NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENN'A.

Tuesday, July 11, 1871.

Important Notice.

With the commencement of the present volume it was our intention to advance our subscription price; but as we desired to furhish our paper at the lowest possible rate, so as to bring it within the reach of all, we determined to try the experiment after the enlargement, and see if we could still keep our terms at $1.00 per year.

After a trial of six months, we find that justice to ourselves connels us to add more advertising and decrease the reading matter, or make a small increase in our subscription terms. We have consulted with with many of our subscribers, and the unanimous wish seems to be that we should keep our reading columns up to the present standard, and make such increase in price as will enable us se to do.

We shall, therefore, after the 5th of August put our subscription price to which is enly an advance of half a cent. per week. All those whose subscription is not yet out, will, of course, continue to receive THE TIMES without any increased charge for such time as they have paid, and all who subscribe or renew previous to the date when the obenge in price takes place. can have the advantage of the present low

To all, however, who renew or subscribe for THE BLOOMFISHD TIMES after August 5th, the turns will be ONE DOLLAR AND TWENTY PEYE CENTS PER YEAR.

A Liberal Donation.

On the 1st inst., E. D. Saunders, D. D., gave One Hundred Thousand Dellars as a fund for the establishment of a Hospital, to be controlled by the Presbyterians, but the benefits of the institution are to be shared by all suffering humanity, regardless of weed or color. It is to be called "The Saunders Hospital," and will be located at Philadelphia. It is a worthy exterprise and a liberal gift.

President Judge.

County does not put forward some candi- in large quantities has been found. for President Judge. This county certainly has more claim to the honor than Cumberland, as that county has had the office ever since this Judicial District was formed. Et cannot be from lack of legal ability, for we believe there is no county in the State, (emless it is some of the very large ones) that has among its citizens, so many able lawyers, and we think there are several gentlemen in our korough who would not only make as strong a candidate, but if elected, would do as much honor to the office, as may yet azominated by either political party.

Revenue Frands.

Within the past sixty days the United States authorities have been going heavily for those large mercantile firms in N. Y., whom they have mason to suspect of defrauding the revesse. In that time several firms have had their stocks seized being charged with fraudalent invoices and false retums; one firm has compromised by paying $22,000. The largest ecizure of all was made on the 29th ult., W. H. Westervelt ix Co., 1 uit dealers, 23 Pearl street, were captured for $250,000. Their case has not yet got into the United States District Attorney's office, but the Custom House authorities have possession of their books. papers, &c. The raid is still in progress.

Lasr week Mrs. Stock of Cleveland. Ohio, was burned to death, by her clothing taking fire from the explosion of a lamp, the explosion being caused by her blowing down the chimney to extinguish it. This is a very common manner of putting out a light and a very dangerous one, as the biaze is by this means forced into the lamp. The only safe way to extinguish a coal oil light, is to blow a quick puff across the top of the chimney, placing the month a trifle below the top, so that the wind passes upwards, instead of downwards. This will extinguish it without leaving any smell and with perfeet safety, and is far preferable to turning down the wick.

Singular Atmospheric Phenomenon.

Only brief reference has been made to what was termed a tornado in Ulster county, near Centreville, New York, on Wednesday. It was, however, almost an exact counterpart of the Illinois cyclone, but did not do so much damage, solely because it passed over an uncultivated country. An eye witness describes the phenomenon as follows:

I saw the cloud coming from the mountain. It looked like a funnel turned upside down. Then I heard a terrific roaring sound, as from a rushing torrent; next, limbs of trees and rails were whirled into the air, and fences were prostrated. The cloud sometimes looked inky black, then sed, then bright, and heavy explosions follewed. Then it seemed as if the noise came from the crackling flames.

The cloud moved toward us close to the earth. It rolled over and over like a ball. We were all greatly frightened by such an unusual sight, and all the members of the household left for an open lot. David Sanford threw himself on the ground and grasped a berry stake. The cloud passed the house, and, striking the hay-press, demolished it in an instant, and, passing on, hit the barn and moved it two feet from its foundation. As the hay-press fell, flying timbers struck Mr. Sanford in the head, rendering him unconscious and injuring him badly. He is now slowly recovering. He says when the wind first struck him he was partially lifted from the ground, and would have been earried away if it had not been for the berry stake. Some boys who were swimming in the brook heard the roar, and hastening out of the water, threw themselves on the ground, and were only saved by grasping saplings. The track of the ternado was about 106 feet in width and two miles in length.

Strange to say, in the wake of the cyclone there was scarcely any rain, but half a mile from it, on either side, the rain fell in torrents. The ball of cloud appears to have rolled from the mountain top down through the valley, and then, after bowling along the ground for two miles, shot upward and disappeared. About $1,000 will cover the damage.

A Heartless Woman.

Mrs. Lydia Sherman was arrested at New Brunswick recently by officers from Connecticut, who charged her with having poisoned at different times, three husbands and two step children, the offspring of her last husband by a former marriage.

This woman married a Jerseyman nearly ten years ago, and after having lived with him three years he died suddenly, and under circumstances which occasioned considerable comment. The second husband was married in Connecticut, and died under equally suspicious - circumstances, but as nothing was there known of the former mystery no action was taken. Early in 1870, at Derby, Coun., the woman married Neilson II. Sherman, a wislower with two children, one six and the other fifteen years old. Within nine months these three died all under the same unaccountable circumstances. On being charged with the crimes she manifested surprise, either real or very well assumed. She gave no appearance of guilt, and beyond the simple surprise and the assertion of her innocence did not seem to be at all affected.

A Eight for a Farm near Yonkers.

For the past seven years a fierce war has been waged in the courts over the ownership of a valuable farm of seventy acres near Yorkers. The fight has reached a stage of unusual bitterness and threatens to end in bloodshed. A late degree of Justice Tappen of the Circuit Court at White Plains sustained the decision of the Court of Appeals confirming the title of Geo. B. Skinner, the plaintiff, and giving him $4,-739 for the use of the farmsince 1865. Last Monday the Sheriff dispossessed Hugh R. Quinn and Jane Quinn, his wife, the defendants, and put Skinner in possession. Then the Quinns attempted to regain possession, but were arrested, Mr. Skinner failing to press the charge before Justice Shannon, the Quinns were discharged. On Friday the Quinns again attempted to get pessession of the property, and were a second time arrested and committed to the county jail. Before going to prison the Quians obtained a warrant against Capt. Mangin for assault and battery. A large in tones that were heard by all the congrebody of armed police are stationed on the farm in anticipation of an attack by the Quinn faction.

Mont Cenis Tunnel Caves In. Dispatches received state that the More Cenis townel, probably the greatest engineering work of the age, has been proved a partial failure. A large portion of the roof has faffen in, and many of the workmen are buried in the mass of rock and earth which now obstructs the progress of the work, which was rapidly approaching completion.

Seven corpses have been recovered, but it is known that a large number yet remain among the debris. A large force of men are employed to remove obstructions caused by the accident.

Engineers are apprehensive that similar breaks in the roof may occur in other points, and supports of immense strength and dimensions are being prepared to guard against any such contingency.

A Shaker Elopement.

A Pittsfield paper gives some interesting facts regarding the late Shaker elopement, and the return of the parties the next day. A minister accompanied Lawson and Miss Van Valen to Albany, and there married them.

While the marriage ceremony was proceeding, or immediately after it was finished, Ira was conscience stricken, as he says. The marriage could not be undone, but it could remain unconsummated, and so he determined it should be. He announced to his wife his resolve to go back to the fold he had left; to express his penitence, seek forgiveness, and at last become a humble member of the family he had deserted, if his sin was so great that he could not be restored to the prominence he had been honored with.

Mrs. Lawson did not readily agree to this. Having gone thus far it would be absurd to return, and she emphatically objected to so doing. But Ira, now that his head was level again, saw too clearly his error, and he insisted upon going home in as good repair as when he left. His arguments prevailed, and she consented, unwillingly though, to return with him, and so ended the honey-moon.

22" During a recent speech by Henry Clay Dean, at Corydon, Iowa, in the interest of a new railroad, two men on horseback rode up in front of the National Bank dismounted entered the institution, and finding no one in except an officer of the bank, presented revolvers at his head and demanded the money on hand. Realizing that he was completely at their merey, the officer surrendered some $7,000, when the villians left. After quitting the bank they rode to the meeting, which was in the open air, and called out that the bank had been robbed, adding that they had plenty of money. With a cheer for Wilkes Booth, they then stuck spurs to their horses, and galloped out of town before the crowd had fairly realized what had taken place, A party soon started in pursuit, and after riding a short distance came within hailing distance of the robbers, who waved deflance and darted off with increased speed.

About a year ago a valuable mare, owned by N. H. Tyrell of Perth Amboy, was taken sick. The surgeon in charge removed from her body a round stone weighing 15% ounces, and the mare recovered. A few days ago she died, and at the post mortem another and larger stone was removed. The mare showed all the symptoms of the malady prevalent in New York.

So prevalent has this disease become among the omnibus and railroad horses in New York that last week several of the roads were obliged to take off a portion of their cars, as they could not get horses enough to draw them. Two of the roads have already lost over one hundred valuable animals and the disease is still spreading.

13 A lad named Dickinson suddenly disappeared from his home in Somerville, Mass. Two days after, he returned in an exhausted condition. He stated that after indulging in vigorous play with other boys, he, with his body heated, had gone into the water to bathe; the next day he went to school, feeling ill, and studied hard; in the afternoon he took a walk, and remembers nothing more until he found himself in Manchester, N. H.; when his senses returned he started homeward, and walked all the way. His shoes and stockings were worn out. He is now in a serious condition from fatigue and fever. The danger of bathing while overheated is very great.

During the last five months Herman Greenbaum & Company, wholesale clothing manufactures in New York have missed about $5,000 worth of cloth. Mr. Greenbaum informed Cap. Cherry of his losses, and Detective McDonald, stationing himself at the door of the factory as the men passed out, searched each of them. Leonard Port, a cutter, had some cloth wound around his body next to his skin. He confessed that he was the thief. More property was found at his residence, 142 East Third street.

13" Richard Flynn, a bar-tender residing in New York recently went on a bender. and by night he was so drunk that he mistook the church of the Rev. Dr. Beach, on West Twentieth street, for a liquor saloon. He staggered up the aisle to the pulpit and slapping his hand on the railing, exclaimed gation, "I say, loss, give us a drink of gin and bitters." Officer Gick was called in to eject the intruder, when Flynn expressed a willingness to go if, as he remarked, the officer would only wait until he had shut the crib.

13 An agent for a large insurance company in New York called some time since on a gentleman with the hope of insuring his life. On asking whether the gentleman was not desirous of taking out a life policy, he was met with the reply, that if the company could insure him in the future state, he was perfectly willing. This seemed to be a poser, but the agent promptly replied that he was sorry to say his company was prevented by its charter from issning any fire risks.

Another Canal Bottom Drops Out.

A singular accident happened to the Wyoming Canal, near Wilkesbarre, on Tuesday last. At a point where the Canal passes over a coal mine, the bottom fell in leaving a hole the width of the canal and about two hundred feet long. In a few moments the water on that level, which is about two miles long, had run into the mine, which fortunately is a deserted one. From this mine there are, however, galleries connecting with others and they are consequently also filled with water. Had it not been a holiday and the men absent from work, the loss of life must have been

At Buffalo, N. Y., on the 4th inst., John W. Daverick, treasurer of the Wadsworth Iron Works, and during the war Lieutenant Colonel of the 21st New York regiment, while walking the streets with his wife was accidentally shot and killed by Mr. Emory, sexton of the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. Daverick becoming deranged by the sudden shock. Emory had been firing a pistol in the street the entire TEF A terrible accident happened to the train which left Nashville, on the evening of the 3d inst. While crossing the Harpeth river about 18 miles from the city, three of the passenger cars fell through the bridge into the river, killing twenty persons and wounding twenty-six others, some quite seriously. The accident was caused by the weakness of the bridge.

On Monday forenoon of last week a party of five started from East Boston for a trip down the harbor. While off Apple island a sudden squall capsized the boat, and the occupants were thrown in to the water. Three of the party managed to keep AGENTS WANTED for the witty brilliant book afloat until assistance was rendered, but George David and William Hoodring, aged twenty, neither being swimmers, were drowned.

ET"A French Canadian, a guest at a Montreal hotel, was greatly alarmed when the proprietor told him that if he had any money he would do well to have it put in the safe. He felt convinced that the intention was to rob and perhaps murder him and at night, hearing somebody talking in an adjoining room, he jumped out of his window to the ground, a distance of forty feet. Fortunately he was not much injured.
