137 Prairie chickens are so numerous in Illinois this season that numbers are killed by flying against the telegraph wires.

138 Bristol, a town, which is partly in Tennessee and partly in Virginia, has one representative in the Legislature at Nashville and another in Richmond.

139 Excellent wooden shoes are manufactured by the Swedish colony in Maine. A pair costs forty cents, and only two hours is consumed in the manufacture.

140 It is a remarkable fact that the first name drawn from the jury box in Stoughton Mass., for the trial of Moran, the murderer, was that of Minot C. Packard, his victim.

141 A German jeweller has made a gold pen in exact imitation of a goose-quill, which he has presented to Count Bismarck, with which to sign the treaty of peace—when they get to it—which is hardly yet apparent.

142 An important case has just been decided in Stamford, Ct., by the supreme court of the State, which endorses the principles that all lands for which the holders or claimants have not received deeds revert to the town.

143 Mrs. Conner, a young married woman of Williams' Bridge, N. Y., was murdered by her husband and brother, Monday night, in consequence of refusing to give them money. They beat and kicked her till she was insensible.

144 An Indiana man was sent to the penitentiary about a year ago, and his wife got a decree of divorce, for which she owed the costs. On Friday the husband made his appearance, saw his ex-wife, made up with her, and went to get a marriage license. He couldn't get it until he paid the costs of the old divorce.

145 "Widows are estimated by the square mile in New Hampshire. Twenty to the mile is thought to be good ratio." The Boston Advertiser says that, but it seems to be hardly doing justice to the widows. It has usually been admitted that a Miss is as good as a mile, and the widows may well object to being counted twenty for one.

146 Ex-President Andrew Johnson complains that during the late immortal war, as he calls it, the rebels carried off nearly all his books and papers, and even his tailor's shears, that he prized highly having used them so long. He says that since the war many of his books have been returned, but those shears and his sign "A. Johnson, Tailor," have never turned up.

147 By a singular accident in Avon, the other day, Miss Alice E. Roden was badly wounded. A fox was chased into her father's yard where it was attacked by the dog. The gentleman went to the assistance of his dog, carrying his revolver, but being afraid of wounding the dog he gave the pistol to the girl, who discharged it accidentally. The ball entering above the knee, and came out below, causing a very painful wound.

148 The following from the Hartford Post is not only "good" as a conundrum, but evinces a familiarity with the Scriptures that is as rare as it is commendable in a political editor: "Doubtless the reason why the Jews caught their fish mostly by nets, was because Moses expressly stated to them, before they crossed the Jordan, that they could not have any Moabites there."

149 Some thirty-five years ago (says the Norwich Gazette), our town board of Selectmen consisted of Benjamin Isaacs, John Grey and Barnabas Marvin. The regular established annual salary of the Selectmen was $7.00, but on account of some extra expense and service rendered, Marvin charged 8.00 one year. This extra dollar was the political ruin of Marvin. He was immediately and ever afterward dropped.

150 Hurrah for Mr. A. J. Davis, of Manchester, N. H.! He was on his way home, the other night, and passing a wooden tannery, discovered the house to be on fire. He burst in the door, rescued two children, found a pitcher of ale on the table and threw it on the flames, but that not proving sufficient, and there being no water at hand, threw on a gallon of opened oysters, from a pail that he was carrying home, and saved the building! The fire had just caught as he happened to be passing.

151 A Brooklyn lawyer named Dickson, recently brought suit for his sister against one McClear, a shoemaker, to recover $10 money loaned, and obtained judgement against him in a Justice's Court. When Constable Jerry Lant went to levy upon McClear's property, he could find nothing. Dickson, however, determined not to be beaten, so he left an order for a $13 pair of boots with the son of Crispin. When done, he went to McClear's shop with the constable and took the boots, which Lant immediately seized and carried in triumph to the City Hall!

152 A man was cut in the abdomen in a fight, and a learned disciple of Esculapius was sent for, who, after looking at the patient delivered himself as follows: "Bad case; incised cut off the perineum membranous—through the umbilicus mistrotany to the linea alba. The viscera and signum are incised, and the pulicr orifice of hepatic ductus is lacerated to the anterior spirans of the attachment of the fifth rib." A friend of the sufferer went out for air, and on being asked, "How was Sam?" replied: "Ah, poor fellow! there's no hope for him; the doctor says all the Latin parts of his bowels are destroyed, and he must die."

153 A marriage was solemnized in New York, last week, which has about it an air of romance. The bride is the daughter of a gentleman up town, and the groom has been for years—indeed from childhood, though American by birth—a resident of Calcutta. The lady never saw her husband until his arrival here about a fortnight since. The gentleman had regularly corresponded with her father, who had been acquainted with his parents. Through this means a correspondence ensued between the couple, which ended in a declaration of love and a proposal. On meeting for the first time, the lovers were not disappointed in their mutual choice, and the wedding soon followed. Both go to India soon, where the gentleman is engaged in a large business.
