"OUR FATHER'S HOUSE;"

The Unwritten Word. The Unwritten Word.

By Daniel March, D. D., author of the popular "Night Seenes," This master in thought and language, shows us untold riches and beauties in the Great House, with its Blooming flowers, Singing birds, Waving palms, Rolling chouds, Beauliful bow, Sacred mountains, Delightful rivers, Mighty becans, Thundering volces, Blazing leavens and yast universe with countless beings in millions of worlds, and reads to us in each the Unwritten Word. Rose-tinted paper, ornate engravings and superb binding. "Rich and varied in thought." "Correct, pure and elevating in its tendency." "Beautiful and good." "A household treasure." Commendations like the above from College Presidents and Professors, ministers of all denominations, and the religious and secular press all over the country. Its freshness, parity of language, with clear open type, fine steel engravings, substantial binding, and low price, making it the book for the masses. Agents are selling from 50 to 150 per week.

HUMOROUS ITEMS.

Der "Oh, Jacob," said a master to his apprentice boy, "It is wonderful to see what a quantity you can eat."

"Yes, master," replied the boy, "I have been practising since I was a child."

far At a spiritual circle, the other night, a gentleman asked the medium what amusement was popular in the spirit world. The reply was, "reading our own obituary notices."

par " Mamma," asked a little girl to her mother, "do you know how I get to bed quick?" 'No," was the reply.— "Well, said she, in great glee, "I step one of my feet over the crib, and then I say rats, and frighten myself in." A young lady, while walking with a gentleman, stumbled, and when her companion, to prevent her from falling, grasped her hand somewhat tightly, she simpered, , Oh, sir, if it comes to that, you must ask my Pa!" Bee We can't remember reading any thing more to the point than the retort of an editor to Anna Dickinson. Anna says she will give the editors who have been abusing her "tit for tat;" whereupon our editorial friend says: "We'll trade; here's our tat."

A tradesman who had failed in the city of Bangor, wrote on his front door: "Payment suspended for thirty days." A neighbor reading this said: "You have not dated the notice." "O, no." said he, " I do not intend to do so 5 it would run out if I did."

May" " An editor in Iowa has been fined two hundred and fifty dollars for hugging a young girl in church."-Daily

"Cheap enough! We once hugged a a girl in church some ten years ago, and the scrape has cost us a thousand a year

Bes A "personal," in a New York daily a week ago states that "if John COMMISSION MERCHANTS Smith formerly of Philadelphia, will call at No. —— Blank street, he will hear something to his advantage." John called. There was about 250 of him-and he has been calling at the rate of forty-seven per day ever since the "personal" appeared.

> # "Jennie," said a landlady to her help the other morning-" Jennie, was there any fire it the kitchen the other night while you were sitting up?" "Only just a spark, ma'am," was the reply.-The landlady looked suspiciously at Jennie; but the innocent girl went on scrubbing and humming "Katy Darling." B⊗ A ragged little urchin, begging in the street, the other day, was asked by a lady, who filled his basket, if his parents were living. "Only dad, marm," said the boy. "Then you have enough in the basket to fined the family for said the lady. "Oh, no, I haven't neither," said the lad; "for dad and me keep five boarders. He does the housework and I do the marketin'. A writ in writing "right," may write It "wright," and still be wrong.

For "write" and "rile" are neither "right," And don't to write belong. Beer often brings a bler to man, basket to feed the family for some time,"

As well as some other things. ▶ A young man, becoming engaged, recently, was desirous of presenting his intended with a ring appropriately inscribed, but being at a loss what to have engraved on it, called upon his father for advice. Well," said the old man, "put on 'When this you see remember me." The young lady was much surprised a few days after at raciving a beautiful ring with this inscription: "When this you see remember father."

Bor A school teacher in a town in New Hampshire, seeing one morning a new pupil in her school room, asked the young hopeful" in accordance with the require-"hopeful" in accordance with the requirements of the 'superintending committee,' his father's name? "Hayes," answered the boy, promptly. "What is his given name?" said the teacher. "Hayes, I tell you!" replied the promising youth. "Well, inquired the instructor, determined to know if Mr. Hayes had any 'Christian' name, "What does your mother call him?" "Mother? She calls him old Hayes," responded the boy, as if his destiny depended on the reply. tiny depended on the reply.

A dispute once arose between two Scotchmen, named Campbell and McLean upon the antiquity of their families .-The latter would not allow that the Campbells had any right to rank with the Me-Leans in antiquity, who, he insisted, were in existence as a clan since the beginning of the world. Campbell had a fittle more Biblical knowledge than his antagonist, and asked him if the clan of the Me-Leans was before the flood.

The flood, you know, that drowned all the world but Noah and his family, and his flock," said Campbell.

"Pooh! you and your flood," said McLean; "My clan was afore the flood." "I have not read in my Bible," said Campbell, "of the name of McLear to ing into Noah's ark.

"Noah's ark!" retorted McLear to contempt. "Who ever world the learning to the learning the l
