NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENN'A. Tuesday, August 30, 1870.

The Census reports prove Philadelphia to be one of the largest manufacturing cities in the United States. The growth of the city in all branches of industry for ten years past, exceeds that of any other city in the country.

A NEUTRALITY PROCLAMATION has been issued by the President, setting forth what acts are forbidden to persons in this country, during the present European war, and warning all persons what the penalties of a violation of the neutrality laws are.

THE TROUBLES in North Carolina are now in a fair way to be settled in court. Nearly all the citizens imprisoned by the orders of Col. Kirk have been released. Legal proceedings have been commenced against Kirk by those he had deprived of liberty, and writs have been issued against him.

WAR NEWS.

During the past week the reports of the operations of the French and Prussian armies have been more conflicting and contradictory than usual. Early in the week dispatches announced with great positiveness that the invading army had been obliged to turn back from its march on Paris, in order to protect the line of communication with its reserves.

The revolution of February, 1848, caused him to return to France; he professed to be devoted to the view of the Provisional Government. He was, however, by the latter requested to leave the country, and promised to do so; but being elected Deputy for Paris and three other departments, he took his seat in the Constitutional Assembly June 13, 1848.

In 1850 his enemies, who believed him devoted to his own interests rather than to those of the Republic, manifested a strong opposition to his policy. An anarchic condition of things continued until he put a stop thereto by the coup d'etat of December 2, 1851.

Experiments with torpedoes were recently made at Brest. One of them was to test the action of one of those submarine monsters on a nautical "screw," which was placed in position for the purpose of the experiment.

Experiments with torpedoes were recently made at Brest. One of them was to test the action of one of those submarine monsters on a nautical "screw," which was placed in position for the purpose of the experiment. The old vessel was moored over a torpedo containing about 600 pounds of powder, lying at a depth of 40 feet (French), say, 50 English feet.

NAPOLEON III.

At the present time, the following condensed history of the French Emperor will, we think, be acceptable to our readers.

Louis Napoleon's full name is Charles Louis Napoleon Bonaparte. He was born in Paris, in the place of the Tuilleries, April 20, 1808, and is over 62 years of age. He is the third son of Louis Napoleon, brother of the first Emperor Napoleon.

He served for some time as a volunteer in the military camp at Thun. In 1830 he took part in the insurrection in the Pontifical States with his brother; the latter died at Fodi, and Louis was dangerously ill at Ancona, and only saved by the devoted nursing of his mother.

In 1831 the Crown of Poland and the command of the Polish legions were offered him. The death in 1832, of the Duke of Reichstadt, the only son of Napoleon I, opened the future to his ambitious hopes; from that time his whole life, speculative and practical, was devoted to the realization of what now became his "fixed idea"—that he was to become sovereign of France.

He went thence to London; in 1839 to Scotland; in 1840 he made another attempt at the throne of France, failed, was captured, brought to trial, and condemned to perpetual imprisonment in the fortress of Ham. Here he did much literary work, and finally escaped May 24, 1846, by the help of Dr. Conneau, in the disguise of a workman, and gained the Belgian frontier, whence he returned to England.

The revolution of February, 1848, caused him to return to France; he professed to be devoted to the view of the Provisional Government. He was, however, by the latter requested to leave the country, and promised to do so; but being elected Deputy for Paris and three other departments, he took his seat in the Constitutional Assembly June 13, 1848.

In 1850 his enemies, who believed him devoted to his own interests rather than to those of the Republic, manifested a strong opposition to his policy. An anarchic condition of things continued until he put a stop thereto by the coup d'etat of December 2, 1851.

A year afterward he assumed the title and prerogatives of Emperor, thus attaining the goal of his early ambition. In 1853 he married Eugenie Marie, Countess of Montijo, a Spanish lady of great beauty, by whom he has one child, the Prince Imperial, born March 16, 1856.

Mutilated Bank Notes.

Under the rules of the United States Treasury all mutilated bank notes are redeemed according to the degree of mutilation. A note with a certain portion of its superficial surface torn off is never redeemed at its full value, but in proportion to the quantity of superficial surface presented for redemption.

Terrible Fires in Canada.

A letter from Ottawa, Canada, dated August 18th giving an account of the fires that had devastated the country says, the fires that have raged in the bush during the past three weeks approached the settlements in the vicinity of this city last night, almost wholly destroying them, driving the inhabitants from their homes and in the majority of cases almost without clothing.

Hundreds escaped during the night by running to the river and standing up to their necks in the water, occasionally wetting their heads. Here and there were awful scenes. Scores of horses and cattle are described as having been driven mad by the smoke cinders and heat, and plunged into the flames.

Stittsville is almost wholly destroyed. Mr. Grant, a farmer there, being burned alive. Near that place, also, Fredrick Richardson and Mrs. Harton are known to have been killed. There are also other deaths.

A Man Shoots himself in Church.

While the congregation of St. Paul's Chapel, Vesey street and Broadway, N. Y., were engaged in prayer at the evening service on Sunday, the assemblage was suddenly startled by a pistol shot in the gallery.

When orders was restored it was found that a man seated in the gallery had suddenly drawn a pistol and pointing at his breast, fired it and fell to the floor. He gave his name as Edward Marqueny, a native of Germany, aged 59 years, and living at No. 50 Rose street.

Miscellaneous News Items.

- Some of the omnibus routes of London are fourteen miles long. French peasants are poisoning the wells in Alsace. A deneon at Cavendish, Vt., was recently fined ten dollars for selling cider to a habitual drunkard. At Davenport, Iowa, last Saturday, Mrs. Koenig drowned her children, aged 4 and 2 years, in a bucket of water, and then committed suicide by jumping into a well. A Munich despatch states that that Government has forbidden the promulgation of the bull of Papal infallibility in Bavaria. Last week the quiet city of Birmingham, N. Y., was agitated over a double murder, a suicide, and a genuine case of garroting. Charles Reynolds, a street-car driver of Indianapolis, Ind., committed suicide a few days back in consequence of having been locked out of his lodging-house for a non-payment of rent. At Memphis, on the 23d inst., Pike Bowles, a well-known cotton merchant, while undressing let a pistol fall, which was discharged, the ball striking him in the temple, causing instant death. Shortly before noon, last Tuesday a man passing along Wooster street, New York, was knocked down by robbers. His cries brought up some policemen and two of the daring highwaymen were captured. A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, writing from San Francisco, says he has good authority for stating that the 5th of September has been decided upon for the massacre of the Chinese in that city by the Irish.

Reports from the west are very encouraging in regard to the crops. The papers in Wisconsin report that corn is growing rapidly of late, and the prospect now is that there will be an enormous yield.

The Sparta Eagle reports that the corn crop bids fair to be the best ever raised in that section of the country. Oats do not turn out as good as was expected. In many places they are only about one-half crop.

A curious and painful scene was witnessed at the burning of a mill on Battle Island, near Oswego, a few days ago. The mill was the home of great flocks of swallows and pigeons. While the flames were raging, the birds would circle above them in flocks, and then dash into them in a body.

The Pearl Flour Mills, of Allegheny City, one of the most extensive in this section of the State, was entirely destroyed by fire on the 22d instant.

A large amount of flour and grain was consumed. The loss is estimated at $200,000, upon which there is an insurance of $80,000.

A despatch from Ottawa Canada, says: Fires are still burning in all directions. The distress and suffering are incalculable. The Governor's residence is in danger. The mills have closed and all hands are out fighting the fire.

A riot occurred in Fall River, on the 24th inst., where the spinners are on a strike. A crowd of a thousand assembled near Durfee Mill to assault the workmen as they came out, as on a previous evening. The police could not disperse the mob, and one or two of the officers were knocked senseless with stones.

William H. Gordon, proprietor of a soda water stand in N. Y., avenged his domestic wrongs last week, by making a murderous attack on his wife and child and a friend of his wife, at No. 23 1/2 Gouverneur street. He wound up by attempting to take his own life.

The ship "John Bertram" arrived at N. Y., last week from Hamburg with one hundred and eleven passengers. The voyage lasted two months, and those on board were greatly surprised at learning of the war.

CHOLERA!!!

The following letter is from Mr. Woodward, of St. Louis, to J. N. Harris, Esq., of New London, Conn. Mr. W. is a gentleman of high respectability, and during the prevalence of the cholera in St. Louis, watched the result of the application of the Pain Killer for this disease, and his testimony can be relied upon with the utmost confidence:

DEAR SIR—You recollect when I saw you in January last, my expressing to you my most sanguine expectations that DAVIS' PAIN KILLER would have a tremendous sale in the west this season, and my anticipations have been more than realized, and the testimony of thousands who have used it has been that they would not be willing to go to bed at night without it in the house.

The clerk informed me that he administered it to persons when cold or in cramps, and it gave immediate relief, but still it should be given quickly, for when the discharge of "rice water" has begun, the hope of life has fled. Should this disease make its appearance among you, as in all probability it will be not armed; you all others there have the remedy, and I am confident if the Pain Killer is used, not a single death by Cholera will occur in your city.

Respectfully, yours, WOODWARD. The Pain Killer is sold by all dealers in Family Medicines.—34—1M
