CARSON'S STELLAR OIL

This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best in the end by far the cheapest.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indolent use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which, wherever used, remove the CAUSE of such accidents.

Carson's Stellar Oil FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.

The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable.

1ST, Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.

2D, Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.

3D, Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.

4TH, Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCY will always be maintained.

To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.

STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

All orders should be addressed to JARDEN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, 136 South Front Street, Philadelphia.

Valuable Real Estate At Private Sale.

A HOUSE AND LOT Situated in the village of Roseburg, one-and-a-half miles from Ickesburg, Ferry county, Pa.

The house is Two Stories high, also a Cellar and Cellar Kitchen, with a Well of water at the door. The lot comprises SIXTEEN ACRES of land in a good state of cultivation, on which is erected a GOOD LOG BARN, twenty feet in width, by fifty feet in length.

This property will be sold low, as the owner has removed from the neighborhood.

For terms apply to DAVID M. HARRISON, Ickesburg, OR ROGER HARRISON, Duncannon Woolen Factory.

VALUABLE Farm at Private Sale.

THE undersigned offers at private sale, a farm in Byetownship, Ferry county, Pa., containing 57 ACRES. The land is the best in the neighborhood, with running water in every field, is under good fence, and has thereon erected a new Frame Dwelling House.

There is also a thrifty Young ORCHARD on the place. This land lies along two public roads—the Fishing Creek road and the Lamb's Gap road—the last named divides the land in two parts—30 1/2 on the one side and 26 1/2 on the other. On the 26 1/2 acre piece is a New Frame Dwelling House, and on the other a FRAME 22 x 28, erected for a house, with a never failing Spring of water. This land will be sold as a whole, or in two Tracts, to suit purchasers.

Persons desiring to purchase a farm will do well to examine this one before investing elsewhere, as it lies within four miles of Marysville, and the Pennsylvania Railroad—one of the best markets in the county.

Further information can be had by addressing Dr. JOHN H. BROWN, Jenner's Roads, Somerset county, Pa.

New Advertisements. THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation, I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the aetals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Sea-weed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs—a cavity or abscess there—the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen so long as the system is below par.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's Medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the system of all the diseases she needs to clear the system of all the diseases that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold: keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption.

The person should be kept on wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the Medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength. I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone.

Full directions accompany all my Remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same. J. H. SCHENCK, M. D., Philadelphia.

HUMOROUS ITEMS.

Why is the first chicken of a brood like the main-mast of a vessel? Ans.—Because it is a little forward of the main hatch.

Girls in olden times didn't behave better than they do now-a-days. Even the Old Testament tells how Ruth followed the Boaz around.

A little girl, three years and a half old, passing along the streets of Goshen, a few days ago, with her ma, and observing a goose with a yoke on, exclaimed, "Why ma, there's a goose with corsets on."

"So you are going to keep a school?" said a young lady to her maiden aunt. "Well, for my part, sooner than do that, I would marry a widower with nine children." "I would prefer that myself," was the quiet reply; "but where's the widower?"

Two young gentlemen, the one named Woodcock, the other Fuller, walked together, and happening to see an owl, the latter said: "That bird is very much like a Woodcock." "You are quite wrong," said the first, "for it's Fuller in the head, Fuller in the eyes, and Fuller all over."

A negro waiter who had twice awakened a traveler to inform him that breakfast was ready, and a third time broke his slumbers by attempting to pull off the bedclothes, thus explained: "Massa, if you isn't gwine to get up, I must hab de sheet anyhow, 'case dey'er waiting for de table-cloth?"

Britz was a character and always in litigation. One day while standing on a street corner, a constable approached him and presented him a paper. "What is dat?" said Britz. "It is a summons, sir. You have been sued before Squire Purvis." "Vell, now just take it right back; I does my business mit squire Gongle."

A visitor of large experience in Sabbath schools asked the children at a crowded examination, "What was the sin of the Pharisee?" "Eatin' camels, ma'am," said one of the smartest who had carried off many a prize. On further questioning the child was justified by referring to the passage where the Pharisees were said to have strained at a gnat and swallowed a camel.

A woman committed suicide by hanging herself to an apple tree. At the funeral a neighbor, noticing the sad appearance of the husband, consoled him by saying that he had met with a terrible loss. "Yes," said the husband, leaving a sigh; she must have kicked like thunder to shake off six bushels of green apples that would have been worth a dollar a bushel when they got ripe!"

A little girl was standing at the depot to see her father and a gentleman friend of; when she suddenly observed to her father, referring to his friend, who was tall and lank, "If the cars run off the track and any legs must be broken, I hope they'll be Mr. H—'s." "What's that for?" said the startled H—. "Because," she added, artlessly, "Aunt May says you have a pair of spare legs. The 'all aboard' of the conductor prevented an explanation.

Everett and Story.—No more delicate compliments were ever exchanged in public than those passed between Judge Story and Edward Everett at a public dinner in Boston. The Judge, as a voluntary toast, gave the following: "Fame follows merit where Everett goes." The gentleman thus delicately complimented arose and replied with this equally felicitous impromptu: "To whatever height judicial learning may attain in this country, there will always be one Story higher."

An elderly gentleman, returning home one Sunday, began to extol the merits of the sermon to his son. The following short dialogue tells the story: "I have heard, Walter, said the old gentleman, "one of the most delightful sermons ever delivered before a Christian society. It carried me to the gates of heaven."

"Well, I think," replied Walter, "you'd better have lodged in, for you never will have such another chance."

In 1803 a fat man rushed into the office of the well-known New Hampshire lawyer, and told him he was drafted. "The deuce you are!" said the lawyer, "It must be a strong man that could draft a man of your size?"

"Well, I am drafted, and want you to get me off, I will pay you for it." "Very well;" and they proceeded to the office of the provost marshal.

"Here, said the lawyer, I've got a substitute." "He won't do," said the marshal—"He's too fat and wheezy; he can't march." "Cannot you take him just for me?" said the lawyer.

"No," said the marshal, "it's no use I don't want him." This was just what the Lawyer wanted. "He won't do eh?" "No he won't said the marshal.

"Well, then scratch his name off the list, for he is drafted, and came here with me to be exempted."

The marshal saw they had proved too much for him, and without another word ordered the man's exemption papers.
