LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MONTHLY

CALENDAR FEBRUARY. Table with columns for days of the week and numbers 1-28.

CALENDAR

Registry of Sales.

We call attention to the following sales, bills for which have been printed at this office.

February 10th—George Snyder at his shop in this borough, will sell a valuable Engine and boiler, circular saw, lathe, and other tools. Also a lot of plows and numerous other things.

February 27th—Samuel Noll, at Green Park, will sell one pair of Ayles, Young Cattle and Cows, several Wagons, Threshing Machine, Kirby Reaper and Mower, and many other articles not mentioned.

March 5th—Mrs. N. E. Shaver, at her residence in Madison township, will sell Work Horses, Colts and other Stock, also a great variety of farming implements and household furniture.

Concert.—A Vocal and Instrumental concert will be held in the Lutheran church, in Pfoutz's Valley on the public road leading from Millerstown to Liverpool on Saturday evening February 17, 1872, by the Pfoutz's Valley singing association under direction of D. B. Moyer. The friends of music are invited. Admission 25 cents.

Horse Thief.—A man giving his name as Edward Hanson was arrested at Harrisburg on Wednesday last on suspicion of stealing a horse. The animal was brought from some point west of Harrisburg and was sold for very much less than the value, which caused suspicion to arise. He was held by the Mayor until the matter could be investigated.

Snow.—At an early hour on Saturday morning it began to snow quite fast and kept it up most of the time during the day, until 8 to 10 inches had fallen. This is the first snow of the season which has been sufficient for sleighing. Altogether there has fallen during this winter 31 inches of snow, and previous to this the most at any time was about four inches; the rest has fallen in quantities of from half an inch to two inches at a time.

Rail Road Meeting.—A meeting of those interested in getting a rail road built from Duncannon to Bloomfield, will be held at the School house in Duncannon on next Saturday, at 1 o'clock, P. M. We trust there will be a full attendance, and that the interest which is again awakened on this important subject will not be allowed to subside until the road becomes a reality. It is the one thing needed to develop the resources of this County, and with a rail road in operation up this valley, the wealth of the county would be doubled in ten years.

Fires.—The store and dwelling of G. T. Shearer, near Shermansdale was destroyed by fire on Sunday evening a week. The fire was discovered between 8 and 9 o'clock and as all the family were absent, one of the neighbors, Mrs. Smith, who first noticed the fire, broke in the door with a stick of cord-wood and began to carry out the goods, and with other help which soon arrived succeeded in saving a part of the stock. It is not known how the fire originated but is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

The wagonmaker shop of Joseph Dukes, at Shermansdale was also destroyed with all its contents by fire on Monday afternoon. In this case a defective stove pipe is said to have caused the fire.

The Difference.—If a man wishes to purchase a lot in this vicinity, on which to make an improvement, he will probably be charged two or three times its value. In the west they do things differently as will be seen by the following:

The citizens of Centralia, Ill., give $60,000 in cash, and all the land they ask for, to Sherwood Brothers, of Lynn, Mass., to establish in the former place a shoe manufactory that will employ 400 hands.

Killed by the Cars.—The Reading Times of the 30th ult., says: "A young man, a stranger, was found about 2 o'clock, yesterday morning, at the outer depot, with both legs cut off. He was taken into the oil house, where he died about 9 o'clock. He was last seen about midnight, when he was wandering about the depot, and was said to have been considerably under the influence of liquor. He gave his name as Wm. Smith, said that he was from Oswego, Co., New York, and that he was employed as a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad. His age was about 23 years. The body was taken in charge of by Mr. Charles Henninger, undertaker, 710 Penn street, and will be kept until tomorrow, and if not claimed then, a decent burial will be given it."

Dry.—The Shippensburg News says: Many of the wells in this locality have gone dry. The want of water is being more seriously felt every day. We have not had a rain of any significance this winter, and constantly freezing weather has placed many of the farmers at great inconvenience in watering their cattle.

Opened the Wrong Letter.—James Taylor, post master, of Keray, Pa., was convicted for opening a letter and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and cost, by the U. S. Court of Erie.

Winter shirts and drawers, Home knit, wool socks and other winter goods are now for sale at bargain by F. MORTIMER.

Too Much Haste.—On Monday of last week a gentleman named Wathen, died at Dunkle's hotel in Newport. Some persons supposed that the deceased had no relations living, and one of these wishing to administer on the estate (as Mr. W., had left some property) determined to take time by the forelock, and applied for letters of administration, the morning after the death, and while the body was still unburied. The application being made in proper form, letters were granted the applicant, who it is said had also sent word to the authorities at Harrisburg, as the informer in such a case is entitled to a percentage of the property reverting to the State. Other persons however knew a son of the deceased was residing in Millin Co., and had sent him word of the death of his father. In due course of time the son arrived, and steps were at once taken by his counsel, C. A. Barnett, Esq., to have the former letters of administration revoked and new letters issued to the son.

This was done on Friday last, and with the revoked letters vanished all hopes of profit from administering on an escheated estate.

Rather Rough.

The Juniata Co., Independent says: "A few weeks ago a young woman who had been living in Altoona, returned to her home in Turbett township, this county, a few miles west of Perrysville. With her she brought a box of clothing, which afterward proved to be infected with the small-pox. Her young brother, from opening the box, contracted the contagion in its most severe form. The family, to their shame be it said, gave him very little attention, and, in consequence, he lived only a few days. The father of this family refused to go near the house at all. The boy when he died was put into a rough box, and carried into an adjoining field and left there without being buried until a day or two afterwards. We consider the action of the family disgraceful to our humanity, and cowardly in the extreme. Weak and slender, indeed, must be the ties that bind us in the sacred relations of father, mother, sister and friend, when we can allow one who is bound to us by these endearing ties to die from neglect. Shame on our humanity, we say, if this instance of infidelity and cowardly conduct is to be taken as an evidence of what we all are. We don't believe in running unnecessary risks. We should shun danger but not shrink from duty."

Boiler Explosion.—Early on Saturday morning the 27th ult., one of the boilers at the St. Charles furnace, Columbia, which is situated near the railroad, and is owned and managed by Messrs. C. B. Grubb & Son, exploded with a terrible report. The top or roof of the engine house was destroyed, and other damage was done to the building. No one was injured by the explosion, but the engineer, who had just left the engine and was ascending to the second story, made a very narrow escape.

A Lad named Charles Crawford fell through the bridge at Millin, on the ice some twenty-six feet, and escaped without any serious results, a few days since. Workmen were repairing the bridge, and had planks removed which the boy did not notice, as he was rapidly running at the time.

Dry.—The Shippensburg News says: Many of the wells in this locality have gone dry. The want of water is being more seriously felt every day. We have not had a rain of any significance this winter, and constantly freezing weather has placed many of the farmers at great inconvenience in watering their cattle.

Opened the Wrong Letter.—James Taylor, post master, of Keray, Pa., was convicted for opening a letter and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and cost, by the U. S. Court of Erie.

AN ACT to provide against the evils resulting from the sale of intoxicating liquors has been introduced into the House of Representatives at Harrisburg:

The first Section provides that no person shall be granted a license to sell or give away intoxicating liquors, without first giving a bond to the municipality or authority authorized by law to grant licenses, which bond shall be in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and be in the penal sum of three thousand dollars, with at least two good and sufficient securities who shall be freeholders conditioned that they will pay all damages to any person or persons which may be inflicted upon them either in person or property or by means of support by reason of so obtaining a license or selling, or giving away intoxicating liquors, and such bond may be sued and recovered upon for the use of any person or persons or their legal representatives who may be injured by reason of the selling intoxicating liquors by the person or his agent so obtaining a license.

The other sections of the act provide penalties and punishments for its violation, and the 6th section gives every husband, wife, child, parent, guardian, employer, or other person, who shall be injured in person or property, or means of support, by any intoxicated person, or in consequence of the intoxication habitual or otherwise, of any person, a right of action in his or her own name severally or jointly against any person or persons who shall be selling, or giving intoxicating liquors, have caused the intoxication in whole or in part of such person or persons, and any person or persons owning, renting, leasing, or permitting the occupation of any building or premises, and having knowledge that intoxicating liquors are to be sold therein.

The Act is very stringent, and we think it doubtful whether it can be passed at this Session. If any such Act is passed, it will undoubtedly be considerably amended.

Church Notices.

In the Lutheran church, preaching next Sunday, at 10 1/2 o'clock a. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

Presbyterian Service.—Preaching in the court house at 11 o'clock, on next Sunday morning. Subject—"The Lost Coin," and in the evening, preaching in the Church Basement at 6 1/2 p. m.

We noticed in one of our exchanges this week the statement of Dr. John Hodgkins, of South Jefferson, Me., whose son was cured of incipient consumption by the use of Johnson's Liniment. We refer to this at this time as tending to corroborate the statement we made last week in relation to this liniment as applied to consumption.

If Congress had employed as much scientific skill in the arrangement of its "Reconstruction Policy" at the close, as the War Department did in the beginning of the war, in arranging for the manufacture of what was called Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for the use of the Cavalry horses, no doubt the Union would have been restored long ago.

That lame horse we see driven through our streets so often can be readily cured for fifty cents, it seems a shame the owner does not purchase and use Pain Cure Oil. For man or beast it has no equal.

OLD PREJUDICES ARE DYING OUT.—New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids weakened by disease can be relieved by prostrating them with drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomaniacs. Ever since the introduction of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS it has been obvious that their regulating and invigorating properties are all-sufficient for the cure of chronic indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, diarrhoea, nervous affections, and malarious fevers; they are now the standard remedy for these complaints in every section of the Union. 64 ct.
