LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OUR TERMS

Are One Dollar a Year in Advance!

Persons who receive a paper with this article marked, may know that they should mail or otherwise send the subscription price, if they wish to continue to receive The Times.

CORRESPONDENTS will please bear in mind that letters received later than Saturday evening, or the down mail on Monday morning have to lay over until the following week.

The West Branch Camp Meeting.—The third annual session of the West Branch camp meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will be held on the grounds of the association, near Wayne Station, on the line of the Philadelphia and Erie railroad, commencing Tuesday, August 16, A. D., 1870, to continue ten days.

Sun Struck.—Wm. McKee, a carpenter from Hagerstown, Md., engaged in erecting a house in Marysville, fell apparently dead, while upon the scaffolding during the intense heat of last Monday. Proper medical aid was immediately summoned. He was much better this morning and hope of his recovery is entertained.

Boiler Explosion.—Engine No. 17, on the Northern Central Road, exploded its boiler on the 17th inst., near Halifax station, throwing Isaac Smith, the engineer, and John Colyer, the fireman, some distance. The engineer received but slight injury, but Colyer was so badly scalded that his recovery was considered doubtful. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Accidents at Marysville.—On last Saturday a week, the mail train west, on the Pennsylvania railroad, while passing Halley's station struck a son of John Elenbergers, a lad about ten years of age, injuring him so badly on the head, that for several days he lay insensible, and at the date of our correspondent's letter, it was not supposed that the boy would recover.

On the same day a man named John Carpenter, attending a picnic on Company Picnic Grounds, fell from a swing, breaking several ribs and receiving other internal injuries.

Cheating the Printer.—We often receive letters requesting us to send the Times, without having the subscription prepaid. We generally take no notice of such letters, but on receiving the following, were induced to depart from rule.

As the money has not come to hand, we publish the letter as a gentle "reminder:" HOLLIDAYSBURG, Feb. 23, 1870.

Frank Mortimer, Dear Sir—I wish to subscribe for your paper. It comes to this office (—) in exchange. I am learning my trade, but I only get to see it occasionally. You will send it to my address, and I will send you a dollar inside of two months. You may trust to my honesty, as I am a printer, and know how some subscribers do not pay. I do not think it is just in the sight of God for any one to cheat the printer. So you may send it, and I will pay you in two months. Send it to this address: Hollidaysburg, Blair County, Pa.

Dress.—A New York Paper makes the following remarks about dress, which are as applicable to this locality, as they are to New York:

"A coat that has a mask of use upon it is a commendation to people of sense, and a hat with too much nap and too high a lustrous a derogatory circumstance. The best coats in Broadway are on the backs of penniless fops, broken down merchants, clerks with pitiful salaries, and men that do not pay up. The heaviest gold chains dangle from the fobs of gamblers and gentlemen of very limited means; costly ornaments on ladies indicate to the eyes that we well opened, the fact of a silly lover or a husband cramped for fund. And when a pretty woman goes by in plain and neat apparel, it is presumed that she has fair expectations, and a husband that can show a balance in his favor. For women are like books, too much gilding makes men suspicious that the binding is the most important part."

Census Marshals.—The appointments for Deputy Marshals for taking the census in this county, have been anxiously looked for. So far, the only appointments we have learned are, W. H. Kaufman, of Madison township, Lightner, of Tyrone, Wm. H. Roddy, of Landisburg and W. H. H. McClintock, of Bloomfield. The others will probably soon be announced.

A Mule Hunt.—On Tuesday night last, a mule belonging to W. H. Porzline, was reported as stolen from Gerty's Notch, but was afterward found, having strayed away. A reward of fifty dollars was offered for the recovery of the property and arrest of the thief. The news being brought to this town, every one was on the lookout for the stolen property. On Wednesday noon it was reported that a suspicious looking man mounted on a mule, answering to the description of the stolen property was seen trying to get through the borough by the back street. This being told the Deputy Sheriff, he at once started in pursuit, taking D. M. Rinesmith with him as an "aide de camp," bound to arrest the rascal or perish in the attempt. They readily tracked the man, several persons having seen him pass—their attention being attracted by his peculiar appearance—until they overtook him, about four miles from town, when he proved to be a very worthy citizen of Landisburg, well-known to one of the pursuers.

In the meantime, the Sheriff feeling anxious at the delay in the return of the Deputy, and desirous that the fellow should by no means escape, put himself in command of the reserve corps, composed of the District Attorney, and started on the war path—going several miles before learning that the other party had returned by the other street. The whole party finally arrived at home, feeling that they had been very badly sold. It is hard to tell, however, whether the joke is the hardest on the mule hunters, or on Henry Evinger.

Duncannon Items.—Last Thursday night as Mr. John Harper, Jr., was passing Mr. Gladden's, on his way home from the band room, a large and savage dog suddenly sprang at him, nearly catching him by the throat. Mr. Harper, for want of a better weapon, dealt him a blow on the head with the bell of his E-flat horn—making of course his E-flat much flatter than it was. Johnie thinks his "free blow" was not appreciated, as the canine skulked for his kennel, in a very sulky mood.

On last Tuesday morning, (June 21,) as the Pacific Express was seen coming around the curve above Baskinsville, at a frightful rate of speed a child was also seen playing on the track a short distance in front of the approaching train. Between the yelling of some workmen near by, and the sharp sound of the engineer's whistle, the child was made aware of its danger, and stumbled from the track, not a moment too soon to escape being struck. If a child while playing on the track, as that one was, should be killed, its parents should be held as guilty as murderers, for allowing it to be there.

We are glad to see that the bridge across the little Juniata, at the lower end of Front street, is undergoing repairs, as it has been impassable for a long time.

Immense quantity of bark is being shipped from the siding, at the upper end of town. The Duncannon Iron Works will stop for repairs, during part, or perhaps all of July.

Saturday Afternoon a conductor on a coming west, saw the face of an apparently drowned boy in a pond a short distance below Blair Furnace. The train was immediately stopped and the conductor and several other employes of the train went to the pond and succeeded in getting him out. At first they thought he was dead but a faint breathing soon showed that he still lived. They immediately conveyed him to the train, and by the time this city was reached had succeeded in restoring him to consciousness. He was given in charge of the Chief of Police at this place, and everything possible done to restore him to health and strength. When he left he was apparently well enough, although very weak. A physician who examined him said it was a case of sun stroke, but the boy himself says that he had met a man who made him drunk and while in this condition he fell into the pond. He undoubtedly made a narrow escape.—Altoona Sun.

Ballou's Monthly Magazine.—The July number of Ballou's Monthly Magazine is the commencement of the Thirty-second Volume. Its popularity is now so great that no magazine in the country stands higher in the estimation of the people for genuine interest and excellence. Each number contains 100 pages of reading matter—stories, poems, historical events, wit and humor, a housekeeping department and from sixteen to twenty illustrations of noted scenes and places. All this can be obtained for $1.50 per year, or fifteen cents single copy; and club terms are even cheaper. THOMAS & TALBOT, Boston, Mass., are the publishers.

Briefs.

Grain cutting was commenced in this county last Saturday.

A calf 8 weeks old, weighing 336 pounds was recently killed at Lock Haven.

The Cumberland Guards of Carlisle—Capt. Wm. H. Jordan—have received 75 muskets and accoutrements.

The printing establishment of the American Lutheran has been removed from Selinsgrove to York.

The citizens of Harrisburg are excited about the elopement of a young man with a married woman of that goodly city.

A little child of Spruce Hill twp., Juniata county, died a few days since from the effect of chewing matches.

The Harrisburg printers had a good time at the picnic ground in Marysville last Saturday. The attendance was quite large.

The hog law in this borough is being strictly enforced. The knowledge of this fact makes the collection of fines a poor business for the constable.

The P. R. R. is making some fast time. One day last week a train ran from Altoona to Harrisburg in a little less than three hours, being about 45 miles per hour.

The 4th of July coming on Monday, will render it necessary to attend to all banking business falling due on the 3d or 4th on Saturday, the 2d.

The following years are recorded as years of drouth: 1790, 1806, 1822, 1838, 1854. Another sixteen years would bring it to 1870 for the next year of drouth. So far in this vicinity the rule has not held good, though we may have it yet.

Two prisoners in jail at Lewistown, attempted to escape last week. They broke to pieces an iron bedstead, with a piece of which they succeeded in wrenching open one door, but were secured before getting out of the building.

Sunday was the hottest day of the season. The thermometer standing at 97 deg. in the shade. In the afternoon a fine shower cooled the air. In some portions of the county considerable hail fell, badly cutting the corn.

Rev. John Edgar, of Philadelphia, who has preached here several times, giving much satisfaction, will probably receive, and accept a call from the Presbyterian Church of Shippensburg.
