An Illinois farmer has one hundred acres set out with onions. The largest thing about a lady's bonnet is its price. An Oceola county correspondent of the Iowa Sioux City Journal says there is not a tree in the county. The Laporte, Ind., Argus says: Nearly all the cornfields between this city and Indianapolis, on the line of the I. B. & C. Railroad, show the effects of the frost on the 5th inst. A Springfield, Mass., man was going home one night, when he was assailed by a couple of rowdies, who asked him if he had any money. "Yes, lots of it," said he, and at once knocked them down, and gave each a good beating. A Wisconsin boy wanted some fun with a calf in a pasture, and he had it. He tied a rope around the calf's neck, and then around his waist, and then the fun began. The rope was removed from the boy's waist before the funeral took place. Mr. Pinchback, a colored State Senator of Louisiana, has sued the Jackson railroad company for $25,000 damages, because the officer of that company refused him a passage in a sleeping car of their line. Seven persons lost their lives on Saturday a week in a railroad collision near Newark N. J. The accident was caused by two trains trying to pass each other on the same track, through the carelessness of a switch tender. Quite a number were also injured. On Saturday morning a week a grain barrack on the farm of Dr. Jacob Shanberger, in Baltimore county, about two miles east of Beckleysville, was struck by lightning, and, with its contents—about 600 dozen sheaves of wheat, totally destroyed. The loss is supposed to be $600 or $800. A child was born at Manchester, Vt., a few days ago, which weighed only twenty-four ounces, but was perfectly formed, and hopes are entertained of its living.—Its face can almost be covered by an old-fashioned cent, and a lady's finger ring can be slipped on the arm. One hundred men passed through McGregor, Iowa, recently in route to a mountain of gold, professed to have been discovered some years ago by a man named C. A. Robson, while on his way home from California. Each man had paid Robson $300 in consideration of his piloting the company to the new Eldorado. Hon. Daniel J. Morrell was thrown from his carriage on the 7th inst., about three miles from Johnstown, and very seriously injured—his skull being fractured and his back very seriously sprained. His physicians entertain strong hopes of his recovery, and at last accounts he was in a comfortable condition. On Monday last week an unknown man laid his head on the track of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Thirty-fifth street. A whole train of cars passed over him, severing the head from the body. Before he was killed he had written in the sand near where his body was found, the following: "James Davis, born 1836; without friends; destitute and tired of living. The young son of a prominent Indianapolis banker was sent to the clearing-house, just before noon the other day, with $13,000 in checks. He forgot all about his errand and on his way home lost the bundle. Fortunately about $7,000 of them was found by the messenger of another bank, but the remaining $5,000 had gone. By stopping payment loss was prevented, but that young man's memory has improved. Near Shabbona Grove, De Kalb co., Ill., on the evening of the 3d inst., Miss Joanna McCormick, aged 17, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. McCormick, a wealthy farmer's widow, was shot dead while sitting at the supper table. John Reed, a farm hand, had invited her to accompany him to a Fourth-of-July celebration, and on her refusal he went to a neighbor's and borrowed a double barreled shot-gun. With this he shot the girl through the window, killing her instantly. He then fled. Anna Brown, the notorious snake woman, who has been puzzling the doctors for years, has at last turned out to be a fraud. She has lately been at the Wayne county, N. Y., infirmary, and the physician, seeing the snake's head protrude from her mouth, seized her by the throat to prevent swallowing, and made her disgorge the reptile, which proved to be nothing more or less than a piece of black india-rubber, that she had been accustomed to slip down her throat. Recently, Mr. Curtis, of Stratford, Conn., went to his barn, and seeing something dark in the hay, which he supposed to be a skunk, took a pitchfork and cautiously approached the object, and placing the fork within a few feet of it was just in the act of sending it home with a vengeance when he thought he saw a man's ear, and on a closer inspection he found it really did belong to a man who had got into the barn unknown to any one to enjoy a snooze.
