LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OUR TERMS

Are One Dollar a Year in Advance!

Persons who receive a paper with this article marked, may know that they should mail or otherwise send the subscription price, if they wish to continue to receive The Times.

CORRESPONDENTS will please bear in mind that letters received later than Saturday evening, or the down mail on Monday morning have to lay over until the following week.

To Correspondents.

WILSON JR.—We will be pleased to hear from you often. Your contribution will be published next week.

Aug's.—The communication has been destroyed, as all rejected articles are, unless accompanied by a request for their return, and stamp for return postage.

Changed Hands.—The Juniata Sentinel has again changed owners. The present editor and proprietor is B. F. Schweier.

Thief Captured.—The fellow who stole a horse from the stable of John Bear d, last week has been arrested, and the property recovered. He was found in Adams Co.

The Hog Law of this borough is to be enforced and the constable hereby gives notice that all who don't wish to pay the fine, —50cts for each hog—must keep their hogs on their own premises.

Real Estate Changes.—We learn that Michael Noll, of Spring township, has sold his farm to John Smith, of Centre twp., for $14,000. Mr. Noll has also purchased a Pfoutz Valley farm for $21,000.

A Good One.—The following is a literal copy of an order received at the store of W. R. Dunn, of Elliottsburg, Pa.:

"Mishter peel tum, Bieze scent mi wun toes soltes und plidge S—.

We presume the translation would be, Mr. Bill Dum, please send me one dose of salts and oblige.

An Ungrateful Scamp.—A traveling peddler detained a few days since by the late storm at Mr. Emanuel Jones on account of the bridge being washed away, Mr. Jones tendered him the hospitality of his house for two days, and when the fellow went away he took several articles of clothing in return for the kindness received.

A New Local Train.—A new train for local accommodations has been put on by the Penn., R. R. Co. There is a passenger car attached to the through freight train leaving Harrisburg at 6 p. m. and running as far as Lewistown for the accommodation of local passengers west. This will enable persons to go to Harrisburg and return the same day.

The York True Democrat says, We are told that a few weeks ago, there was a child born in Bottstown in this county, with a head and face like a tame rabbit and the rest of its body like a human being. The head of the child is covered with snow white hair, and its eyes are a beautiful pink. It was living at last accounts.

Queer if True.—An exchange says: A gentleman informs us that a sure remedy for abolishing rats and mice from a house is to shoot off a revolver so as it may come within the hearing of these pests. In every instance we will warrant them to leave for "parts unknown." Persons whose houses are infested with them would do well to give the above a trial, as it is much more desirable to frighten them away than to poison them during the warm weather.

Left his Bottle.—On Monday night of last week, some fellow who had probably forgotten the eighth and tenth Commandments, entered the house of W. S. Snyder in Elliottsburg, in pursuit of plunder. He, however, appeared to meet with little success, as the only things missing, were some pins and biscuit, which from appearances, the fellow had stowed away under his vest. He must have left in a hurry, as by some means he forgot to take his bottle, which seems to contain some forty rod whiskey. This bottle and its contents the holders announce their readiness to transfer to the owner any time he will call for it, without any charge for storage.

Perfection.—A cotemporary calls Wana-maker & Brown's garments, "The perfection of Ready-Made Clothing." We hardly think perfection has been reached yet, but they are nearer it at Oak Hall, than any where else.

Good Humored War.—The Williamsport (Pa.) Gazette and Bulletin gives the following particulars of an amusing affair which occurred there on Monday last. It says: The old track of the Williamsport and Elmira railroad, just above Hepburn street, was long since abandoned as a passenger track, but has been used for freight purposes. A portion of the track has recently been taken up, from the coal yard below Centre street to Hepburn street; but whether with the intent to abandon it we do not know. In fact, we suppose that on the "intent the case will finally turn. Be that as it may, the railroad company commenced fencing in the disputed territory, and yesterday sent on men to relay the track. Mayor Herdle claims to own the land, and sent on hands to tear up the rails as fast as they were laid down, and each party worked with commendable zeal, and with the most entire good nature. The track-layers were followed closely by the track-razers and work went on lively. Jokes from both sides were cracked and taken in good part. Indeed there was as lively and funny a scene as could well be imagined—rails went down and rails came up, and the contending parties enjoyed the joke hugely.

About five o'clock in the afternoon Chief Coder and other policeman arrived on the ground, arrested all the railroad hands and marched them off to the Recorder's office. Another gang was put on, and they were also arrested. The third gang was brought out with like success, making in all forty-one arrested. These men all appeared and entered bail for their appearance at court. Superintendents Bowen, of the Northern Central, and Thompson, of the Philadelphia and Erie, were among those arraigned.

A Singular Case.—The Altoona Sun says:—A remarkable affair happened at the residence of a well-known citizen of this place the other evening, the particulars of which we have from the gentleman's own lips. About 8 o'clock the children were put to bed as usual. Nothing was seen or heard to excite unusual suspicion. At the usual hour the grown up portion of the family retired, having securely fastened the several doors. Nothing at all occurred out of the usual way. Some time during the night our informant was awakened from sleep by a dull blow on his face. He was somewhat astonished to find that a favorite cat had sprang directly on his face. Being very drowsy, he threw the cat from him and immediately went to sleep again. In a short time the cat repeated her singular action and again he threw her from him. Yet again she sprang upon him, and this time, being thoroughly awakened and suspecting something unusual, he raised himself in the bed and gazed toward the open door of the room. He was startled to see a pair of brilliant eyes flashing on him from the gloom. Rising and striking a light, he was surprised to see a mammoth black dog standing on the threshold of the room looking fixedly at him. After a brief examination of the mysterious canine, our friend walked deliberately past him, opened the door and called him down stairs. The dog obeyed, and walked forth into the night with perfect docility. The question is, whence came the dog, and was he mad? The singular action of the cat, which is a great pet in the family, manifests a degree of intelligence truly astonishing. Her fidelity to her master rid him of an unpleasant visitor, and may have saved his life.

Importance of a Seal to a Note.—When there is no seal, and the note is transferred to a third party before it comes due, the maker thereof can offer no defense in its payment, no matter that he may have paid most of it to the second party or been wholly swindled in the consideration for which it was given. But a seal following his signature, no matter in whose hands he may find his note, secures to the giver thereof the right to prove full or part payment thereof, or the want of consideration therefor. Patent right men, particularly if they are on the swindle, in selling a thing that is not patented, or a patented thing, to which they have no right whatever, are always anxious to get notes on time without seals, so that they can readily dispose of them for whatever they will bring, making a very large discount to get the money. A seal protects against this transaction, and every person giving notes ought to know just what they are doing.

The reason for this is, that a note without a seal is classed as commercial paper, and may pass from hand to hand as freely as a bank note, while a seal to a note is evidence that it was given as a settlement between individuals, and may be subject to offsets or deductions before payment.

A Faithful Dog.—An incident connected with the tragic death of Nathan Denny, who was killed on Saturday morning by the Cincinnati express west, at Warrior's Ridge, illustrates the fidelity of the canine race in a truly forcible and pathetic manner. When the body of Mr. Denny was discovered, his faithful dog was found by his side with a broken back, showing that he had risked his own life in order to save his master from the jaws of death. And when the persons who discovered the body of his master attempted to remove it the broken-backed dog, nearly dead as he was, manifested such a degree of ferocity that it was found impossible to approach him. After repeated efforts to secure the body had failed it was found necessary to shoot the faithful sentinel, and he breathed out his faithful life on the body of his dead master. What a commentary on man's fidelity.—Altoona Sun.

A Singular Accident occurred last Sunday afternoon to the buggy belonging to Rev. G. W. Bouse. The vehicle was standing on a level place at Lackey's Grove, only a short distance from where there was a sharp descent, when by some means it started, soon turning around so as to descend shafts foremost, and passing over a bank it was upset, breaking both shafts and one wheel. What started it is not known, as no person was near it at the time, and no animals, except some sheep had been seen in the vicinity. It is not often we hear of a buggy running away by itself, and in this instance it was probably started by the sheep rubbing against the wheels.

"Dry, Dryer, Dryest.—One of the worst calamities that can happen to a farmer—a spring drought—is now upon us, not only in Western New-York, but in many other sections of the country. Hay, here even with abundant rains within a week, cannot be half a crop. Oats and barley look thin, spotted and sickly."

We copy the above from the American Farmer of Rochester N. Y., of the date of June 1st, to show the difference between the season there and here.

For The Bloomfield Times. Mr. Editor: While out surveying the other day and wading through the tall grass we noticed some very fine clover; feeling curious in regard to it we pulled up one root and counted upon it no less than fifty five perfect stalks averaging thirty inches in length. They were all the product of one seed.

This may not be more than an ordinary yield as we have never taken much notice to the growth of clover, but we would like to hear from other big yields.

If doubted the stalk can be seen in the bar-room at Elliottsburg. JOHN DUM.

Briefs. The Dunkards have been holding a love feast about a mile from Newport. The audience was very large.

Our thanks, are tendered to Mr. J. P. Donley of Delville for a nice basket of new early Rose potatoes.

From all parts of the country come reports of damages to bridges from the late rains, while the condition of the roads is terrible.

Reports regarding mad dogs are becoming too frequent for comfort, and nervous people are demanding that all dogs running at large should be muzzled.

The strawberry crop in this vicinity promised great things but owing to the great quantity of rain, didn't keep the promise worth a cent.

Several cattle have been injured recently by the cars at Newport. We have heard of no accident of the kind however on the Duncannon and Bloomfield rail road.

With three stages from this town it is a great pity that we cannot get our mail through in time to make connection with the train east. It takes only two days now to get a letter from here to Harrisburg.

John Miller residing near Crane's Gap Cumberland county cut himself so severely in the foot last week that he bled to death before medical assistance could be procured.

A man named Sankey fell into the creek a short distance above Huntington on the 11th inst., and was drowned before assistance could be rendered. His body was recovered a short distance below on the following day.

The spirit of improvement seems to have attacked Delville. In addition to the erection of several buildings, Young's mill has had an artistic touching up, and looks quite smart in its new coat of paint. The next needed improvement there, is a semi weekly mail.

"Company front" is a pretty way for soldiers to march while on parade, but when four or five ladies parade the side walk in that manner they should learn to "drop flies to the rear" when meeting persons and not compel them to step in the gutter as we sometimes see they have to do.

Burglars paid a visit to Landisburg last week and ransacked Maj. Shuman's hotel taking nothing however but a little change and a couple of drinks. Two of the stores were tried but before anything was accomplished they were discovered and frightened away.

Dr. D. H. Sweeney, of this borough, operated on a girl eight years of age, that was taken from the County House, that was partially deaf and dumb. The operation was performed in September 20, 1869, and was very successful, the girl having her speech and hearing restored. We refer to Michael Grapple, of Shermansdale, Perry county, Pa., to whom the child is indentured, also to John McDonald, A. B. Smiley, also other neighbors near the said M. Grapple.—It*
