NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENN'A. Tuesday, February 28, 1871.

THE bill which had passed both houses of Congress providing territorial government for the District of Columbia has been signed by the President.

THE number of persons who bave already been brought forward as suitable eandidates for Auditor General is variously estimated at from fifty to seventy-five. Hurry along your candidates and "let us have peace.

SENATOR CAMERON has tried with great earnestness to get the Senate to concur in the House bill fixing the International Exhibition of 1876, at the City of Philadelphia. The Senators in the interests of N. Y., have so far succeeded in postponing the action of the Senate.

The Chicago Republican asserts that "the funeral expenses of a member of Congress cost the Government about $1, 500, exclusive of his grave stone in the Congressional burying-ground." Well there are some members still left which the people would be glad to be rid of, even at that price.

THE Commissioners appointed by the English Government to meet with a commission on the part of the U.S., to endeavor to settle the Alabama claims and the fishing difficulty, have arrived.

We trust these vexed questions may be settled in such a manner as will be satisfactory to both nations, as it is high time they were definitely disposed of.

FROM the annual report of the Directors of the Pennsylvania Rail Road, it is evident that the operations for the past year have been conducted in a manner which cannot fail to be gratifying to the Stockholders. From that report we take the following items which will be of interest to many of our readers. The earnings of the main line and branches were

Dr. Schæppe Resigns His Claims on the Stinnecke Property.

Dr. Schoeppe has drawn up a long document resigning his claims in the property of Miss. Stinnecke. It disposes the total amount of her property, which is valued at $75,000, in the following

Six thousand dollars to the German Lutheran Church of Carlisle, Pa.; $30, 000 for the erection of a hospital within the borough of Carlisle for poor sick persons of Cumberland county and of the State of Pennsylvania. $25,000, the interest thereof endowed as salary for a resident physician of the hospital erected by the sum above mentioned; $14,000, the interest thereof to be expended for hospital purposes, according to the disposition of the board of managers of the said hospital, with the proviso that any surplus of the interest of these $13,000 which has not been used for hospital purposes be invested in defraying the expenses of the medical education of a young man of Cumberland county, of respectable family and good character, who shall receive the first practical rudiments of his medical education in the hospital above mentioned and through the resident physician of the said bospital.

As trustee and president of the board of managers, to whose name the deed of assignment is made for the nominal sum of $1, has been appointed J. J. Zitzen, M. D., of Carlisle, one of the most experienced and prominent surgeons and physicians of Cumberland county and vi-

Political Trouble in Indiana.

A despatch from Indianapolis, dated the 23d inst., says:

"Considerable excitement is caused here to-day by the resignation, this morning, of the 34 Republican members of the House, which prevents further legis-lation this session. The reason assigned is the attempt of the Democratic majority to pass a bill re-districting the State in violation of the constitution, which provides that the State shall not be redistricted oftener than every six years. The last re-districting was four years ago.

Lieutenant Governor Cumback expresses the opinion that it takes twothirds of all the members of each House to constitute a quorum, and will not recognize anything the remaining mem

The speaker of the House also gave the same opinion this morning, after receiving the Governor's message announcing the resignation of the Republican members of the House. Some of the Democratic members differ with the Speaker and advocate continuing legislation. The appropriation bills, tax bills, and most of the necessary legislation was disposed of before the Repub-lican members of the house resigned.— There is quite a commotion in political circles to-day, and a lively time is anticipated to-morrow. The constitutional limit of the session expires on the 6th day of March. There is not time to elect members to fill the places of those who have resigned.

Terrible Tornado.

Advice from Memphis give some par-ticulars of the terrible tornado which passed over a portion of the Memphis and Charleston railroad on Friday, demolishing churches and houses at the towns of Grand Junction, Pocahontas, and Somerville, and uprooting and tearing down trees for miles. At Helena, Arkansas, the wind blew a gale from 3 to 9 p. m., prostrating telegraph lines and feuces for miles; uprooting trees, earrying them high into the air; demolishing and razing to the ground dwellings churches, barns, ware houses, and stores, and doing immense damage.

The tin roof of a large warehouse on the bank of the river was carried into the air, and landed on the opposite side of the river, 200 yards from shore—distance fully a mile. One church was blown down, and two others badly injured. In all, 33 buildings, mostly dwellings, were destroyed. In one instance a one-story frame house was lifted from its foundation with its occupants and carried into the air, where it was turned completely over and hurled to the ground, bottom up, fully 100 yards from where it stood, killing one of its occupants, a man, and seriously wounding a woman and child. The chain cables of the wharf boat were snapped, and the boat carried down the river some distance and lauded on a bar.

A Hard Case.

The New Haven "Register" of the 20th inst., says:

"The scene presented at the City court this morning, was a lamentable one, and This shows an increase over the net upon to chronicle another like it. Braearnings of 1869 of $280,895 00. The zillia Banks, formerly of Harrisburg, New York, the directors report that an he was looked upon as one of the most years and much beauty. promising in his class, and thought by his learning and skill, become one of our most trusted and honorable physicians.-While here he fell into bad company, and spent what little allowance he had from his mother. He borrowed money of his mates to keep up his appearance, until he could do it no longer, and last week, to "raise the wind," applied to quite a number of our doctors in this city to whom he told a very plaintive story of his desire to reach Harrisburg, or something to that effect. He succeeded in raising about ten or fifteen dollars, and instead of going to Harrisburg, he found a faro bank, where he fought the a 'tiger,' until all his funds had vanished like smoke .-This come to the ears of some of those who had given him money, and this morning he was found guilty of obtaining money by false pretences, and the judge sentenced him to sixty days in the county jail, and fined him $25 and costs. It is a sad case, and we trust it will prove a warning to some two or three others similarly situated.

> Les Capt. Harris, of the schooner C. A. Johnson, arrived at New York two days ago with numerous dead wild ducks. The schooner was obliged to put into Hateras Inlet, and there she remained wind-bound with many other coasters .-The surface of the water was covered with myriads of wild ducks, whose discordant cries could be heard for a great distance. One day a wind arose, which moved with great velocity in a circular direction, but was confined to the inlet. The wild fowl were seized by it, their necks were twisted, and their legs and wings broken. Thousands in a dying condition were in a few minutes strewn on the water. As soon as the whirlwind had subsided bosts put out and the victims were secured. A steamer passing on belonging to the family jumped up and her way to New York sent out its boats took the cracker from her hand and ate and shared in the spoils.

Morals of New York.

The social ethics of New York life, are becoming sadly complicated. The Cross scandal has hardly died away before another, equally as bad, comes to surface. A beautiful and interesting young lady, one of the belles of society, goes with her parents to Saratoga. There she meets one of the professional fortune hunters, who frequent these places, and in the ardor of youth falls desperately in love with him. The parents oppose the match, but the girl is self-willed, and the lover unceasing in his attentions. The parents' consent is finally obtained, and the two married. Then the character of the man shows itself. Almost while the orange blossoms are on her brow, he de mands money of the young wife, and throughout long and weary years of persecution, he continues his demands upon her exchequer. At the end of the first year, a child is born to the unhappy couple, and the husband introduces to his wife a young lady of great beauty and accomplishments. The two become bosom friends, and the young lady stands as god-mother to the child. During all this time the persecutions of the husband have not ceased. He has, it is alleged, forged his wife's name to a check for $20,000 stolen her jewelry, and in every way imposed upon her. Wearied every way imposed upon her. at last with the wretched life she is leading, the wife fled to her parents for protection. She is taken to France placed in a convent for safety, and her mother returning to this country, to obtain a divorce for her unhappy child, learns with horror that the "friend" whom her daughter's husband had introduced into the family, was in reality his wife, and that the man had been guilty of bigamy.—N. Y. Eapress.

Damag es Against a Liquor Seller.

In Ohio, in the Guernsey County Court of Common Pleas, Mrs. Francis Watt*recently recovered $2,500 damages from one Boyd for selling her late hus-band intoxicating drinks. The husband was at one time a prominent physician and surgeon, and had represented his county in the Ohio Legislature. Falling into intemperate habits, he lost his practice. squandered his estate, and finally died from the effects of intoxication. widow brought suit, alleging that Boyd, the defendant continued during all the time to sell and deliver to her husband intoxicating liquor in quantities of from one pint to one quart, causing him to become an habitual drunkard and incapable of attending to any kind of business, and claimed $5,000 damages for which amount she asked judgment at the hands of the jury. After argument by able counsel on both sides, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing damages at $2,500.

1 R. C. Westbrook, who at various periods of his life performed the functions of Methodist minister coal dealer and editor, and lately of Sussex county., N J., some time ago separated from his wife both coming to the conclusion, after thirty years' of wedded life and rearing a family, that an incompatibility of temperament existed between them. make the separation valid, Mr. Westbrook repaired to Illinois and secured a divorce, but not before he consented to settle his Sussex farm upon the wife, toage distance traveled by each passenger was a little less than 35 miles. > Day On the night of the 21st inst. a freight train on the Pan Handle railroad, bound east, broke through bridge No. 39, 12 miles east of Steubenville, and the engine and 14 cars went down. The firemen, named Hess, was killed, and the engineer was slightly and one brakeman seriously injured. The train was loaded with horses, sheep, hogs, meat ete. Eight or ten of the horses were killed. It is supposed that the engine struck a stone that had rolled on the track from the embankment, which threw off the tender, and that the tender was thrown across the track on the bridge, eausing the other cars to leave the track.

> 163" A singular case-without, perhaps, a parallel in all respects-came up before an English probate court a few weeks since. A woman applied for let-ters of administration on the estate of her deceased husband, with whom she had lived 46 years. But she was met by a citation from another party, who claimed to have been the first wife of the deceased. This claim she was able to establish to the satisfaction of the court, which pronounced the second marriage. although undisputed for 46 years, illegal, and the children of it illegitimate.

Marshall Givens, proprietor of the hotel at Twentieth and Vine streets, has for some time been keeping strychnine in the house for the purpose of poisoning rats. On Saturday night he put some poison on a cracker and laid it on the floor near a large rat hole. It was not eaten by the rats, however, and on Sunday morning Mr. Given's little daughter found the cracker on the floor and was about to eat it when a playful little dog it, causing his death in a few moments.

BEF We see very many newspaper articles reflecting scriously upon the rail-road management of this country, and continually holding up the railroads of Great Britain as so much more free from accidents resulting in the loss of life, as compared with our roads. We think these charges are generally made without any knowledge of the facts. If a calenlation is made, taking into consideration the number of miles of road, and the number of passengers carried, it will be found that the loss of life in this country is but little if any larger than it is in Der A young man in Oswego, N. Y., who started to attend a masquerade party on Thursday, attired and accoutred as he supposes Satan usually is, unhappily entered the wrong house, to the consternation of the inmates. The old gentleman, father of the family, especially was greatly alarmed, and with a wild shrick, "Maria save the children!" he made his exit through the rear door, closely followed by Maria and all their little ones.

A little girl, having learned what a post morten examination was, declared that she would not consent to be so deali with after death. "What, not if it would be greatly to to the benefit of those who lived?" asked her mother. "No; how would I look going to heaven all cut to pieces?"

A St. Louis woman complained to the police on Monday last that another woman had won away the love of her husband by the use of a certain lovepowder, and that although she had tried the efficacy of the same powder thereby involving to herself an expense of $5 she had been unable to win it back again.

E On Wednesday morning last five men were found dead in the steamer Ismala at New York their Ideath being caused by burning charcoal in the steerage where they slept, and closing all ventilation. Two others were insensible when found, but were moved to the hospital and are recovering.
