The Times, New Bloomfield, Pa.

Tuesday, May 30, 1871. LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OUR TERMS Are One Dollar a Year in Advance

Act Passed .- The acts which had previously passed the House in regard to the schooldistrict in Madison twp., and the road tax in Rye twp, have finally passed the Senate.

Enlarged .- The Bloody Run Press comes to us enlarged and looking first rate. We are sorry however to see the patent outside has been adopted.

Concert At Landisburg .- On Thursday evening next the musical class which has been under the instruction of Prof. C. H. Jones, will give a musical entertainment at the Presbyterian church in Landisburg. Choruses will be sung by the entire class of 70 voices ; Quartetts, glees and Duets, will be sung by members of the class, and several laughable pieces will be sung by the director, Mr. Jones. Admission only 15 cents.

Boring For Coal by Mr. Geo. W. Sheibly has been progressing during the past week. On Monday last the derrick was put up and the shaft sunk 25 feet, Tuesday it was sunk 27 feet more, the third day 22 feet, the fourth day 20 feet, and the fifth day 10 feet. He has now struck a small vein of coal, but not one large enough to pay for working. The boring will be continued to see if a large one will not be found. We have a specimen of the coal found, in our office and the quality appears good.

Be Sure And-Get It .- We think we do our readers a favor by calling their attention to the advertisement of J. B. Ford & Co. They are just issuing a volume, which comprises choice selections from all the best Poets, making a book that is a complete library in itself. This book is well named, as it is entitled "THE LIBRARY OF POETRY AND SONG." It is a work which has long been needed and we doubt not will meet a ready sale. For further particulars see their advertisement in another column.

Hanging Pictures .- It would be well to examine the cord by which pictures are hung, especially if the pictures are large and the frames heavy, as several instances have come to our knowledge where pictures have fallen after they have been hanging a long time. The large cords by which they hung, although much stronger than required, have pulled apart or suddenly given away, and the paintings were seriously injured and the frames broken. The cords may have rotted or moths eaten them until they were too weak to sustain the weight they had to support. A good manner of hanging pictures is with wire concealed under the cord, or hauging the pict-

Was it Suicide !-- On Monday night the 8th inst., Dr. A. F. Stayman, of Carlisle, stopped over night at the Ward House, Tyrone and went to Clearfield on Tuesday, where he had relatives. He returned to the Ward House on Friday night, stating that he was sick ; had baggage checked to Newport, Pa., and on retiring at 9 p. m., requested to be called in time for the 8 a. m. train next day. At about 20 minutes of 8, the porter called him, but receiving no response to the call, reported the same, and Stayman was found dead in bed, his body still warm. On examination it was found opium and chloroform had been used. The coroner's inquest was to the effect that his death was accidental, he having, it is believed, taken chloroform to alleviate pain. His brother, a Professor in Dickinson College, was telegraphed for, and arrived here on Saturday, he having the body sent to Baltimore for interment. The deceased was addicted to opium cating, but there was no evidence adduced to justify the belief that suicide was intended .- Tyrone Herald.

Fatal Accident.- The Lancaster Intelligencer says : A sad accident, resulting in the instantaneous death of Abraham J. Will, occurred yesterday forenoon about 9 o'clock, in Peaquea township, near Dauville. He was in the employ of Mr. C. M. Herr, and engaged in hauling stones for the Lancaster and New Danville turnpike, and while going down a small hill something connected with the rubber lock of the wagon broke, precipitating the wagon suddenly forward, causing the horses to run. It is supposed that in trying to stop the horses he was caught between the saddle horse and a fence post which leaned toward the road. The lower part of the breast-bone was crushed in, and he was injured about the region of the heart. A woman, near whose house the accident happened, saw it and gave the alarm, but when he was reached life was extinct. He was about 17 years old, a son of Mr. Henry Will, residing on the farm of Jacob Hess

Left his Home .- E. Holmes Agnew left his home near Newville, Pa., on the last day of April, since which time no information has been received concerning him. He is 17 years old, of rather slim build, light hair, face freekled, and a hardly percepticle obliquity of vision. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be thankfully received and rewarded by A. Agnew, Newville, Pa.

N. B. If this advertisement is noticed by E. Holmes Agnew, he will please write to his brother, Dr. John P. Agnew, Taylorsville, Pa., and thus relieve the anxiety of his parents. Exchanges please copy.

Willow Growing .- John M'Farland, of Northumberland, a few years ago, planted a wet piece of ground, in the neighborhood of that place, with French willows, for basket making, which he obtained near Baltimore. They have succeeded so well that he extended the planting this spring, and expects to get a profitable return from ground that would otherwise have been comparatively unproductive.

Accident .-- A curious accident happened in Lebanop, last Thursday evening. One lady was visiting another, and was in her chamber on the second floor. When the visitor was departing, the other accompanied her to the head of the stairs. The visitor was just commencing her decent, when the other one fell forward and both were precipitated to the floor beneath. Both

For The Bloomfield Times. The Cash System.

Mr. Editor-Having read the two com-munications lately published in the Times, from your correspondent "Cash," in rela-tion to a "Loan Association," and observ-ing that he is willing to receive suggestions entirely new, or a modification of the plan prepared in his articles, I have concluplan prepared in his articles, I have conclu-ded to give my opinion regarding this en-terprise. If "Cash" is in favor of the cash system, as his signature indicates, I would ask what does he want with a loau association. I am in for the cash system, and think if it was rightly carried out there would be very little use for an association of this kind. I believe there is too much leaning does already. Dr. Franklin has loaning done already. Dr. Franklin has said that "The second vice was lying, and first was running in debt. This wise man has also told us that it was better to go to bed without supper than to rise in debt. The real necessities of the body are very few; neither farmers, mechanics, nor any person need run in debt. Every person might make it a rule to pay cash as there are for all they fourthers have both the they go, for all they must have in this life. Every person should first earn enough by working for others to fit them for an inde-pendent business. If the association con-templated by "Cash" should be started, and is not carried on by good, honest men, it will only degenerate into a "shaving shop." CASH DOWN.

For the Bloomfield Times.

The Poorhouse Report. MR. EDITOR :- We have been somewhat surprised by a communication in your last paper, over the signature of I. B. Trostle, Steward of the Poor House, in which he denics in toto, all the facts set forth in the late Report of the vis-tors. In making that report, we had no pur-pose in view, but to give the facts as they came to us and as we found them by personal evanupose in view, but to give the initial as subject to to us, und as we found them by personal exam-ination. We had no spite or unkind feelings to gratify ; nor do we entertain any other than the most friendly disposition towards the Institu-tion, as well as the Stoward. Notwithstanding we consider ourselves bound, as visitors, to re-port upon the condition and management of the poor House without four favor and give the port upon the condition and management of the Poor House, without fear or favor, and give the facts as given to us; and as we found them.— As regards dicipline, we have reason to believe that the wagon-whip, or some such instrument has been used, on females, or a female. That the paupers, from some cause or other, perhaps from threats or fear of harsh treatment, are afraid to tell any thing with regard to their usage, treatment, or anything else that trans-pires about the premises. Hence the inquiry, where we got our information, "Was it from some renegade pauper ?" The steward ought to know that we are not bound, nor would we think it prudent, to tell him or any other person, where we got our information. As to the everwhere we got our information. As to the over-lasting bed-bugs, we had ocular demonstration of that fact, and on examination we were justiof that fact, and on examination we were justi-fied fully in reporting as we did on that matter, as well as on the matter of diet—the steward's denial to the contrary, notwithstanding. The horses spoken of in the report, and which the steward says, do work for the farm, while the farm horses are used for hauling for the new Poor House, were kept there before there was any move made toward building a new Poor House. What did he do then, or who kept them t He also states that he gives the older them ! He also states that he gives the older delicate pappers butter; that may be so, but there may not be one there who comes under that description in his estimation. As to the friends of one of the visitors from the West, gotting a dinner at the Poor House, this is a mean insinuation, when compared with the bost of friends from the Western end of this county who so frequently enjoy the hospitality of the Poor House at the expense of the county. The person alluded to was a lady from the West, and an acqualitance of the steward's wife, who made a friendly call on the stew-ardess, not thinking that her visit would create such a profound sonsation as is expressed by while, who made a friendly call on the prev-ardess, not thinking that her visit would create such a profound sensation as is expressed by the dignified occupant of the Poor House. We were often strictly watched and followed by the steward to prevent us from obtaining infor-mation, and even a little girl was, on one acca-sion employed in that service. We will not follow the steward in his weak and ungener-ous communication any further, but will here state that every part of our report, so strictly denied, is susceptible of proof, and can be ful-ly established. We are fully of the opinion that the steward had no right to meddle in the report of visitors. If any thing was wrong, the directors would be the proper persons to at-tend to it, so that the steward's attempted de-fence is a mere subterfuge, and the less said by him the better. We do not intend to continue the controversy any further, nor will we nollee any thing more from that functionary. If he is wronged, he has a legal remedy i let him pur-sue it. State Forts, SAMUEL EPOTTS, Somnambulism .- On Thursday night last, about 2 o'clock, Mr. Benjamin Stout foreman of the Pine Grove Iron Works, walked out of a window on the second story of the "Union House, in this place Louis Zitzer, proprietor. The following are the facts of the case as related to us : Mr. S. had been dreaming of walking in a flower garden, and while so doing, got up in his sleep, removed a number of flower pots that were standing on the window, and walked or rather fell out ; falling a distance of at least 20 feet, landing at the bottom of a flight of stairs leading into the basement, and damaging the balustrade in his descent.

Upon striking the pavement he was thoroughly aroused, and cried for help, when Mr. Zitzer went to his assistance, and after considerable difficulty, (Mr. Stout being a man of large proportions, weighing fully 200 pounds,) succeeded in carrying him to his room powerless, and very nervous from the effects of the fall. Mr. Zitzer furnished him with stimulants, which served to case his sufferings, so that he fell asleep and rested well until about 5 o'clock a. m. - Carlisle Herald.

A Serious Charge .- The Carlisle Volunteer says : that a man named John Keihl, who resided near Shippensburg has been arrested and held on the charge of causing his wifes death by poison. She was taken ill on the 29th of April and died on the 19th inst. After the burial suspicions were so strong against the accused, that the body was raised and a coroners jury was summoned a post mortem examination of the remains was had. CHRONIC INFLAMATION OF THE MIDDLE EAR Children of the AMATION OF THE MIDDLE EAR SUCCESSFULLY THRATED by D. H. SWEINSEY, M. D., OF NEW BLOOMFIELD, PA.—The Rev. J. W. Bowen, of the Freeville Baptist Church, now of Scottsville, Wyoming county, Pa., had been suffering with chronic influmnation of the middle car for five years. In the treatment of his case, we used the enstachian catheter. By its aid we were enabled to act directly on the inner surface of the custachian tube, breaking up adhesion between the walls of the cavity, iner surface of the contact in act, breaking np adhesion between the walls of the cavity, making mechanical pressure upon the mem-brana tympani, counteracting rigidity; we ap-plied medicine diractly to the mucous mem-branes to remove accumulation obstructing the massages and to allay irritation. We had no branes to remove accumulation obstructing the passages, and to allay irritation. We had no fears introducing medicines over the nasal and pharingial passages to the immediate scat of the disease; we could conceive of no injury that could follow this mode of treatment, we are aware that it is different from the usual mode. At all events, this, with constitutional treatment had the desired effect. We refer to the Reverend gentleman for the trath of the statement.

THE MONTHLY NOVELETTE FOR JUNE.— The June number of the Monthly Novelette is issued, and embraces such a 'rare list of con-tents that we do not wonder at its growing pop-ularity. M.
