Tuesday, November 22, 1870.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

CORRESPONDENTS will please bear in mind that letters received later than Saturday evening, or the down mail on Monday morning have to lay over until the following week.

NOTICE.

Subscribers whose subscriptions are about out will please remember that all papers are stopped at the expiration of the time for which they are paid.

- B. M. EBY, Newport. JAMES L. DIVEN, Landisburg. WM. JACKSON, P. M., New Buffalo. WM. A. BODEN, P. M., Ickesburg. S. W. FICKES, P. M., Juniata. ELI YOUNG, P. M., Dellville. SAMUEL REBERT, Shermansdale. A. S. WHITEKETTLE, Marketville. THOMAS SEAGAR, P. M., Blain.

Closed.—The stores and the bank in this borough will be closed next Thursday; that being Thanks-giving Day.

Patent Outsides.—We are sorry to see so many of our Exchanges adopting the "Patent Outsides." It is rather provoking to have a lot of Exchanges of one week contain exactly the same matter which was in papers from other localities the week previous.

Lost His Fingers.—On Saturday, the 12th instant, Wm. Kepner, engineer at Kendig's Steam Saw Mill, 3 miles west of Ickesburg, while operating one of the small saws, accidentally brought his left hand in contact with the saw. Two fingers were cut off, and the thumb and remaining fingers sadly mangled. He was taken to Ickesburg and his hand dressed by Dr. Wm. R. Cisa.

Arrested.—The parties who have flooded this vicinity with their counterfeit money circulars, and who would in return for remittances received, send a box of saw-dust, or something else as worthless, have been arrested by the police, and their establishment broken up. This will be gratifying news to several we know of in this county, who were green and covetous enough to invest $5, and in two cases $10, in answer to these circulars.

Wanted.—Josh Billings thus advertises: "Wanted, several first class young men, with moustash, to hang around the vestibules of the different churches in Ameriky and stare at the females as they pass out. No yung man accepted who can't stare the brass buttons oph from a military coat at twenty paces."

There are lots of them to be found in this town, at most any of the church doors after evening service.

Weather Prophets.—It is quite amusing to read the different prophecies regarding the coming winter. Some say the winter will be remarkably cold, and give as a reason for this belief the fact that the aurora borealis has been remarkably brilliant this fall; while others, with equal positiveness, say we shall have a warm one, as the corn husks were thinner than usual. We believe we know as much about the weather this coming winter, as any of these prophets, and honestly confess we know nothing about it.

Too Many Studies.—When we see children going to school with nearly as many books as they can carry, we think of the following story:

"How is it, my dear," inquired a school mistress of a little girl, "how is it you do not understand this simple thing?" "I do not know indeed," she answered with a perplexed look, "but I sometimes think I've so many things to learn that I have no time to understand."

Speedy Justice.—The Lebanon Courier says: The horse thief Jones, who stole the horse and buggy of Meilly, Walmer & Seltzer on Saturday night a week, was arrested and brought here on the following Monday, was indicted and brought into Court on Tuesday, was found guilty and sentenced, and is now on his term in the Eastern Penitentiary. Horse thieves had better pass Lebanon County by.

His Reason.—There is a man in this borough, who, when asked why he did not fence his cemetery lot, replied, "There is no danger of any one there getting out, and I don't know of any one who will try to get in, and therefore see no need of a fence."

Accident.—The York Press says: Mr. Leib, an aged and highly respected citizen of Paradise township, met with an accident on Monday afternoon last, which resulted in his death. He was on his way home accompanied by his daughter, when his horse became frightened and not being able to manage him, started and ran away throwing both of them out of the buggy, almost instantly killing Mr. Leib and injuring the young lady to such a degree that poor hopes of her recovery are entertained. The sad occurrence took place on the Gettysburg turnpike, about six miles west of this Borough. The deceased and his daughter were on a visit to Lancaster county and, we are told, that his horse also ran off in the vicinity of Wrightsville, and that he was thrown from the buggy and received a compound fracture of the arm. This took place only a few hours previous to the above sad occurrence, which deprived him of his life. He was a man highly esteemed for his virtues and his untimely end is universally lamented by the whole community in which he resided.

The "State Journal," the new Harrisburg daily, is rapidly increasing its circulation. It is, without doubt, the best daily paper in the interior of the state, and well deserves the patronage of the public. We find its summary of telegraphic news fully as complete as that of any of the Philadelphia Dailies, while it is well printed on good paper.

The Mite Society.—The ladies of the 'Mite Society,' of the Presbyterian Church, will do any kind of plain or fancy sewing. Orders for their society may be left with Mrs. Sponsler and will receive prompt attention.

Must Settle.—Mr. Geo. H. Martin of Blain gives notice to all who have accounts on his books, that such accounts must be settled either by note or otherwise before January 1st. If not settled by that date they will be placed in the hands of an officer for collection.

Clothing.—Persons wanting clothing made in a superior manner should leave their orders with F. Mortimer & Co., who having secured the services of a very superior workman from New York, are prepared to execute orders promptly, and in the best style. They also have the best assortment of cassimeres and cloths in the county.

Church Notices.

A union meeting will be held in the Lutheran Church, on Thanksgiving Day, (Thursday next), at 10 1/2 o'clock a. m.

Presbyterian preaching in the Court-room next Sunday at 11 in the morning, and at 6 1/2 in the evening. Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening in the same place.

In the Methodist church, prayer-meeting on Thursday evening. Preaching on Sunday evening by Rev. W. Shriber.

Local Briefs.

Horse thieves are "raiding" through Adams county.

A change in the railroad time table went into effect yesterday.

The hog cholera is still troubling the farmers in the vicinity of Ickesburg.

J. R. McClintock has sold his house and lot in this borough to Wm. Tressler for $3000.

During the past week the Tuscarora mountains have been burned over in a number of places.

Bob Aker who is so well known in this county, is now boarding in the Miffin Co., Jail, for breaking into a store at Atkinsons Mill.

The Presbyterian church in this borough, is now under roof. We understand that further work in the tower will be postponed until next spring.

A party of seven gentlemen left here yesterday morning for a hunt at Black Log. We expect that deer meat will be cheap in this borough by next week.

Schools in this borough begin late this fall, in consequence of the building not being ready. It is now expected to be ready by the first or second week of December.

The cold weather must make the horses feel frisky, for no less than three runaways have happened in this vicinity the past week. Fortunately none of them resulted seriously.

Some few nights since some thieves who probably "loved sweet things," stole a scape of bees, from the yard of John Soule in Carroll twp. The scape was filled with honey and was worth $12 or $15.

For Sale, Cheap.—A first-rate Oriental Stove, with or without heater. The Stove is Warranted perfect in every respect. For further particulars call at this office.

Clocks.—Another new lot of 30 hour and 8 day Clocks just received by F. Mortimer & Co. New Bloomfield.

The Continental Life Insurance Company of New York.

This institution is one of those that mark the highest progress we have attained in science and art. It is a perfect system founded on the harmony of divine order and adapted to the conditions and wants of our daily existence.

It has met a great public need in fairness, fulness and liberality, and the American people have shown their ready appreciation of excellence in bestowing their patronage upon it to an extent that has placed it in a few years side by side with companies that have been a quarter of a century or more in attaining to their present position. The Continental Life commenced to issue policies on the 10th of May, 1866, and on the 30th of September last it had 21,562 policies in force, insuring $51,736,575.20. It has never been our duty to record a more brilliant and beneficent success.

This rapid progress, wonderful and almost incredible as it may appear, is the genuine natural and healthful result of a superior system and healthful equitable administration of life insurance. The plans of the Continental Life of New York, although marked by a judicious regard for economy and safety, are framed in the most liberal spirit. The insured find in this truly mutual company none of those oppressive incumbrances and drawbacks which impair the value and usefulness of the policies of other life corporations. A policy in the Continental Life has many cardinal advantages over others. It has an intrinsic, specific value, being non-forfeitable and incontestable. It entitles its holder to participate fully in the entire profits of the company distributed annually on the contribution dividend plan—to a voice in the elections and management—to thirty days' grace in the payment of premium, to a liberal loan of 33 1/3 per cent, if required, and to a total exemption from any charge for permission to travel. These are a few of the attractive features among many others that have brought this organization into general favor. Its popularity is still increasing. It issued during the year ending September 30, 1870, no less than 5,582 new policies insuring $18,084,298. Notwithstanding this immense accession of new business and the payment of handsome dividends to the insured, the most judicious care appears in the selection of the Continental Life's risks, and the strictest economy in the conduct of its affairs, and its percentage of expenditures, including losses, is far below the average of other companies.

Those great triumphs of management are attributable to a perfect system, and to its masterly administration by the company's experienced and highly gifted president, Justus Lawrence, ably seconded by its worthy vice-president, M. B. Wynkoop, its faithful and talented secretary, J. P. Rogers, and a board of directors distinguished alike for their eminent standing and practical business ability.

We cannot conclude this brief notice of the Continental Life of New York without adverting to the primal excellence it possesses of immutable stability. No mountain is founded on a firmer basis. Whoever enters the ranks of its policy holders may not only rest assured that he and his heirs will be most equitably and liberally dealt with, but may also dismiss all misgiving from his mind as to the company's perpetuity and the perfect safety of the funds intrusted to its keeping. Its present assets, continually and rapidly augmenting and invested securely and profitably in National, State and in other securities worth double the amount for which they are held, now exceed four million five hundred thousand dollars—sufficient to pay all present, prospective and possible liabilities, and leave half a million earned surplus to be returned as clear profit to the insured.

Placing such incontrovertible facts and figures before him, we ask any husband or father can he entrust his savings for those he loves best and is most bound to protect, to any institution more worthy of his confidence or more certain to repay it many fold than the Continental Life of New York.

We copy the above from the Insurance Times, published at New York, a journal edited by the most talented underwriters in the world. The notice is quite a compliment to the officers who have so skillfully managed the Continental of New York since its organization. Any company might be envious of the success that has attended the Continental of New York since its existence. Mr. J. F. Eaton, College Block, Harrisburg, is the general agent for this excellent company.

For Hand-bills, or job work of any kind, go to the Times Office. Our "Steam Power Press," will print a larger bill than any press in the county.

For The Bloomfield Times. Our Railroad.

Mr. Editor—Sir, if you please, I desire to state in my opinion, your suggestion of building a two-foot gauge railroad on our route is worthy of consideration, and that if the present commissioners will not take some action or try to urge on the road, let them be expelled and others who have an interest in the work be appointed in their place. If we cannot have a wide railroad, let us have a narrow one, until we are able to make it wider. It is high time for us to do something in the way of work. We have been talking long enough about this road. Let us have it made.
