FARM AND HOUSEHOLD ITEMS

We invite communications from all persons who are interested in matters properly belonging to this department.

Feeding Pigs.

A writer in the Rural New Yorker gives advice in regard to feeding pigs as follows:

In case you do not have milk enough for the sows and pigs both, give it to the latter by all means. Begin with good sweet milk gradually getting them used to that which is a little sour, until they will drink one about as well as they do the other, at the same time commence giving them Indian meal—not cob and corn meal—made into a hasty "pudding" alternately with boiled potatoes, ground peas, rye, or buckwheat if you have them, and give them all they will eat three or four times a day. Add from time to time a little salt with their food, they will thrive the better for it.

Cure for Rheumatism.

One of the old and approved physicians who has a very large practice, has for several years used with marked success a remedy for rheumatism, which we will publish for the reason that the article used can be obtained now, not alone at the drug shops but abroad in the fields. It is the berry of the common soke-weed, or soke-root—often called "poke-root." These berries (now ripening) are put into spirits—gin is the best—at the rate of two ounces to the pint. Of the tincture thus made, a tablespoonful is given three times a day. We are told that this simple remedy, persisted in for a week or more, has effected some remarkable cures of this common and distressing complaint.

Farm Products.

Farm products of all kinds should be prepared for the market in a neat and attractive manner. There is no time lost in picking over beans, sorting apples and potatoes or putting up butter in a neat and taking way. The market gardeners who supply our large cities with vegetables, understand this business of marketing better than most people. Their lettuce, beets, turnips, &c., must be washed and the tomatoes must be clean and carefully assorted. It don't pay in the long run, to mix inferior fruit with good, to put rocks in your oats or harrow teeth in wool, when preparing these articles for the consumer.

A horse is never vicious or intractable without a direct cause. If a horse is restless or timorous, you may be sure these faults arise from defects in his education. He has been treated either awkwardly or brutally. Commence the education of the horse at his birth; accustom him to the presence, voice and sight of man; speak and act gently; caress him; and do not startle him. All chastisement or cruelty confuses the animal and makes him wild. They are good men who make good horses.

In Lower California there are now 7,000 orange trees in bearing. They yield from 600 to 1,500 oranges to the tree, depending on the size of the tree. About 70 trees stand on an acre. The tree commences bearing from eight years from the seed. For good oranges the price is about $20 per 1,000. California is also cultivating extensively, grape vines, lemons, citrons, figs, and walnuts. Lemons, limes, and citrons yield crops averaging $1,000 per acre.

Soap suds may be used with great advantage for manuring grape vines. Downing says he has seen an Isabella grape vine produce 3,000 fine clusters of well-ripened fruit in a season, by the liberal use of manure, and soap suds from the weekly wash. The effect of soap suds on other plants is remarkable. A cypress vine that had remained stationary for a fortnight, when about two inches high, immediately began growing, after being watered with soap suds, and grew about six inches in five days.

Every year's experience goes to show that brilliant success may not be expected in pear culture except on deep clay soils.

At nearly all the State Fairs this Fall especially those in the West, the Berkshire has taken creams of pig prizes.

Marks of Difference of Sex in Eggs

It is stated that the eggs of the common hen, as well as those of many other birds, present certain external characteristics, by means of which it is possible to determine beforehand the sex to be hatched from them. Thus, the "male" egg has at its pointed end small folds and wrinkles, while the "female" egg is entirely smooth and well rounded off at both ends.

If 15 bushels of corn are wisely fed to a hog so as to increase it from 200 to 300, the farmer may get from $1.50 to $1.75 for the corn thus converted into pork.

Tile are always to be preferred for draining but four-inch hemlock boards nailed in V-shape cost little but sledging work in winter, and will last always 19 years and often 25.

A man in Maine has a cow that in a twelve-month has made as many pounds of butter as there are days in the year, beside fattening a calf to 110.

A little sound knowledge, with a great deal of care, goes further on a farm, than great knowledge half applied.

The word of hope and cheer for labor in our days is "Cooperation."

THE KIDNEYS.

THE Kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loins, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the Anterior, the Interior and the Exterior.

The Anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the Exterior. The Exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The Ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability to retain.—This frequently occurs in children.

To cure these affections, we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect the bodily health and mental powers, as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.—Pain occurring in the loins are indicative of the above diseases. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.—The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys.—These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish, and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and gravel ensues.

DROPSY is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.—Helmhold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidneys, bladder, dropsical swellings, rheumatism and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, Scanty Secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; Strangury, or stopping of water; Hematuria, or bloody urine; Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase in color, or dark water. It was always highly recommended by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise by which the watery or calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and it is taken by men, women, and children. Directions for use and diet accompany.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 25, 1867.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist:

DEAR SIR—I have been a sufferer, for upward of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent Physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and, some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubeba, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks, was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of more value to you, and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.
