Proceedings of Presbytery.—The Carlisle Presbytery met in the court house in this place, on Tuesday evening of last week at 7 o'clock. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Strong, of the Third street church, Harrisburg, from the text, 'What think ye of Christ? whose son is he?' The sermon was a clear, scriptural argument on the two-fold nature of the Saviour. The preacher quoted many passages wherein Christ is represented as inferior to the Father, and many on the other hand, declaring him equal with the Father. This seeming inconsistency was readily reconciled by the human and divine nature existing in the one person of Christ, the first passages referring to his human, and the last to his divine nature. The sermon was a very able and well delivered one, and was listened to by a large and attentive audience.

The Presbytery was called to order by the Moderator of the last meeting, Rev. Dr. Wing, of Carlisle. Dr. Erdine, of Newville, was then elected Moderator, and the regular business of Presbytery proceeded with. On Wednesday at 11 o'clock a. m., the Moderator, Dr. Erskine, preached from the text, 'Among whom ye shine as lights in the world; holding forth the word of life.'—Philippians II; 15, 16. The sermon was of great power, and by vote of Presbytery was requested for publication. It complied with by the doctor it will be published by the Presbyterian Board of Publication, Philadelphia, where it may then be obtained.

The sermon on Wednesday evening was preached as a trial sermon by the pastor elect of the Church at Waynesboro, Rev. M. Giddis, from the text, 'For if the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward, how shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?'—Hebrews II; 2, 3. The sermon was an excellent production, and would have done credit to any minister.

Most of the business of Presbytery would be uninteresting to the general public, and we therefore close this account of the proceedings without giving a detail of all the doings. On Wednesday afternoon the subject of temperance came up, and after considerable discussion the following resolution was passed by a nearly unanimous vote: Resolved, That those persons who, at a time like the present, engage habitually in the manufacture and sale of ardent spirits as a beverage, are guilty of an immorality which ought not to be tolerated in our communion and which should be proceeded against like any other 'offence' against the purity and peace of the Church.

The meeting closed on Thursday morning, and the members, about fifty in all, took their departure for their homes. The next stated meeting will be held in Gettysburg on the first Tuesday in October next. An adjourned meeting will be held in Shippenburg in June.

The Christian fellowship enjoyed by our citizens with the members during their short stay in our midst will long be remembered and their return will always be welcome.

Fire in Orrstown.—On Saturday night, about nine o'clock, the stable of Dr. Maxwell Kennedy, in Orrstown, Franklin county, was discovered to be on fire, and by the time the neighbors gathered, the building was wrapped in flames. The doctor's horse was rescued from the burning building, but not until he was well scorched by the heat and blinded by the smoke. A cow, a carriage, and a sleigh, together with a quantity of hay and oats were consumed. The stable was supposed to have been set on fire.

The stable of John Powders, immediately adjoining the above, and the stable of Jacob Zearfoss, adjoining Powders, caught fire and were burned to the ground. Everything moveable was taken out of both buildings, and their loss is not heavy.

Incendiarism seems to be manifesting its presence very unmistakably in Orrstown. The tannery of Mr. Daniel Keiffer in that place, has been set on fire two or three times, and a week ago the stable on the same lot was set on fire and burned. Vol-unteer.

Wall Paper.—A beautiful assortment of Wall Papers and Borders is now on hand and for sale by F. MORTIMER, & Co. Prices low.

Important to School Directors.—We copy the following from the late school law for the information of some of our school boards, that they may know what the law requires of them:—It shall be the duty of the board of directors to publish an annual statement of moneys received and expended and the amount due from collectors, and setting forth all the financial operations of the district, by one or more publications in one or more newspapers of the county in which they reside. If there is an amount of tax not collected, or any amount due to the district, it is to be stated as 'amount of—yet due,' at the foot of receipts, and so carried out; and if there is an amount of debt yet due by the district, it is to be stated as 'amount yet due for—' and so carried out at the foot of expenditures; in order, in both cases, to balance the account in accordance with the facts.—If there was a building tax and a house or houses erected during the year; the amount of the building tax, and of the portion of it expended in the year for this purpose, it is to be stated in the same way with the balance on hand, or the debt for this purpose, if under the proper heads 'Receipts,' and 'Expenditures for building' as in case of ordinary school tax and expenditure.

Decedents' Estates.—The Orphans Court of Philadelphia has recently decided that it is the duty of an executor or administrator to obtain searches against real estate sold by him. In default of taking out searches the executor or administrator may be held personally liable to a lien creditor for losses of his claims, even though an auditor has distributed the assets and the report has been confirmed by the Court. The executor, or administrator, it was held has constructive notice of record claims, and is bound to retain sufficient funds to meet them, or to bring them to the notice of the auditor. Searches against the real estate of the decedent should either be taken out by the auditor, or he should require them to be produced by the administrator.

A Singular Disappearance.—The Bloomsburg Republican of the 5th says that about four weeks ago a man called at the residence of Mr. John Pursel, of Lime Ridge, about midnight, and informed him that his brother, living near Millville, was at the point of death, and requested his immediate presence. He said that he could not go before morning. Early the next morning he set out for Millville, and found his brother in his usual state of health. He then went to Laporte, Sullivan county, to attend to some business, after which he returned to his brother's residence in order to return home, and since then he has not been heard from. Search has been made, but no trace up to the present has been found of him, and the most painful apprehensions are entertained from all the circumstances that he has been foully dealt.

Suicide.—The Huntingdon Journal says: On Friday evening, the 7th inst., between six and seven o'clock, the town of Huntingdon, Penn'a., was thrown into a high state of excitement by a report that John Schmeersman, the proprietor of a lager beer saloon, opposite the Morrison House, on the West corner of Alleghany and Third streets had committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart with a revolver. The facts of the case are these: Schmeersman had been drinking freely through the day and in the evening he procured a horse and buggy and drove out in the direction of Alexandria. A short distance beyond Smithfield, in full view of several persons, his horse pursuing a very moderate gait, he drew out a revolver and shot himself, the ball entering the heart.—An inquest was held eliciting the facts above stated. He leaves a wife and two small children. He appeared to be doing a brisk business.

A Foolish Man, at Landisville, Lancaster county, nearly lost $900 in government bonds by placing them in a window blind for safe keeping. He had previously cut off the coupons. A sale of a portion of his personal effects took place a few days since and this blind was one of the articles sold. The purchaser saw some papers wrapped up in the blind, and gave them to his children to cut up without ever looking at them. Fortunately it was discovered after a $50 bond had been mutilated. The owner, Jacob Kline, was notified, and with commendable liberality gave the finder 50 cents for his trouble.

Sad.—On Monday afternoon Mr. David Bentzel, residing about five miles from this borough, on the Bull Road, went to one of his fields to burn brush, by some means it is supposed his clothing took fire, and several of his grand children going to the field, soon returned to the house with the distressing intelligence 'grandfather is burning.' Before assistance could be rendered, he was burned to death. He was aged about sixty years.—York Daily.

Some Ladies suffer dreadfully with the headache and this causes their hair to fall. Nature's Hair Restorative is a sure remedy for the ache and will restore the color of bleached, gray, or faded hair. See advertisement.

Patent Right Swindle.—The following note is a copy of one now in use by the patent right swindlers. It will appear at first glance to be perfectly simple and no person willing to take an agency for any of the many patents would hesitate to sign it.

(Faint, illegible text, likely a scanned document or advertisement related to the patent swindle notice.)

Now having read it carefully, cut it in two between the words 'or' and 'bearer', in the first line, and Smith and Agent on the last line and the right hand piece is a perfect note for $275. This, the sharper will of course sell for the most he can get, and, as he generally selects some responsible farmer for his victim the note is easily sold and when due must be paid.

For The Bloomfield Times, DUNCANNON April 14, 1871.
Mr. Editor:—The 'Union Temperance' association of this borough met in the Lutheran church on Monday evening. The ministers of the different congregations are identified with the movement and no doubt some good will be accomplished. It is this organized body will do as much for our place as the present prohibitory law has, we think there will be precious little drinking. If, however the law is not executed what is the use of having any more law than we have? The only question with our people really is who will see that the law is respected. There is perhaps some poison sold here but most of it is purchased elsewhere we think. We will report more on this again. The side walks in our borough were much improved last season, but many remain still unfinished. A number of new buildings are appearing at different points in town. As soon as coal can be had the furnace will be put in blast. OBSERVER.

Rev. W. C. Stewart of the Union Presbyterian church of Colerain township, Lancaster county, Penn'a., has accepted a call tendered him some time since by the Presbyterian church of Shippenburg.
