LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OUR TERMS

Are One Dollar a Year in Advance

Recovered.—The Freeburg Courier says that John Schure, of Selmsgrove, lost a pocket book about two years ago, containing about 70 dollars in money and notes amounting to $100. Much to his surprise, he received a package from Millersburg, Dauphin Co., recently containing the lost amount of money and notes.

Seduction.—A man named Dr. Bowen was brought to this place and lodged in jail on the 4th inst., charged with seducing by promise of marriage, Miss Mitchell, daughter of Wm. M. Mitchell, of Marysville. The accused was arrested in Cleveland, Ohio, and brought here on a requisition from Gov. Geary. The arrest was made by an officer from Harrisburg.

A New Post Office.—A new office has been established at Auker's store to be called "Bucks Valley post office." The mail service is to be tri-weekly, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and the route to be from Newport to Montgomery's Ferry. Lewis Auker is appointed post master. The mail carrier is Philip Peters, and the service is to commence on the 1st of July.

A Large Rat.—A gentleman living in Bucks Valley, being troubled by rats around his hog pen, determined to rid himself of them. He accordingly watched his chance and seeing a very large one, drew a bead on it and fired. As the smoke cleared away, he found he had brought down game that weighed one hundred and fifty pounds, the only trouble was, that it was a nice hog instead of a rat.

Property Found.—The Independent (Mechanicsburg), says: "A little girl, while playing in a vacant lot in this borough, a few days ago, discovered a small cavity in the ground, which her curiosity prompted her to examine, and in the bottom she found quite a number of pieces of jewelry, consisting of bracelets, brooches, etc. She reported the matter to Captain Longsdorf, who, with the assistance of R. E. Shapley, investigated the case and found that the jewelry was a part of the goods stolen from the residence of Mr. Graham, on last 4th of July. The property was restored to the owner, but there is no clue to the thief.

Malignant Shooting.—On Monday of last week a youth named James Arnold, shot a valuable cow belonging to Jacob Casner, of Manyunk, because she got into his (Arnold's) mother's wheat field. The cow died from the wounds a few days afterward. As Arnold's fences were broken down, and the cow, therefore, could not help trespassing, there was no possible excuse for the boy's conduct. Mr. Casner accordingly had young Arnold and his mother both brought before Justice Elberty, who bound them over to answer at court. They had considerable difficulty in obtaining bail, and for a while the young man pondered painfully the prospect of going to jail. He knows by this time that shooting other people's cows, even upon one's own land, is not exactly either neighborly or lawful. Mr. C., we believe, has also brought a civil suit for the value of the cow, and will, of course, recover.—Lewistown Democrat.

Liquor on Election Days.—The following bill, having passed both houses and received the Governor's approval, has become a law: Sec. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That from and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any person in this Commonwealth whether licensed to sell liquor, or unlicensed, to buy, sell or give away to be used as a drink, any spirituous or malt liquors, wine or cider or any other substance containing alcohol on any part of any day set apart or to be set apart for any general or special election by the citizens in or within any of the precincts, wards, townships, counties or election divisions or districts in this Commonwealth.

Sec. 2. Any person violating the provisions of the first section of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to imprisonment in the proper jail of the county for a term of not less than 10 days, nor more than 100 days in the discretion of the court, and shall also in addition to the above, be subject to a fine of not less than $20 and not more than $500 in the discretion of the court.

The bill as above, was amended so that the provisions of the 1st sec., should not be enforced after the closing of the polls in the evening. Mr. Schuatterly is the name of the member who is entitled to the "honor?" of the addition of this provision.

Interesting to Druggists.—Gen. Alfred Pleasanton, the Internal Revenue Commissioner, has recently decided that the repeal of the special tax on apothecaries by section first of the act of Congress of July 14, 1870, renders them subject to just the same liability as any other person whatever, for the sale of distilled spirits, wine or liquors in any quantity, and without reference to the purposes for, or manner in which they are sold. The Commissioner decides that the act of July 14, 1870, abolishes the exemption heretofore provided for the apothecaries, under paragraph thirty-three, section seventy-nine, of the act of Congress of June 30, 1864. This paragraph, which, it is decided, has been repealed, provided that apothecaries who had taken out a license as such should not be required to take out a license as retail dealers in liquor in consequence of selling alcohol. Under this decision it would appear that apothecaries, after April 30th, must take out license as retail dealers in liquors.

Whose was it?—For about ten days past a suspicious-looking bundle has been observed in the sink of the outbuilding in the rear of the Court House, by persons who had occasion to go to that place; and yesterday morning, curiosity getting the better of a couple of gentlemen, they fished it out, and, to their horror, discovered a female child, of about four months growth, wrapped in an apron. The news of the finding of the child spread rapidly, and the citizens were justly indignant at the outrage committed by the unnatural parents. A Jury was summoned, a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts, and the remains of the child were properly disposed of by the borough authorities.—Middletown Post, of the 2d inst.

Report of Visitors to the Poorhouse.

We the undersigned visitors, appointed by order of court, to visit and report to the said court upon the condition and management of the House of Employment for the Poor of Perry County, beg leave to submit the following report: That in pursuance of the said appointment we visited and examined into the management of said poorhouse for the past year. We find that there is an apparent cleanliness in and about the house, but on close examination find that the beds are literally polluted with bed-bugs, and that the inmates suffer from that pest. The inmates appear to be kept under a very severe discipline, and are rather harshly treated for very trifling offences. The diet is, in some respects, not of as good quality as the expenses of the house might warrant, with the exception of the bread, which is good and well-baked, but the molasses is of the poorest quality, and seems to be the only spreading material used during the week. The coffee is of the domestic kind, except perhaps on Sabbath, and the working portion of the inmates have not sufficient victuals upon which to labor, and we think meat of some kind ought to be given at regular meals. We find that for some years past considerable extra pay has been allowed the steward, but we cannot see the necessity for this increase of expenses, when there is no corresponding improvement in the quality or quantity of the victuals dealt to the paupers; and in regard to the lime burning, the county pays for the coal, and the work is mostly done by the paupers and the county team. It appears that the directors of the poor have increased the salary of the steward $100 in contemplation of keeping the paupers in shanties during the building of the new poorhouse, but it is now decided that the old poorhouse remains until the new one is built. Therefore the cause for raising the salary has ceased, and the $100 ought not to be paid. We further report that the steward keeps by times more than one extra horse, and he ought to keep that at his own expense, and not by the county.

LOUIS ELLERMAN, H. COOPER, SAMUEL SPOTTS, Visiting Committee.

On the above report, the Court made the following endorsement:—

And now, May 1, 1871. The within report is approved and a copy is directed to be given to the directors of the poor by the clerk of the court—that this report be published in three newspapers published in Perry county, and that each of the visitors be paid ten dollars for their services during the past year by the county commissioners.

A Strange Cat.

The keeper of a beer saloon in New York, named Henry Ahrens, has the most singular specimen of cat ever seen.

Its head and shoulders are perfect, and it has two muscular fore legs. From the shoulders the cat tapers off in the shape of an elongated funnel, to the end of which is attached a fine tail constructed in the usual order of cat architecture. Its seals and coils were common visitors in Fulton county, this animal might be described as a triple cross of a seal, an eel, and a cat. Mr. Ahrens has been offered $250 for the cat, and his place has been visited by numerous medical men and many others anxious to see the curiosity; and as nearly all of the visitors call for a glass of beer before they go, the cat has been a source of revenue to Mr. Ahrens.
