OUR TERMS

Are One Dollar a Year in Advance!

Persons who receive a paper with this article marked, may know that they should mail or otherwise send the subscription price, if they wish to continue to receive The Times.

CORRESPONDENTS will please bear in mind that letters received later than Saturday evening, or the down mail on Monday morning have to lay over until the following week.

Rather Heavy.—A child was recently born in Altoona which reliable authority reports to have weighed twenty three and a half pounds at birth.

Election for Pastor.—A meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening of this week at 8 o'clock, for the election of a pastor.

New Wheat is already in Philadelphia market and the price of that grain has fallen some 5 to 10 cts., per bushel, and rye and oats are 2 cts less than last week.

A Sad Accident occurred at the Leochiel Iron works in Harrisburg on the 28th ult. whereby three men and a boy were terribly burned, one of them having since died. The accident came from an explosion of hot tinder, caused by putting a wet poker into the heated metal.

More Census Appointments.—Jos. Wait, Esq., of New Buffalo, has been appointed marshal for New Buffalo and Liverpool borough, and Buffalo, Liverpool and Watts townships. Geo. C. Welker, for Bloomfield borough and Centre township.

The Croquet mania has made an attack on this borough. It has broke out right under the droppings of sanctuary. We are however glad to see that open space beside the Presbyterian church put to some use, other than a cow or sheep pasture, for which it has generally been used.

Picnic.—As we go to press on Monday afternoon the members of the Presbyterian church and the Sunday school scholars are enjoying themselves in the woods about a half a mile north of the town. Quite a number are present, and the weather is just warm enough to be agreeable. That with a few private fishing parties comprises all the celebrations of the 4th in this vicinity.

Missing.—John Wagner, aged about thirty-one years, six feet high, with mark on left side of the face, left his home on Friday, the 10th inst. He has not been heard of since, and any information concerning his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his wife, Anna Wagner, Jaysburg, Lycoming county, Pa. Exchanges will confer a favor upon a poor woman in distress by copying the notice.

A Dog Frightened to Death.—The Reading Eagle says: "Yesterday morning a dog belonging to O. Orth, while lying on a wheelbarrow in front of Rainbow engine house, was so badly frightened by a torpedo thrown close to him by a boy, that he died in a short time.

We have a fifty cent note (warranted good), which we will cheerfully donate towards buying torpedoes, for the use of the worthless curs in this borough.

Weather Record for June.—The following is a report of the weather for the past month as furnished by B. McIntire, Esq., of this borough:

Average of thermometer at 8 o'clock a. m., 68 deg. 04 min.

Average maximum of each day, 80 deg. 40 min.

Average minimum, of each day, 61 deg. 30 min.

There fell in rain, 18 inches and 3 tenths.

There was rain every day but one, for the first thirteen days; and also on 15, 16, 20, 26 and 27th days. Compared with June, 1869—there fell five inches more rain, and the heat was greater by five degrees, than in the corresponding month of last year.

There has not so much rain fell in one month for fifteen years.

On Friday morning last, Mr. John Eberly, an old and esteemed citizen of Mechanicsburg, while sitting on the porch in front of his residence, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy, and died almost immediately.—Shippensburg News.

Death from Lightning.—During the terrible storm which passed over some portions of our county on Monday night of last week, the lightning struck the house of Alfred Corl, in Marysville, tearing the weatherboards and plastering on the north end of the building, and badly shattering the timbers. In the passage of the fluid through the house, it injured his daughter, Sarah, a girl about 14 years of age, so badly that she died from its effects on the following morning. The electric current appeared to enter the girl's mouth, though no external injuries were visible, the lungs and heart were much affected.

Several other cases of accident have been reported. The barn belonging to Mr. Chas. Bressler, in Oliver twp., was struck, the fluid passing near a valuable mare, killing her almost instantly. The contents of the building took fire, but were fortunately extinguished before much damage was done. Several other minor accidents have also been reported.

Runaway.—On Saturday last, as Whittier's express wagon was passing along the Newport road, a short distance this side of Everhart's, the horses took fright at some hogs, and in spite of all the efforts of the driver, ran off, upsetting the wagon down the bank, into the creek. Fortunately, Singer, who was driving, was but little hurt, and the horse and wagon were got out by driving down the creek to where the bank was low enough to enable the horses to draw the wagon up on to the road.

Stolen.—We have received the following notice with a request for its publication.

United States notes, series of 1869, Two thousand notes, of ten dollars each, from No. H3,520, 001*, to No. H3,532,000*, both inclusive, were stolen from the Treasury. No $10 notes, of a number higher than H3,336,000 have been issued. Please look out for the stolen notes. A liberal reward will be paid to any person through whose instrumentality the thief may be detected. Hold parties presenting the stolen notes, (if suspicions attach to them) and in any case of presentation notify.

F. E. SPINNER, Treas'r U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 14th 1870.

Feasting at Funerals.—We heartily endorse the following remarks, which we find in an exchange and hope the time will soon come when the practice will be entirely abolished, as it already is, except in a portion of this state.

"The practice of feasting at funerals, after the burial of the dead, is one of long standing in many parts of our State, but its propriety and example of late years have been questioned, and the practice is gradually being abandoned. To those who do not join in this old-time custom it seems particularly reprehensible for the friends and acquaintances of the family just afflicted by death, and mourning the loss of a dear one, to have their sorrows and afflictions broken in upon by a host of hungry visitors, whose only motive, in many instances, in attending the funeral is we doubt not, to feast at the expense of the afflicted. To turn a house of mourning into one of feasting, is, we think, much out of place and should not be encouraged.

Duncannon Items.—Monday night of last week, two chaps, while under the influence of liquor took advantage of Mr. John Wister's absence, and entered his house for the purpose of having a spree at Johnie's expense. Having received from his private stock some good brandy, they concluded to try his champagne; and, while doing so were surprised at the sudden and unexpected return of Mr. W., who, taking in the situation of affairs at a glance, ordered them to vacate, which they did without much hesitancy. Mr. W. showed them to the gate, relieved them of, and poured out the supply which they had secured for their morning's bitters, and sent them on their way rejoicing(?) Next time they go on a champagne spree, we suggest that they go supplied with the necessary apparatus for opening it, as Mr. W.'s carpet (not his head) was left 'swimming in champagne.'

Any one wishing to see the very neatest kind of a hall, can do so by visiting that of the odd-fellows. If the different associations meeting there, don't have good times it will not be for want of pleasant surroundings. The hall has been entirely re-furnished.

On Tuesday evening last, while Mrs. Andrew Fissel was pulling some plants in the garden, she was bitten by a copperhead, in the hand. The snake is described as one of the largest of its species, and of a very rough, rusty color. This is the second time in the last year, that Mrs. Fissel has been bitten.

We were infinitely pleased with the music we heard, discoursed by the Duncannon Band, on last Wednesday night in front of the Odd-Fellows' Hall. The residents of Lower Front Street acknowledge a rich treat. Do it more times, boys.

Somebody's Hip-up-and-comic Circus showed here on Friday last, the 1st inst., in the afternoon and evening, to an audience of about thirty. We saw the hip-up on their old horses, but we couldn't see the comic (hyppocomique.) HERE.

Fiendish Outrage.—A fiend in human shape, named James Long, whose parents reside in Mount Union, on Tuesday of last week perpetrated a most diabolical outrage upon the person of a little girl about 13 years of age. He was arrested and taken to the Mifflin county jail, to await his trial, the deed having been committed near the latter place. He is about 18 years of age. The life of the child upon whom the injury was inflicted was despaired of.—Huntingdon Journal.

A Warning.—A lady residing in Charles-town, Mass., who has suffered lately from an inflamed neck, has been told by her physicians that it is caused by insects called borers, inhabiting the Hindoo bark braid of her chignon. She has cast away her chignon and has had her head shaved, fearing some of the insects had taken up their abode in her natural back hair. Ladies, take warning!

A Large Panther is spreading terror over Peach Mountain, Schuylkill county. He was shot at by two gentlemen on Friday evening last, and on the succeeding Monday killed a large bull dog which was set upon him. On Tuesday last a troop of men armed, went in search of the animal, but failed to find him.
