NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENN'A.

Tuesday, October 11, 1870.

EUROPEAN AFFAIRS remain much in the same condition as they were last week. The siege of Paris is continued, with firm determination on the part of the Prussians to capture it, if not by direct attack and bombardment, to starve the city into a surrender. This the French say will be a long undertaking as they claim to have sufficient provisions to last a three month's siege. It is probable that the Prussians will soon tire of the monotony of such a siege, and will commence to bombard the city a soon as guns can be got into position.

The detective system is much better organized in England than in this country, and few criminals escape there. How they pursue an offender has been lately illustrated. Seven years ago a London banker was robbed of eleven thousand pounds by a man named Jones who escaped with his plunder. The London police, however have kept a watch upon his family ever since, and a few weeks ago the family was observed making preparations for leaving London. The police followed the family to Toronto, Canada. On Thursday last, Jones and his family had a happy meeting, but they had been together but a short time when an officer stepped in and took the crest-fallen Jones into custody.

Terrible Flood.

The equinocial storm made terrible work in many parts of Virginia as will be seen by the following details taken from a Richmond paper of the 3d inst. "The greatest flood that has been known for thirty-five years is now raging in the Shenandoah river. The damage to property at Harper's Ferry is immense. Some twenty buildings mostly large stone and brick edifices, have been swept away, and forty-six persons in this immediate vicinity alone have lost their lives, and as many more are in immediate danger.

still stands but the machine shops have been swept away. Nearly all the families on the island are still in their homes, and no rescue can reach them. Some of able that at some time it was swallowed the houses will doubtless stand and the Islanders are endeavoring to get into the strongest houses. Last night a family of seven were rescued by a rope thrown through the window. A few moments thereafter not a vestige of the house remained. This morning a large colored woman was seen clinging to a tree in the midst of the seething water, where she had been all night. Bolivar Heights are crowded with anxious spectators, who are compelled to witness what they cannot avert. The Winchester Railway trestles are completely gone, and bridges destroyed as far up as Shenandoah Valley.

Mr. Blakeman, wife and three children and Mrs. Ridgway were at the table breakfasting when the flood came, and all were drowned. Mr. Kaufman was saved by seizing a limb of a tree as it was carried swiftly down stream. Messrs. Roy, Bayly, and Ridgway sought refuge on the top of a tree and remained there

The river rose twenty-five feet in four hours. All the mills in the Shenandoah valley for thirty miles, except two, are destroyed.

In this city the destruction was enormous. The river is so high that it has put out all the gas lights in the city with one exception and the water is now within a few inches of that. In one of the streets is anchored a vessel which has been carried from the river by the rush of water, the crew of which are pulling at the hour above stated. This sad event away from it in boats for high ground. The rise is the worst known this century, and the destruction of property and loss of life is truly alarming."

A Frog Ejected From a Man's Stomach.

Mr. S. Southworth, of Warren, has for sometime past been afflicted with an uneasy and somewhat painful sensation in his stomach. Being quite sick on Wednesday night last external applications of salt and water were made, and he also drank a quantity. About four o'clock on Thursday morning he was taken with vomiting, and from his stomach was ejected a live frog, or toad, measuring one and one-fourth inches long by one inch in width. His frogship, evidently, did not like the change of climate, for after springing around in the wash bowl, in Shenandoah City, a mile above the Ferry is entirely gone. The big flour mill he kicked his last kick. How the reptile in an embryo state in a drink of water. Mr. Southworth has experienced the pain in the stomach for about fifteen years past but it is hardly probable that it has been there so long, else Mr. S. would possibly have been a proverbial croaker, and not the quiet, civil old gentleman that everybody knows him to be. Dr. Speer has the frog in a bottle of spirits, and the curious or doubting can see it by calling

Sad Accident and Death From Ceal Oil.

Mrs. Wm, Savidge, of Turbotville, was burned so badly on Monday night last that she expired at five o'clock, Tuesday morning, after enduring most exerciting pain. As a second control of the American Mcrehants' Union Express, was stolen last week from the New York Union Central Railroad depot at Rochester. morning, after enduring most excrutia-ting pain. As was the custom of the family the lamp was placed in a coal scuttle and left to burn all night. About 11 o'clock the attention of Mrs Savidge was called to the lamp—whether by an explosion or by the flickering of the light is not known with certainty-, and she seized the scuttle to throw it out of the window. The flames communicated to her apparel and in an instant almost she was terribly burned. Mr. Savidge in his frantic efforts to extinguish the flames was severely burned about the hands and feet, likewise, the two children, Sarah and Benjamin. Several physicians were at once summoned but the injuries of Mrs. Savidge were so serious that beyond administering narcotics to allay her agony, no hope was entertained and she died has filled the whole community with profound sorrow, and the distressed family have the heart felt sympathy of all who knew them .- Miltonian.

Forty Persons Poisoned.

A few mornings since the boarders at Mrs. Finch's boarding-house, at the S. W. corner of Eighth and Olive streets, St. different townships throughout the county at the last election. This will be interesting to compare with the returns of a sweeter flavor than usual. The cook a sweeter flavor than usual. was praised for her skill in getting up hot corn bread, and the butter melted away with marvelous rapidity.

After breakfast the boarders gathered in the sitting rooms as usual, to exchange the compliments of the day, read the morning papers and discuss the war news. They had not been there long before one of them-a young man, whose appetite for hot corn bread had been immensejumped up and ran into the back yard. Another and another followed, until all the boarders, many in number were trying to relieve themselves of the retchings in their stomachs.

"Good gracious!" cried the young man with the big appetite, "I'm poison-

"So am I !" said another, and the word went from mouth to mouth in the intervals of the retchings, that the whole house was poisoned. Some rushed to the nearest doctor's offices, some went to bed, and some threw themselves on the sofas and prepared to "give up the ghost."

Several physicians were called in, and it was ascertained that the bread eating boarders suffered from arsenical poison. An investigation of the cause revealed the fact that one of the girls had mixed arsenie with corn meal in a saucer for the purpose of killing rats! Another girl, of an economical turn of mind, secing the mixture in the saucer, and supposing it to be all corn meal, frugallyemptied it into the meal barrel. The next morning the cook served up hotcornbread to the boarders, and unwittingly placed some of the arsenic in the batter. Proper remedies were administered by the physicians, and, at last accounts the boarders were in a fair way to recover, except the young man with the voracious appetite, who disappeared though the back gate and has not been seen

For The Bloomfield Times. Cross Roads near Sherman's Church.

The improvements that have been made, and are still being made at this point, indicate a spirit of enterprise among the inhabitants, worthy of any place, and unsurpassed in the rural districts of Perry county.—
A village is springing up, and various industrial pursuits are carried on where but a few years ago, the old church stood almost alone. This little community has in its midst many advantages and conven-iences already, with facilities for adding more. Near to the old church a new one is in process of construction, for the use of the United Brethren in Christ. New hous-es have been recently erected by Rev. J. H. Weidler, Jacob R. Smith, and Rev. B. G. Weidler, Jacob R. Smith, and Rev. B. G. Huber—all of them commodious and handsome. A large L-shaped building, intended as a dwelling-house and storeroom combined, situated on the corner opposite the old church, is almost completed. Farming is carried on by Mr. M. Goehler; Mr. J. H. Weaver is our Miller, doing a flourishing business; a blacksmith-shop is carried on by Messrs. Work and Smith; Mr. Smith does a good business—making wagons and does a good business—making wagons and carriages of all descriptions. The Horti-culturist and Poulterer of the place, is W. culturist and Poulterer of the place, is W. E. Baker, whose fruits, plants, and poultry can't be beat in Perry county, and of course, nowhere else. Our rresident carpenters are Messrs. Daniel Markel and Solomon Roth. The store, which is now in the suburbs, will shortly be brought to the new building. "Right in town" we have a school-house, a multitude of pupils and two teachers independent of outsiders. When we wish to have our boys and girls shod preparatory to sending them to school, we send them to Mr. S. Smith or Messrs. France & Co., either of whom can make a boot or a shoe that can't be beat in Massachusetts. But time would fail to tell of all chusetts. The black slate has all appearance of coal and some who have tried it in the fire, say it burns. The well in which it is found, is now as deep as Mr. Smith, the owner, wants it, and unless others who wish to see it tried further, will furnish the means, the digging will have to stop. Most of the neighbors here have given a small sum each, towards digging it deeper, and if those at a distance would help but a little, it might be fairly tried. Will not some come and see at least the appearance, and come and see at least the appearance, and if they think necessary, contribute one dollar to carry on the investigation.
