Temperance Lecture.—A lecture on this subject will be delivered in the court house on Friday evening next, by Rev. W. C. Hendrickson.

Badly Cut.—On the 6th inst., John Lightner, while chopping in Keller's woods, in Rye township, cut his foot so badly that at the last accounts we had, he was quite low from loss of blood.

The 22nd of February will be celebrated in this borough by a parade of the Odd Fellows, Mechanics, and Knights of Pythias, after which a supper will be served.—We also understand that several addresses will be delivered.

Twenty Thousand Dollars.—The bill appropriating $20,000 to the aid of the Millintown sufferers, has passed both houses. The aid may be badly needed, but we think it a bad precedent to establish, unless the State wishes to do away with the use of insurance companies.

Fatal Accident.—On Tuesday morning last, about five o'clock, while Christian Shirk, of Lancaster, a brakeman in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company, was discharging his duties, he was compelled to pass over the tops of the cars of his train, the express freight west, and when between the saw-mills of the Harrisburg car company and gas works, he slipped and fell under the cars, which passed over him, cutting his body nearly in half, and dragging it about fifty yards. Other injuries were also evident about the head. He was about 30 years of age, and we learn unmarried.

Suspicious Fellows.—On Monday of last week three men were arrested at Shippensburg by constable Hykes on suspicion of being burglars, and as our correspondent says supposed to be the party concerned in the Kensington Bank robbery.

The men were first found secreted in a barn belonging to Jeremiah Angle, but afterwards left there and took quarters at Mr. Stavers Hotel. Their peculiar conduct led to their arrest when it was found that they were supplied with various burglars tools and were well armed, three heavily loaded revolvers being found on them. They were taken to Carlisle and placed in jail for safe keeping, and word sent to Philadelphia of their arrest.

Since the above was written the watchman from the bank has visited the jail but failed to recognize any of the parties. The men will however be detained until the April term of court, when they will be tried for having burglars tools in their possession.

Charged with Bribery.—According to the reports regarding the doings of the commissioners of Cumberland county, they have discovered a method of putting a little more cash into their pockets than can be done by simply being satisfied with their legal pay. Charges having been made against them, an investigation has taken place, and it is shown that these worthy gentlemen have, in one instance, at least, been guilty of receiving a bribe. The case referred to was the building of a bridge over the Conodoguinet Creek, in which it is proved that $800 was paid as bonus on the contract, which sum the clerk of the commissioners says he divided between himself and those gentlemen. One of these honest gents, Mr. Harris, says he did receive a roll of bills from Mr. Armstrong, the clerk, and did not even count them, but put them in his pocket, supposing it was all right. It is rare that we find such unsophisticated innocence among politicians of either party, and such a cool assertion in the 'dog days' would be very pleasant and refreshing.—The Herald says that Mr. Harris has been arrested on the charge of bribery, and other official misconduct, and that rare developments may be expected at the April court.

Rail Road Meeting.—The meeting of those in favor of building the D. B. & B. T. R. R., advertised for Saturday P. M., did not in reality take place. In the notice sent the Times, the meeting was called for one o'clock, while in the other papers 2 o'clock was the hour named. It was supposed that the meeting would not be called to order before the later hour mentioned, and that the court house bell would be rung at that time. Quite a number of persons interested in the enterprise were in town on purpose to attend this meeting, and while waiting for the hour of 2 o'clock to arrive were greatly surprised at 10 minutes past one, to learn that the meeting had already been held and had adjourned.

We learn that the only thing done by the few who happened to be present, was to appoint a committee to get the capital stock reduced to $500,000 and to get the charter extended. When we state that a part of this (the reduction of the stock) was done two years since, it will give a pretty good idea of how great an interest those present on Saturday have taken in this enterprise. Instead of being called a meeting of the friends of a railroad to Duncannon, it was a very pretty specimen of "How not to do it."

Important to Postmasters.—Not many weeks ago the postmaster at Hillsboro, N. C., refused to take a mutilated two dollar bill in exchange for stamps. The gentleman who had offered the bill determined to test the thing and accordingly sued the postmaster for two dollars damages. The suit has just ended, and the postmaster finds himself victimized to the extent of $90. At the trial it was shown that the post office department had issued orders that postmasters should receive mutilated currency in exchange for stamps, when offered. The Court, beside, held that all departments of the government were bound to sustain the currency of the government, and the fact of a bill being more or less mutilated was no justification for its being refused by any official of any department of the government.

The New York "Democrat" gets off the following joke on Horace Greeley's penchant for saying naughty words:

"Horace Greeley's little boy, who attends an up-town school, will tell the truth any way you can fix him. The other day the teacher spelled out the word "g-r-a-e-e," and asked the young man to pronounce it. He gave it up, when the teacher, to refresh his memory, asked him, "What did your father say this morning before eating breakfast?" The boy thought a minute, and finally said, "Pa said—these eggs, they are rotten."

A Lesson to Borrowers.—The following letter received last week, shows how welcome the visits of the TIMES are, and how to get rid of borrowers:

Mr. Mortimer: Dear Sir:—I am tired of being bored with the inquiry of "has this weeks Times come yet" and therefore will relieve myself of further trouble by subscribing for another copy. Enclosed I hand $1 for which send the paper to Yours Respectfully

"Burned to Death by a lamp Explosion."—Such is the heading of some despatch almost every day. Last week three such cases were reported. If persons would use Perkins & House non explosive lamp, there would be no such cases reported, or if in using the common lamp they would use Carson's Steller Oil, they would still be safe. Both of these articles are for sale at most stores in this county, and by F. Mortimer & Co., New Bloomfield.

A Narrow Gauge Railroad is to be constructed from Greenville, Tenn., to the Green County Iron Works, ten miles distant. The width of the track is to be thirty inches. We shall soon know from experience what is the comparative value of so narrow a gauge.

Both of the newspapers published in Mechanicsburg, have recently changed proprietors.

A Colored woman known as "Black Hannah" died recently at Mechanicsburg, at the advanced age of one hundred and eight years.

Clothing.—Persons wanting clothing made in a superior manner should leave their orders with F. Mortimer & Co., who having secured the services of a very superior workman from New York, are prepared to execute orders promptly, and in the best style. They also have the best assortment of cassimeres and cloths in the county.

Remember the Sabbath Day to go Hunting.

Mr. Editor—Had God, in giving his commandments to Moses, substituted this one, instead of "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," I doubt not that it would be strictly observed by many individuals. Not many Sabbaths ago my heart was pained at the sight of a party of hunters from Elliottsburg, eight in number, in the personages of this time we will not give the names; if the party is seen again, their names will be given in full—and with an equal number of dogs, desecrating God's holy day, by traversing the surrounding hills in pursuit of game.—Should such gross violation of our laws, civil and religious, be tolerated? Has Elliottsburg become so degraded in morals as to tolerate such conduct? Is it not a burning shame to a place like Elliottsburg, in which there are two churches whose pulpits are filled by able ministers of the gospel of our blessed Master? If these ministers are not sensibly alive to their duties, and the church-going people of Elliottsburg and vicinity, are indifferent to such conduct, is there not an individual outside of the church, that has so much regard for our civil and religious laws, and the moral standing of his community, as to take the matter in hand, enforce our civil laws, and put an end to such bold and daring profanation of God's holy day? DELTA.

ALTOONA, Feb. 9th, 1871.

Mr. Editor—A good number of the curious fun-seeking worshippers of frivolity in this city (Altoona) were most gloriously humbugged the other evening. Some fellow came along claiming to be a great conjurer, and proposed to pay all who would come to his wonderful entertainments. A live pig was to be given away, a barrel of flour, watches, &c. We saw one man taking two small children to see the fun, and then perhaps he said he might get the barrel of flour or pig. I need not prolong this to say that they were disappointed in their expectation.

A few miles up the railroad from here, a man lost his life a short time ago, he went to take his brother's place to ship coal, and as we were informed, while in the act of landing a bill to some one on the cars, was run over, and was mangled desperately.

A singular animal is skulking about this city destroying people. He has neither head nor feet. The people sent to Pittsburgh to get a man to help them claim this vicious creature. The meeting was held in the basement of the Baptist Church, and about one hundred assembled and heard a No. 1 temperance lecture. Saw our friends Rev. Daniel Hartman, and John Swartz, formerly from Duncannon, there.

Wanted.—From 50 to 100 bushels of good Charcoal. For further particulars, inquire at this office.
