lone night guardian upon the streets of Lancaster, on a cold, frosty The warrior from Howe township, looked his best, also, as in fact, did all the

A Very Prosperous Company.—The Continental Life Insurance Company, of New York, although in existance less than four years, has eclipsed many companies organ-ized several years prior to it. About twenty-two thousand policies have been issued since 1866, the year of its formation, and in 1869 alone nearly nine thousand policies were taken. This is certainly a gratifying exhibit and speaks volumes for the company and its officers. The Continental Life has established a reputation over which none of its rivals can claim just precedence. The Pennsylvania central agency of the company (in which this county is embraced) is under the supervision of J. F. Eaton, of Harrisburg, whose admirable management and personal exertions have been productive of the most gratifying results. The following certificate will show with what fidelity and promtitude the Continental Life discharges its obligations :

John C. Flickinger, of Shippensburg, whose life was insured in the Continental Life Insurance Company, of New York, for $5,000, by policy No. 9,262, dated Sep-tember 12, 1868, having died, this is to certify that as the lawful holder and owner of said policy, I have this day received, from the said Continental Life Insurance Company, the sum of five thousand dollars in settlement and full satisfaction of all claims under the same.

Witness my hand, this twelfth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and seventy.
