LEWIS POTTER, Attorney for Claimants,

ing." Bay An exchange tells us that "a young lady at the Ohio camp meeting asked the prayers of the assembly because she could not set her eyes upon a certain young man in her neighborhood without feeling as though she must hug him to death." If we were that young man in her neighborhood we would go to her and assume an air of severity, combined with resignation, and say to her: "Young woman! it is wrong for you to have such an inclination as that-very wrong ; and you ought to try to break yourself of it." And then we should tell her that it might perhaps cure her if she found that the victim didn't die, and that she had better take us and try the experiment for herself and see how useless it was to attempt to kill a young man in that manner.

A Constable's Troubles.

A few days ago, at North Adams, Mass., the State constable seized a jar of rum and arrested the party in whose possession it was found, for selling liquor .----The examination before a district judge came on, when the constable after being sworn, testified that he seized the liquor. The attorney for the prisoner asked him if he knew it was liquor. He replied: "Yes it was rum: I drank some of it." The prisoner, a woman, was called.

" Did you have any liquor in your house when the State constable called there ?"

"Yes, I had some in a jar." "How long had you it?"

" About six months,"

"Did you have it for sale ?"

"Oh, no; I don't sell liquor."

"What do you keep this rum for ?"

" I keep it to wash the baby."

Had you over washed the baby in this rum ?"

"Oh, yes, often ! I used to turn the rum out in a dish, wash the baby in it and then turn it back into the jar."

There was laughter in court, and the State constable declared he would soize NEW BLOOMFIELD, PA no more liquor kept in a jar.
