FARM AND HOUSEHOLD ITEMS

We invite communications from all persons who are interested in matters properly belonging to this department.

Quick and Easy Cure for Founder.

Clean out the bottom of the hoof thoroughly—hold up the legs so as to bring the bottom of the hoof, upward, holding it firmly in a horizontal position, and pour in, say one tablespoonful of spirits of turpentine, if the cavity of the hoof will hold that much—if not, pour in what it will hold without danger of running over; touch the turpentine with a red-hot iron, (that will set it on fire); hold the hoof firmly in position until it burns out. Great care must be taken that none runs over on the hair or the hoof, lest the skin be burned. If all the feet are affected, burn turpentine in each of them. Relief will speedily follow, and the animal will be ready for service in a short time.

The editor of the Athens Watchman says he had a foundered horse treated in the manner above stated, one afternoon, and proceeded on a journey with the animal next morning, without any apparent difficulty of movement. The reader will do well to cut out and preserve this recipe.

To Peel Peaches.

The following is an excellent plan to save trouble as well as considerable of the best part of the peach, which is usually thrown away when a knife is used in peeling them: Make lye as strong as possible of wood ashes and soft water. Fill a kettle with the lye, and when boiling rapidly drop eighteen or twenty peaches, and take out again almost immediately, and immerse them in a pail of cold water. Take one in your hand, and the rind will slip off entirely, leaving a round, beautiful yellow ball; throw it immediately into another pail of pure water, and so proceed until all are done. This process will not injure the flavor of the finest peach, and once tried, the old-fashioned way of peeling with the knife will not be adopted. If the lye is not strong enough, put into the kettle two dipperfuls of clean wood ashes. This is a splendid way to rid small onions of their jackets, preparatory to pickling them, also for peeling tomatoes.

Apple Tree Borer.

This pest of our orchards lays its eggs in the months of June and July, depositing them in the bark near or just below the surface of the soil. These eggs soon hatch, and the grub immediately commences eating its way into the trees—pushing its cuttings out of the hole and by this sign we may readily detect its presence. At this time the borers are very easily destroyed with a wire, or a sharp-pointed knife, but allow them to penetrate the wood several inches and it becomes quite difficult to reach them.—As these borers live two or three years, eating continually and penetrating the tree farther and farther each season, it must be apparent to every one that they should be destroyed before they have done much damage.

Choked Cattle.

A Pennsylvania correspondent of the Country Gentleman says, with regard to choked cattle, that he once killed a valuable Devon ox by trying to punch an apple down its throat with a whipstock, rupturing the pipe by the operation. He suggests a better method as follows: "Put a rope around the horns and draw the head up to a tree or some suitable high place; hold the mouth open, fill it with water from a suitable vessel, close immediately the mouth and nostrils, and hold firmly till the animal struggles; then take the hands suddenly from the nose and mouth, and the concussion of air will move the object."

Foot Rot.

H. J. Selmers, veterinary surgeon, gives, in the Western Rural, this recipe for curing foot-rot in cattle, which he says will never fail: "At first, all the loose horn—in general, every thing that has been destroyed—should be cut away; then for a day or two, poultices of flaxseed powder should be applied, and after that, when the sore is clean and of a white appearance, one part of pure carbolic acid dissolved in one part of alcohol, and one part of water, applied once or twice, by means of a little brush, will effect a healing in a few days."

Coal Oil Lamps.

Fill your lamps by daylight, and keep them well cleaned. Never burn a lamp when it is less than one half full of oil. Never fill a lamp near the fire. Turn the wick down low before trying to blow the light out. Keep your oil in a cool place. Coal oil is explosive when heated. Don't let your children meddle with the oil or lamp. If you want to blow yourself up, pour a little out of your can on the fire to start it.

Cooking Rice.

Rice may be cooked so that every grain will be as separate as when dry, by steaming. Put in as much water or milk as you would use to boil it, and set the dish in the steamer: It will take longer to cook than in the ordinary way, but never burns or sticks, and is a beautiful dish when done.

To keep a bouquet fresh, let drop a table spoonful of powdered charcoal into the water intended for the flower stalks, and they will keep their freshness and perfume for several days, and look and smell the same as those just gathered.—The charcoal settles at the bottom of the vase—the water remaining clear.

THE KIDNEYS.

THE Kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loins, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the Anterior, the Interior and the Exterior.

The Anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the Exterior. The Exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The Ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability to retain.—This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections, we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect the bodily health and mental powers, as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.—Pain occurring in the loins are indicative of the above diseases. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.—The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys.—These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish, and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and gravel ensues.

DROPSY is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.—Helmbold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys, bladder, dropsical swellings, rheumatism and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water; Scanty Secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; Strangury, or stopping of water; Hematuria, or bloody urine; Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase in color, or dark water. It was always highly recommended by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise by which the watery or calcareous deposits, and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and it is taken by men, women, and children. Directions for use and diet accompany.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 25, 1867.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist:

DEAR SIR—I have been a sufferer, for upward of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent Physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and, some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubeba, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks, was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of more value to you, and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did. Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

M. McCORMICK.

Should any doubt Mr. McCormick's statement, he refers to the following gentlemen:

Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.—Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.
