A Maine young lady, who endeavored to put to a practical test an old legend which promises a sight of her future husband to the spinster who goes down a cellar backward on the last night of October, fell to the bottom of the stairway, amid streams of kerosene and showers of broken glass, causing a terrible racket, and effectually spoiling her beauty.

The schooner Twilight struck a rock on the 15th inst., five miles below Port aux Barques, sprung a leak, and broke her steering gear. The sheriff has returned to Judge Ingraham his orders for the arrest of Ingersoll, Woodward and Garvey, all being beyond his power. Garvey, without doubt, is in Europe, and can only be brought back on a criminal process. Woodward is in Canada, definite information of that fact having reached the sheriff's office. Ingersoll is in Jersey City, where he can defy the civil law.

In Texas the school law requires all children between six and eighteen to attend school. A few days ago the School Commissioners of one of the eastern counties received a touching appeal from a lady of seventeen whom they had mulcted according to law for non-attendance during the year. "I have a husband to care for," said the young delinquent, "a child to nurse, clothes to wash, meals to cook, and a house to keep in order. If you make me attend school another year, everything will go to ruin."

A miser named Aldens, or Alders, who has lived in Wehawken, N. J., many years, has been missing for several days.—His house remaining closed, the neighbors suspected something wrong, and on Saturday broke open the door. The miser was seated at a table on which was spread out $1,540 and some odd change. His hands rested on the table as though in the act of counting his treasure, and thus death had overtaken him. Coroner Vollhardt took charge of the body and effects. As Aldens has no known living relatives, his money will go into the Weehawken treasury.

A mob last week, at Brookville, Ind., forced the jail, and attempted to take out McDonald Cheek, confined for the murder of his father-in-law, at Lawrenceburg, Indiana, a year ago with the supposed intention of lynching him. Cheek knocked down the first man that came into his cell, and taking a revolver from him, defended himself bravely. Many of the mob were hurt. The jailer in the meantime escaped, and rang the fire-alarm, which brought a number of citizens to his aid, whereupon the mob scattered; but many were recognized notwithstanding their disguise.—Cheek was tried and sentenced to be hanged. Last October the Supreme court granted a new trial, and it is feared that his sentence may be light; hence the action of the mob.

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation, I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime, which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then raise up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the surest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and rouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the intestines are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Sarsaparilla proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of good digestion, and, ultimately make good, healthy, living blood.—After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs—a cavity or abscess there—the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person will regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's Medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the system of all the diseases she needs to clear the system of all the diseases that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold: keep-in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine. I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicines, I do so for a special reason.—A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed Consumptive's lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my Medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of Winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the Medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength. I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.
