CARSON'S STELLAR OIL

This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best in the end by far the cheapest. Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which, wherever used, remove the CAUSE of such accidents. We allude to

Carson's Stellar Oil FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.

The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.

1ST. Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.

2D. Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.

3D. Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.

TH. Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCY will always be maintained, for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.

To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., &c. it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.

STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of oil, and a tin of tapers each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

All orders should be addressed to JARDEN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, 136 South Front Street, Philadelphia.

HUMOROUS.

What the Legislature Received. The Illinois Legislature recently appointed a committee to investigate the conduct of certain members charged with corruption. The committee went to work in earnest, determined to do the right thing by their constituents. After laboring several days without accomplishing anything worthy of note, they at last found a member who admitted that he had received "something for his vote." Whereupon the committee, thunderstruck at their own success in unearthing the villainy, proceeded to catechise the corrupt member with the following:

Question—You have stated that you have on a certain occasion received something for your vote. Did the committee understand you correctly?

Answer—Yes, sir.

Q.—Have you received anything for your vote on more than one bill?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—About how many?

A.—I cannot tell, without stopping to think a little while.

Q.—We will waive the point for the present. You will now state to the committee what you got for your vote. The reporter will please record the answer in full, and the witness will speak slowly, in order that his answer may be taken down.

A.—I got the curses of the whole community.

An Anecdote of Henry Clay. Formerly a very large, well-known, and somewhat noted billy goat roamed at large in the streets of Washington, and the newspaper boys, boot-blacks, and street imps generally made common cause against him. Clay never liked to see dumb animals abused or worried, and on one occasion, while passing down the avenue a large crowd of these mischievous urchins were at their usual sport. Mr. Clay with his walking-stick, drove them away, giving them a sound lecture in the meanwhile.—As they scampered and scattered in every direction, Billy seeing no one but Mr. Clay within reach, made a charge on him. Clay dropped his cane and caught his goatship by the horns. The goat would rear up, being nearly as high as the tall Kentuckian himself, and the latter would pull him down again. This sort of sport became tiresome, and he could conceive of no way by which he could free himself from the two-horned dilemma, so in his desperation he sang out to the boys to know what to do. One of the smallest in the crowd shouted back: "Let go and run you d-d fool!" Clay always maintained that though he signed the treaty of peace at Ghent, yet that ragged boy knew more than he did.

A few nights back, a party of ladies and gentlemen were laughing over the supposed awkwardness attending a declaration of love, when a gentleman remarked that if he ever offered himself, he would do it in a collected and business-like manner.

"For instance," said he, addressing himself to a beautiful lady present, "I would say, Miss S——, I have been engaged two years in looking for a wife. I am in the receipt of a clear income of two thousand dollars a year from my present business, which is daily on the increase. Of all the ladies of my acquaintance, I admire you the most. Indeed, to speak plainly, I love you, and would most gladly make you my wife."

"You flatter me by your preference," good-humoredly replied Miss S——, to the surprise of all present.

"Not at all; I am entirely sincere."

"Then I refer you to my father."

"Bravo!" exclaimed the gentleman.

"Well, I de-c-l-a-r-e!" exclaimed the ladies, in one united chorus.

The lady and gentleman were married soon after.

A gentleman complained to a friend, that some malicious persons had cut off his horse's tail, which, as he meant to sell him, would be a great drawback. "Then," said the friend, "you must sell him whole sale."—"Wholesale! how so?" "Because you cannot re-tail him."

A dentist was recently saved from drowning by a laborer, and from the depths of his grateful heart said: "Noble brave, gallant man! how shall I reward you? Only come to my house, and I will cheerfully pull every tooth you have got in your head, and not charge you sixpence.

A New York politician, in writing a letter of condolence to the widow of a deceased country member of the legislature, says, "I cannot tell you how pained I was to hear that your husband has gone to heaven. We were bosom-friends; but now we shall never meet again.

"Ma," said a little boy the other day, "is that old ugly clothing merchant up town a Hebrew?"

"Yes, I believe he is."

"Well, then, if he had a wife, wouldn't she be a Shebrow?"

The horse is a standing vindication of the Darwinian theory of improvement by selection and variation. He now travels on four feet; whereas everybody knows he never had but two feet before."
