LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

OUR TERMS

Are One Dollar a Year in Advance

Capt. Samuel Rice is now before the public with a large assortment of grapevines and strawberry plants...

For President Judge.—The Juniata Sentinel suggests the nomination of Hon. B. F. Junkin. A Communication in another column also presents the name of CHAS. A. BARNETT, Esq.

Stage to Camp.—A stage will be run by S. K. Sanderson, from Bloomfield to the camp near Ellittsburg; leaving Robinson's hotel on Saturday evening, and Sunday morning and evening.

False Pretense.—David Etter was arrested in Newport last Tuesday by the sheriff of Clinton county on the charge of obtaining money by false pretense. The difficulty originated in the purchase of a hotel.

Sunday School Convention.—The suggestion that a county Sunday School convention be held has excited considerable interest. Further communications on that subject will appear in our columns next week.

Bitten by a Snake.—A few days since a valuable colt belonging to S. Green, near Duncannon was bitten by a snake while in pasture, and died next day, from the effects of the bite.

Killed.—A man named Francis Adams, was killed by a blast in the Bear Valley tunnel on Tuesday last. The deceased resided near Liverpool where he had a wife and family. His body was taken to his home by his brother.

Anonymous Communications are not published. "Tax Payer" will now understand why his letter is not inserted. Persons may use any signature they like, but the real name of the writer must accompany the communication.

Shot.—On Friday last, a boy named Griffith, living near Fairview, was shot and badly injured while picking up apples in an orchard. The gun was fired by another boy to scare him away from the premises. Our correspondent did not learn the name of the shooter, or whether he had been arrested.

A Crash.—On Sunday a week a large chandelier at the Methodist church at Millersburg, fell, and was broken to pieces.—The accident happened about 6 o'clock, when, fortunately, no persons were present, for had it fallen when the lights were burning, and the audience assembled, the result would have been terrific.

Moved.—The old and well known Wood Ware house of Graybill & Co., have at last moved from North Third St., to No. 420 Market Street, just above 4th. This change will be very acceptable to merchants of our county, as their present location is much more accessible. The new store is also much more roomy so that a better line of goods can be kept and the stock can be displayed to better advantage. Remember the new location is No. 420 Market Street.

Hail Storms.—On Thursday last, portions of Spring, Carroll, and Wheatfield townships were visited with a most terrible hail storm. In some places lumps of ice fell that were as large as a guinea hen egg, and hail stones as large as walnuts were quite plenty. Corn and fruit was badly damaged.

On Friday afternoon, another hail storm passed over the county, but did little damage, as the hail stones were small.

A Remarkable Dog.—Patrick Farrell, residing in Derry township, this county, is the owner of a poodle dog remarkable for having hatched a brood of nine ducks this year. The dog kept close watch over the nest, sitting on the eggs with the faithfulness of a maternal fowl, until the birth of the ducklings. The same wonderful taste was displayed last year by the dog, in hatching a flock of about a dozen chickens from a nest of eggs.—Har. State Journal.

Horse Stolen.—On Sunday night last, a black horse valued at $175, a top spring wagon, and a set of good harness were stolen from the premises of Amos Miller, in Middlesex township, about three miles east of this place. The horse was about 6 years of age, while the wagon was nearly new. A reward of $50 is offered for the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves, and recovery of the stolen property. Any further information can be obtained by addressing Mr. John H. Strickler, Carlisle, Pa.—Carlisle Herald.

Another Barn Struck.—During the shower on Friday afternoon last, the barn of Wm. Bruner, in Centre township, was struck by lightning. The shock passed down the lightning rod until near the ground, where some raspberry bushes lay against the rod, causing a part of the electric fluid, to leave the rod and enter an open window close by, setting fire to some straw which had been thrown into the stable.—Mr. Bruner and some of his hands who were at the brick-yard near by, saw the stroke, and at once hastened to the barn, and by great exertion, with other assistance which was soon there, succeeded in extinguishing the fire, though to do so, a large quantity of wheat and hay had to be removed. While removing this, plenty of water was poured down through the straw, and the ventilation was shut off at the bottom by crowding wet straw into the hole where the fire was making its way upwards. It would seem almost miraculous that during the half an hour which elapsed before the bottom of the mow could be reached, in order to get at the fire, it did not get under such headway that to extinguish it would have been impossible. At the time the barn was struck, several persons were in it, but the only effect of the shock on them was to produce a pricking sensation. The loss was perhaps forty or fifty dollars.

Duncannon Items.—Our correspondent from Duncannon sends the following:

A road leading from Cherry street to the old Clark's Ferry road, was reviewed on Friday last, but will not be opened.

A Base-Ball Club was organized on Thursday evening and will play their first game this (Saturday) afternoon.

The United Brethren Congregation and Sabbath School, accompanied by all who choose to accept invitations left at 9 o'clock this morning for Shelby's Woods, to have a Basket Pic-Nic.

Thursday and Friday heavy thunderstorms, accompanied by wind rain and hail, passed over this place and vicinity, doing considerable damage to the corn, fruit &c.

The child that has been missing from Allenscove, is said to have been taken to its father, some where in the coal region, by two men employed by him, for that purpose.

The difficulties between the Pudlers, and the Iron Co., have been settled; better iron having been furnished the Pudlers, they have withdrawn their notice.

Fast line going east in the morning, passes through here with a crash like that of a falling tree, looks like a misty shadow, and disappears in a second leaving nothing but a cloud of smoke and dust to mark its course; it makes one shudder to see it pass the numerous switches trestle works, and crooked track at such frightful speed.

Serious Accident.—The Dauphin Register says: Mr. Jacob Earhart of Lykens, met with a severe accident on Saturday evening last, shortly before dark. He was assisting a neighbor, Mr. James Fegley, to raise a stable, and was on the frame adjusting one of the timbers, when he lost his balance and fell to the ground, the timber following and striking his leg, breaking it just above the ankle. He was removed to his residence and Dr. H. K. Myers was immediately called, who set the broken limb and ministered to the relief of the sufferer. His pain was intense for some time, but he is now doing as well as could be expected. Mr. Earhart is about fifty-five years old.

For The Bloomfield Times. President Judge.

Mr. Editor—There is, as you say in The Times two weeks since, no good reason why Perry county should not present a candidate for the office of President Judge. We have in our county one man whom I would very much like to see elected to that position, as I believe he is well qualified to fill the office with honor to the county and credit to himself. I refer to CHAS. A. BARNETT, Esq., of your borough, for whom I would much like to cast my vote, and I believe a chance to vote for him as the Republican candidate for President Judge, would be gratifying to MANY VOTERS.

For The Bloomfield Times.

Mr. Editor—The letter of Jimmy Hefflinger, about the judgeship, has reached this land of light, and has been read with admiration. We are particularly pleased with the modesty of the people of Perry, who never condescend on begging us to give them a judge. As long as Perry stands this, you can not blame Cumberland for pleading "prescription," no matter how bad the plea in this age, when we have almost all concluded that rotation in office is more Republican and Democratic than life tenure or successive terms. Let me, however, say to you on behalf of a very large part of the people of old mother Cumberland, that if Perry would only assert her rights it would be found that the people of this county are not so selfish as Jimmy thinks them; but as long as your own people bow down and worship at the Cumberland county shrine, Jimmy must come to Carlisle before he can be judge. CUMBERLAND.

For The Bloomfield Times. PRINCETON, Ill., July 24, 1871.

Mr. Editor—Perhaps a letter from Illinois would interest some of your many readers. Princeton, the county seat of Bureau county, is pleasantly located on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, one hundred and five miles west from Chicago; it has a population of nearly five thousand inhabitants, and contains eleven churches, three union school buildings, one high school building, which was erected four years ago at a cost of seventy-five thousand dollars. It also contains two steam flouring mills, two steam foundries, one tannery, driven by the same power, and stores of all kinds, almost too numerous to mention. Away to the north stretches one of the finest prairies that ever the eyes of man rested upon. Were I to attempt to describe it, those that have never sailed forth beyond Allegheny's crest, would not give it due credence. Therefore, suffice it to say, "tis naught but a mighty desert blooming as the rose." The principal stream of the county is Bureau Creek, which flows a south-westerly course. The banks of this stream are flecked with a chain of old majestic trees, without underbrush. Their tall trunks below the foliage, appear in fine relief against the sky, or the prairie beyond, and sweep in a graceful train along this beautiful prairie. We call this county old, but in truth it is new; fresh in the minds of many of the settlers are the events of the celebrated Black Hawk war, and but twenty years ago, roamed "at will the Indian wild," where then curled the blue smoke above their wigwags, now in black volumes issue from the tall smokestacks of our manufacturing houses. After picturing the country in all these glowing colors, to the well-to-do farmer, mechanic, or professional man in Pennsylvania, I say remain where you are; going West, seeking after a fortune, is like buying a lottery ticket—perhaps it will win, and perhaps it will not. More anon. J. G. N.

The Peace Union Community.

LITTLE GERMANY July, 28th, 1871. MR. EDITOR:—In order to show our readers what a peaceable community we have in this place I would state that the following named persons have been bitten by Brother Korngable's dog, without either asking damage or requiring their neighbor to kill his dog. Absalom Stahl, David Peck, Samuel Foose, Daniel Rice, Wm. Singer, Jenny Rice, and Susan Rice. We believe Mr. Korngable has a right to keep as many cross male or female dogs as he chooses, but think he should pay the damage they do to persons passing along the public road. Such is our opinion but we will not quarrel with our neighbor. A PEACE UNIONISTE.
