HUMOROUS ITEMS.

Hard drinking—sitting on a rock and sipping cold water.

Without women the world would be in a shiftless condition.

What two sciences are employed by teamsters in driving oxen? Haucticulture and Geology.

What is the difference between a printer and a tailor? The one works press, and the other presses work.

Jo. Case, defines the exact height of a young lady's ambition to be two little feet.

"Isn't my shirt clean?" quoth one Bohemian to another. "Well, yes," was the answer, "it's clean for brown, but it's awful dirty for white."

A cruel man out West, speaking of the singing of the village choir, says, "It is like drift wood in a stream: it drags on the bars, yet don't amount to a dam."

"Sure an' it wasn't poverty that drove me from the ould country," said Michael, the other day, "for my father had a yoke of oxen and a cow, and they gave milk the year round!"

A Philosopher says, if you want a pair of boots to last four years, melt and mix four ounces of mutton tallow, apply while warm, place the boots in a closet and go barefoot.

The question why printers do not succeed as well as brewers, is thus answered; "Because printers work for the head, and brewers for the stomach—and where twenty have stomachs, but one has brains."

"Pappa," said a small urchin with a mischievous eye; "I say, pappa ought the master to flog a fellow for what he didn't do?" "Certainly not my boy." "Well then he flogged me to-day when I didn't do my sum."

A little girl who was watching the balloon ascension at Lewistown, Me., suddenly exclaimed;

"Mamma, I shouldn't think God would like to have that man go up to heaven alive."

The following epitaph may be seen by any one visiting the old graveyard at Hallowell, Me.:

"Here lies the body of Jones a poet,
That is, he thought so, and tried to show it,
But before he made the world believe it,
The devil called and he had to leave it."

It is asserted that there are so many children in Indiana named after Schuyler Colfax, that all the stone-cutters in the state keep gravestones on hand carved, "Sacred to the memory of Schuyler Colfax—," ready to insert the patronymic in the blank space when the order is given after the funeral.

We heard a joke recently on two Portsmouth drummers; While passing a house in Virginia, observing a very peculiar chimney, unfinished, and it attracting their attention they asked a flaxen haired urchin standing in the house, if it, "drawed well," whereupon the aforesaid urchin gave them the stinging report: "Yes, it draws the attention of all the d—d fools that pass this road."

As a steamboat was about to start from Cincinnati, one day, a young man came on board, leading a blushing damsel by the hand, and approaching the polite clerk, said in a suppressed voice.

"I say, me and my wife has just got married, and I'm looking for accommodations."

"Looking for a berth?" hastily inquired the clerk, as he passed tickets to another passenger.

"A berth! thunder and lightning no!" gasped the astonished man; "we hain't but just got married—we only want a place to stay all night, you know."

A country pedagogue had two pupils, to one of whom he was partial and to the other severe. One morning it happened that these two boys were late and were called up to account for it.

"You must have heard the bell, boys; why did you not come?"

"Please, sir," said the favorite, "I was dreamin' that I was goin' to Californy, and I thought the school bell was the steamboat bell, as I was goin' in."

"Very well," said the master glad of any pretext to excuse his favorite. "And now, sir," turning to the other, what have you to say?"

"Please, sir," said the puzzled boy, "I—I—waiting to see Tom off!"
