HUMOROUS ITEMS.

A householder, in filling up his census schedule, under the heading "Where born" described one of his children 'as born in the parlor,' and the other up stairs."

Bar Mrs. A. T. Stewart, in answer to a friend, who asked her why she dressed so plainly, replied, "I can afford to do so." One of the advantages of being rich you see.

A reporter thus graphically describes the effect of a storm on the North river: "While the storm was at its height, the vessel kneeled to the starboard and the captain and another barrel of whisky fell overboard."

An exchange tells us that 'twenty years ago, Leland Stanford arrived in California with only one shirt to his back. Since then, by close attention to business, he has contrived to accumulate a trifle of ten millions.' What the deuce can a man do with ten million shirts?

An angry Western editor wrote to a poetical correspondent the other day : "If you don't stop sending to me your abominable poetry, I'll print a piece of it some day with your name appended in full, and send a copy to your gal!" The poetry from that fountain quickly dried

A famous judge came late to court one day in busy session, whereat his clerk, in great surprise, inquired of him the reason. "A child was born," his honor said, "and I'm the happy sire." "An infant judge?" "Oh, no," said he, "as yet he's but a crier."

Candidates for government offices in England are examined upon various literary and scientific topics. Lately, one of them, by a slip of the pen, wrote "Vennice" in one of his papers. "Do you know, sir, that there is but one 'hen in Venice?" asked the indignant examin-"Then eggs must be very scarce there," was the reply.

Boston exchanges, which says that " a rich bachelor of New Jersey recently died, leaving by will several legacies of from ten to twenty-five thousand dollars each, to ladies whom he had addressed, but who had rejected him. He said that they had afterwards grown to be so ugly that he could not be sufficiently grateful."

Two fat old ministers of the Kirk of Scotland, named respectively Waddell and Drip, were caught in a shower, after a service at which both had officiated. Brother Waddle, feeling rather facetious, looked out on the watery aspect and remarked dryly to his reverend associate,

"It's beginning to drip,"
"Oh, no matter," rejoined his friend, cooly, "we'll just waddle through it."

Far A party of gentlemen were having a good time near Fon du Lac, Wisconsin, recently, when it occurred to one of them that a glass of water might be an agreeable variety. The most sober individual in the company was detailed for duty at the well. He proceeded to a grindstone, put his bucket in position, and turned the crank with dignified assiduity, till some one stopped him by laughing long enough to convince him of his mistake. Ber A member of the South Carolina Legislature, an old bachelor by the name of Evans, got of the following jeu d'esprit

Evans was introduced to a beautiful widow, also named Evans. The introduction was in this wise:

"Mr. Evans, permit me to introduce you to Mrs. Evans. "Mrs. Evans!" exclaimed the spirited bachelor; "the very lady I have been in search of for the last forty years!"

A clergyman, who had been staying for some time at the house of a friend on going away, called to him little Tommy the four-year-old son of his host, and asked him what he should give him for a present. Tommy, who had great respect for the "cloth," thought it his duty to suggest something of a religious nature, so he announced hesitatingly, " I-I think I should like a Testament, and I know I should like a pop-gun."

1 love you like anything," said a young gardener to his sweetheart, as he gently pressed her hand. "Ditto," said she, returning the pressure. The ardent loyer who was no scholar, was sorely puzzled to know the meaning of ditto. The next day, being at work with his father, he said, "Father, what is the meaning of ditto?" "Why," said the old man, "this here's one cabbage head, ain't it?" "Yes, father." "Well, that ere's ditto" " Drat it !" ejuculated the indignant son, "then she called me a cabbage-head!"

Member of Church Musical Committee (to new applicant for organist's position)-" Our organ is one of the finest in the world. No trouble in playing on that organ, I can tell you!

Applicant—"How many stops has it?" Mem. of Com. (who can't see what difference that can make)—"Stops. Why, I never took notice of that, I'm sure. Let me see,—there's one after the first hymn, any way; and—well, I don't see why you can't stop whenever you please,—that is if the singing ain't going
