Fire.—On Friday afternoon last the house belonging to Jno. Burd in Saville twp., was destroyed by fire. The house was occupied at the time as a residence by the families of Mr. Burd and one of his sons. Nearly all the contents of the house was saved. The loss is not large as the house was quite old.

Will You Do It?—Will you look at the date on the direction label of this paper, and see if your subscription has nearly run out? If it has, and you wish to continue to receive THE TIMES, you will save us much trouble by renewing it now, for if we do not hear from you, we take it for granted that you wish your paper discontinued when your subscription expires. A renewal in time saves us the trouble of taking your name from the mailing list and replacing it.

A Singular Accident.—A few days since rather a singular accident happened to Mr. Jacob Haines, of Buffalo township. He was just preparing to butcher a hog for his brother, near Mount Patrick, when he stepped on a stone and fell, the knife in his hand entering his leg near the thigh, causing a bad wound. The injury was so serious that he could not be taken home but had to be cared for at his brother's residence. The injured leg seemed to be paralyzed, and could be moved only by lifting it with the hand.

Wear like iron.—Wanamaker & Brown's every day Clothes.

A Terrible Accident.—On Friday last says the Wrightsville "Star" a dreadful accident occurred at Boatman's run a short distance below Safe Harbor, on the Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad, resulting in the death of George Markley, of York and injuries to William Costello and John Sheckerd. They were blasting rock and using Duhling's powder, an explosive substance with which they were unacquainted. The hole to receive the cartridge being rather small, an attempt was made to force it down, Costello holding the bar and Markley striking with a sledge. The concussion caused an explosion, killing Markley and injuring severely the other men.

It will pay you to go to Philadelphia for a suit of W. & B's. Clothing.

Fire in Hagerstown.—On the evening of Wednesday last, a fire was discovered in the agricultural shops of Rollins & Burbank, on Antietam street. A strong south-west wind rapidly carried the fire before it, and threatened to demolish the greater part of the town. In different localities dwellings were ignited, but watchful efforts saved them. Soon after the warehouses were in full blaze, the Episcopal church, not far away, caught fire and was rapidly consumed.

By 11 o'clock the court house on Washington street was discovered to be on fire, and such was the fury of the flames that the whole building was shortly destroyed though, not before a brave man, John Fredinger, had perished, and several others were dangerously wounded by the early falling of the dome. The fire department were very active, and the citizens worked manfully. Nearly all of the county records were saved. The total losses are generally estimated at $100,000. For a time it was feared that the whole town would be swept away, and it was not till 3 o'clock in the morning that the flames were under control sufficiently to relieve that anxiety.

Caught in a Trunk.—Harry Jones, son of Sheriff Jones, of Millin Co., whilst playing with other boys, at his father's, got into a large trunk, and, for fear the boys might look him in, put the key in his pocket. Presently the lid was let down, and, having a spring lock, fastened itself. Here was a fix. Harry in the trunk, and the key in his pocket. The sheriff was called, who pried off the hinges and released the prisoner. Fortunately the trunk had air, or the boy might have been suffocated to death before help came.—True Democrat.

For Over-Coats, good and cheap, call on F. Mortimer & Co. They also have an assortment of Ready-Made Clothing of a good quality.

COMMUNICATED.

Sudden Death—Two Persons Buried in One Grave.

Christian Snyder, and Eva, his sister, were favorably known as being among the primitive settlers of Saville township. Neither of them had ever been married. Some five or six years ago, being already at an advanced age, and unable to attend to their domestic duties, they transferred their little home to a Mr. Bender, who agreed and verified his promise, to keep the "old people" for life. On last Wednesday morning, upon entering the room of Miss Snyder, she was found silent and dead, for her gentle spirit had left the dull tenement of clay. Mr. Bender and family were at once alarmed, and Dr. L. Rodgers was called in, and a post mortem made, (disclosed the following: large quantities of coagulated blood in the right cavities of the heart, intermingled with pus. The greater part of the lungs were converted into irregular sized cavities, softening of the lungs, and ulceration in the bronchial tubes had taken place. This caused sudden death.—Arrangements were accordingly made for her interment. On Thursday Mr. Snyder, who had been ill for two weeks, and treated under Dr. Rodgers, also died. On Friday, followed by a large concourse of friends and neighbors, their remains were conveyed to the Buffalo cemetery. There in one grave sleeps this brother and sister. The occasion was improved by religious services conducted by Rev. S. E. Herring. SAVILLE.

An Exciting Event in Lancaster.

At one o'clock on Wednesday morning the main tower of the jail at Lancaster was found to be on fire.

When the prisoners became aware that the prison was in flames they became almost frantic with fear. They meant, they waited, they beat the doors of their prison cells, they begged for God's sake to be released. They would not run away—they would not attempt to escape—they would help subdue the flames! But the keeper dared not trust them—he dared not release them. All he could do was to assure them that no harm should come to them—that if it came to the worst they would be removed to a place of safety.

Then the keeper and his assistants released about a dozen of the vagrants and others incarcerated for minor offences, and he it said to the credit of these misguided men, they worked like Trojans—carrying tubs of water and battling with the flames at every new point where the devouring element made its appearance. In the meantime the American Steam Fire Engine, manned by as gallant fireman as ever drew breath, arrived upon the scene.

The plug on the prison pavement was attached, the hose was run into and upon the top of the building, and with the wind howling and whistling around (we had almost said through) them, and the water freezing into icicles wherever it touched their clothing, they worked nobly on, and finally succeeded in conquering the flames before it became necessary to remove the prisoners.—Lancaster Express.

Ignatz Ratzky has been released from the Penitentiary at Albany after seven years' imprisonment. He was found guilty of the murder of Stigmund Felner, committed in 1861, and sentenced to be hanged. Gov. Fenton commuted the sentence to imprisonment for seven years and two months, and this term has been reduced by the usual allowance for good conduct, and Ratzky is now discharged in the regular course of proceedings. The belief that he is entirely innocent of the murder has, meantime, been well established, and he goes forth into the world without the stigma of crime upon him.

A Miserly Clergyman.

A Methodist clergyman, named Hammond, lately died in Charlestown, Ind., aged upwards of 80 years. For years his salary had been from $200 to $600 a year. His family knew that he had some little real-estate which they understood had appreciated in value. The surprise of all parties may be imagined when Mr. Hammond's executor found money, bonds and title deeds to real-estate valued in all at over $300,000. Upwards of $30,000 in coin was found in a cobweb covered trunk which was stowed away in an unused garret at the time of John Morgan's raid in the neighborhood.—This wealth is supposed to have been the result of slow accumulation and the advance in the value of real property, though its amount is looked upon as almost unaccountable.

Every Pair Warranted.—Those who buy the winter boots sold by F. Mortimer & Co. will be sure of getting a good article, as every pair is warranted not to rip. They had them made to order from the best stock, and in the most substantial manner.
