LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OUR TERMS

Are One Dollar a Year in Advance!

Persons who receive a paper with this article marked, may know that they should mail or otherwise send the subscription price, if they wish to continue to receive The Times.

CORRESPONDENTS will please bear in mind that letters received later than Saturday evening, or the down mail on Monday morning have to lay over until the following week.

Acknowledgments.—We have received several remittances for subscription during the past week, with a request from the senders not to publish their names.

As some persons seem to object to this public acknowledgment we shall no longer publish the list of subscriptions received.

Sheep Dogs have been troubling the farmers of Dauphin county. Quite a number of sheep having been killed by them within a week or two.

Please Remember, that we do not publish any article that is not accompanied by the writers name, and that we cannot keep rejected articles until called for, as we are frequently requested to do.

Large Strawberries will be the thing to brag about for awhile. The first report of the season comes from Samuel Rice, of this borough, who reports one 5 1/2 inches in circumference.

Margaret Dabaugh, a girl 18 years of age, died a horrible death from hydrophobia, at Harrisburg, last week. She was a comely girl, and just engaged to be married. The bite occurred nine weeks ago.

Accident.—At Harrisburg, on Tuesday last, a man trying to get on a train on the Dauphin and Susquehanna Railroad, near the machine shop, fell on the track, the cars cutting him in two.

Shad Fishing in the Juniata this season, has been an entire failure, and judging from the few shad offered here for sale, the other Shad fisheries cannot have been very successful.

A Difference.—While every body in this vicinity is complaining of the wet weather, we learn from our exchanges that in parts of Ohio and Connecticut they are suffering from drouth. In the past fourteen days, eleven of them with us have been rainy.

Stolen Time.—On Thursday night last, some thief who thought more of time than sternity, sneaked into the engine room of John Bowers' tannery, at Mansville, and stole a clock therefrom. The fellow neglected to take the key, and Mr. Bowers suggests that he call for it, as the key is of no use to him.

Our Mail facilities are all out of fix again. Since the last change in the railroad schedule the Stage does not reach Newport in time to get the mail on the 11.31 train, and the consequence is, that the Eastern mail matter must lay over at that office until the following day. Such an arrangement is an imposition on the citizens of this valley, and we trust the Post-office Department will see that it is remedied.

Meterology.—The temperature and quantity of rain that fell at this place, during the month of May, according to report of B. McIntire, Esq., is as follows:

- Average of thermometer at 8 o'clock, A. M., 57 deg. 32 min.
Greatest degree of heat 70 deg. 12 min.
Greatest degree of cold 51 deg.
Warmest day, Tuesday the 17th, 87 deg.
Coldest day, Tuesday the 6th, 60 deg.
Rained a portion of 10 days.
Cloudy 10 days.
Clear 11 days.
Rain 4 inches and 4 tenths.

"Stephens' Work on the War."—We have received advanced sheets of the second volume of this work; which gives the Southern view of the late war. It is written in so interesting a style that it will be read with interest by all regardless of which side had their sympathy. The work is sold only by subscription, and agents are wanted in every county. It is published by the National Publishing Company of Philadelphia.

A Splendid Assortment of Shoes for Men, Women and Children has just been received by F. MORTIMER & Co.

The "Rousing Smack"—A New Version.

Corporal punishment as a means of correction to grown persons, seems to be rapidly coming into vogue in this county. The latest instance of this kind occurred in this borough, last week, and originated from a man having a desire to whip a child belonging to a widow, for, as he alleged, trespassing on his strawberry patch. The mother objected to his correcting her offspring, and the matter was at last compromised by the man seizing the lady, holding her down and spanking her—first arranging her clothing in such a manner that the blows should be effective. This manner of closing a dispute, the lady naturally objected to, and consequently obtained a warrant for the arrest of the spanker.

In extenuation of this peculiar treatment, the man said that the woman was in the wrong, and being a niece of his, he thought best to correct her.

Poor Pay.—A clergyman up in Northern Penna. complains that he has received for salary this year nothing but a currycomb, a keg of varnish and two dozen clothes pins. Whenever his children cry with hunger he gags them with a clothes-pin, scratches their stomachs with the currycomb, and lays on a coat of varnish. The irritation satisfies the cravings of nature for a time. But what we want to know is, how the people of that parish ever expect to get to Heaven? It seems to us that a man who builds his hope of a felicitous hereafter on a clothes-pin, and forks out a currycomb to a poor parson who is hungry for baked meats, is not going to enjoy himself as much as he thinks he is.

Party Virulence.—When Washington was President, The Philadelphia Aurora thus spoke of him:

If ever a nation was debauched by a man, the American nation has been debauched by Washington. If ever a nation has been deceived by a man, the American nation has been deceived by Washington. Let the history of the Federal Government instruct mankind that the mask of patriotism may be worn to conceal the foulest designs against the liberties of the people.

In view of such unfounded vituperation against the man who was universally regarded as the Father of his Country, need we wonder that the meaner men of our days use language, equally as unfounded, toward our present prominent Statesmen?

Work.—The man that does not work at something is a drone in the community, and whatever may be his pretensions, is a mere blank in God's universe. The wealthy fop or idler is but a thing, and not a man. He does not fill the purpose of his creation, and the sooner he can be huddled away into the grave the better. His room on earth is far preferable to his company. Labor is honorable, and gold will not change an ass into a lion by any means.

Attempt to Fire.—A dastardly attempt was made to fire the stable attached to John Schmidt's hotel, about two o'clock on Friday night last. An armful of kindling was piled against the weather-boarding, in Mr. McMahan's lot, and then ignited. Fortunately his wife happened to be awake and noticed the light. She at once suspected something wrong and awoke Mr. McMahan, who hurriedly applied a couple buckets of water and quenched the flames ere they reached the hay and straw inside. The boards were somewhat charred.—Altoona Tribune.

Escaped.—During Saturday night week, Jacob Charles, alias Daniel Conard, confined in the Adams county jail at Gettysburg, made his escape. Sheriff Klunk offers a reward of $100, for the arrest and return of the escaped convict. He is about twenty-five years of age, five feet five or six inches high, stoutly built, dark hair and eyes and had on when he escaped a blue cloth sack coat, black pants and vest, a blue navy cap and a pair of fine boots.

Last Tuesday afternoon a young man, aged nineteen, registered the name of Allen Wright at the St James Hotel, Cincinnati, and paid a week's board in advance. He was not seen after supper time that evening until six o'clock last night when the door of his room was burst open and he was found dead, with a pistol wound in the back of his head. No clue as to who the stranger was found, except a handkerchief, marked Arthur Aiston, and a gold watch, which was found on his person.

A Prince.—Mr. Wanamaker of Oak Hall, although but twenty-two years of age, already ranks among the "merchant princes" of the country. He does more business than any other one man in Philadelphia.

How to Make a Town.—This is the title of an article recently published by the Kingston Press, and contains much good advice, which is applicable to the citizens of this town:

"Encourage every one especially new men, to come in and settle among you particularly those who are worthy and active, whether they have capital or not. Their labor alone is worth money. Those who have capital will buy lots, build houses, or tear out and remodel old ones. Go to work and stimulate every legitimate enterprise by all the friendly encouragement you can, or by uniting your influence, industry and capital in the common cause. Cultivate a public spirit, and talk less than you work.—Help your neighbor. If he is in danger of breaking down, prop him up some way, either by kindness, good counsel, or a lift from your pocketbook. If he gets fairly down before you know of his situation, set him on his feet again—his misfortune is to be pitied, not blamed—and his talents and labor are worth money to the community. Besides, it may some day be your turn to need a corresponding sympathy. Encourage your local authorities in making public improvements for the good of the town. Speak well, talk encouragingly of the town you live in, of its prospects, of your neighbors, and in fact everything likely to advance the general good. It is such little things that make a town grow. Their cost is insignificant when divided up among all; but when concentrated into a general effort they do the business thoroughly."

A Nice Bill.—For a short time past, Boston has had an excitement over a law suit, for the recovery of a bill for work and material furnished one of the ladies of that city, by one of the fashionable outfitting establishments. The total amount of the bill was $1,911.11. We give a few of the items to show the extravagance of the age:

- To making poplin suit, 45 38
To work on trimmings, 116 67
To 20 1/2 yards of poplin, at $175, 35 88
To 5 1/2 yards of brown silk, at $4 25, 23 38
To 1 1/2 yards of linen, at 60c, 90
To 2 belts, 2 00
To 2 yards of ermine, at 28, 56
To cord, pads, protectors, sewing-silk, &c, 4 48
To making blue cambric suit, 45 00
To work retrimming sack, 60 00
To 2 yards of black satin, at $10, 20 00
To 1 1/2 yard of black silk, at $9, 13 50
To sewing silk &c, 75

After several days of patient investigation the jury had to be discharged, being unable to agree. Wouldn't a woman who would run such a bill be a nice wife to have?

A Remarkable Discovery.—Whilst Mr. W. S. Thompson, of the State Capital Hotel was this morning engaged in making repairs to a stable adjoining the Stone Hotel at the corner of South and Canal streets, he came across about half a peck of, as he supposed silver half dollars. Upon close inspection, however, they were discovered to be counterfeit. The operators in this rascally counterfeiting business must be near at hand, and the aforesaid stable the rendezvous of their operations.—Harrisburg Topic.

A Prophet.—The prophetic mantle has fallen upon a correspondent, who ventilates himself by the following declarations.—Any person wishing a new hat in ten years, will do well to accept his bet:

"I will bet the price of a new hat, that the next (sixteenth) Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, will be to grant women the right of suffrage. Also, that the seventeenth amendment will be the withdrawal of the war clauses from the Constitution. This last amendment will prepare us to enjoy the "good time coming." I also predict that the capital of the United States will be removed from Washington to Cincinnati. All to take place within ten years. J. Rice, Ellitsburg, Pa.

THE KIDNEYS.

THE Kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loins, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the Anterior, the Interior and the Exterior.

The Anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the Exterior. The Exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The Ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability to retain.—This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections, we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect the bodily health and mental powers, as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.—Pain occurring in the loins are indicative of the above diseases. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.—The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys.—These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish, and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and gravel ensues.

DROPSY is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.—Helmhold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys, bladder, dropsical swellings, rheumatism and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, Scanty Secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; Strangury, or stopping of water; Hematuria, or bloody urine; Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase in color, or dark water. It was always highly recommended by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise by which the watery or calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and it is taken by men, women, and children. Directions for use and diet accompany.

HELMHOLD, Pa., Feb. 25, 1867.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist:

DEAR SIR—I have been a sufferer, for upward of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent Physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and, some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubeb, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks, was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of more value to you, and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did. Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.
