HUMOROUS ITEMS.

A dull judge in Brooklyn has obtained the nickname of old Necessity—because necessity knows no law.

A Mississippi negro worked on shares but got "nuffin," "because," said he "I worked for de seventh, and we only made de fifth crop short.

A correspondent asks if the seat of war is cushioned. If it is not, it ought to be, for it is not a very soft seat at any time.

"Miss Brown, I have been to learn to tell fortunes," said a young fellow to a brisk brunette; "just give me your hand if you please."—"La! Mr. White, how sudden you are. Well go ask pa."

Mrs. Partington says, that if she should be cast away, she would prefer meeting with the catastrophe in the "Bay of Biscuits!" for then she should have something to live on.

An Editor, dunning delinquent subscribers says he has responsibilities which he is obliged to meet. How many responsibilities and whether boys or girls he does not say.

A "boy of the Emerald Isle," who was appointed census taker in Illinois, has sent in his report to the effect that every mother's son av them towld me his name was Nichtsverstay, and that he was nein years of age."

An Irish tailor made a customer's coat and vest too small, and was ordered to take them home and let them out. Some days after, the gentlemen was told that his garments happened to fit a countryman of his, and he had let them out at a shilling a week.

In Iowa a merchant sent a dunning letter to a man, who replied by return mail: "You say you are holding my note yet. That is all right—perfectly right. Just keep holding on to it, and if you find your hands slipping, spit on them and try again. Yours affectionately.

Two friends, some years married and widely separated, lately exchanged telegrams, thus: "To——. All well. We have two pairs of twins. How is that for high?" "To——. We have three little girls. Three of a kind beats two pairs!"

A woman, over 80 years of age went into one of the dental establishments in Hartford, Conn., to have a set of teeth repaired, and gave as a reason for being particular about the work, that though she did not expect to live long, she desired to have her corpse look as well as possible.

Seeing a great crowd gathered in the street, a gentleman, meeting a boy, said to him: "Is there anything goin on?" "Yes, sir," was the ready reply. "There's two things goin' on; you're goin' on, and I'm goin' on."

A travelling insurance agent has been explaining to a western pioneer the advantage of an insurance policy. Pathfinder mused a moment in grave silence and then said: "See here, mister, I have lived out in this country now twenty-five years, and I have bucked agin most all the games they've started, but darn me if I want to play a game where you have to die to beat the bank."

During a revival in a country town the minister officiating approached a young man with the question: "My young friend, have you prayed for the salvation of your soul?" "No, sir," answered the youth, with a penitent tone. "Do you not desire to offer thanks for the mercies you have received by divine favor?" "Yes; but I don't know how," hesitatingly answered the youth. "But you can repeat the publican's prayer," "No, sir," was the emphatic response; "I'm a Democrat, and d—n the Republicans."

A green looking chap from the Green Mountain State, went over the line, and on to Montreal, "to look around a leettle." Going into a large and handsome dry-good house, his verdancy attracted the attention of the proprietor who attempted to quiz him, but having an impediment in his speech, he had to give it up, and his clerk came forward to speak for him. He began— "Mr. Bull wishes to know if you can tell him why Balaam's ass spoke?" "Wall," said Jonathan, "I rather guess as how Balaam was a stuterin' man, and his ass had to speak for him.
