CARSON'S STELLAR OIL. This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best in the end by far the cheapest.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which will, wherever USED, remove the CAUSE of such accidents.

Carson's Stellar Oil

FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES. The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for, and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable.

1ST. Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.

2D. Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.

3D. Because it is more economical. In the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.

4TH. Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer.

To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer.

STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

All orders should be addressed to JARDEN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, 136 South Front Street, Philadelphia.

HUMOROUS ITEMS.

"I say, John, where did you get that rogie's hat?"—"please, yer honor," said John, "it's an old one of yours that missis gave me yesterday."

A man died suddenly from intemperance, and a Western jury found that the "deceased came to his death by drinking between drinks."

A cautious old bachelor, who is aware that the present year is leap year, says: "If you meet a young lady who is not very shy, you had better be a little shy yourself."

Brains, Says a modern philosopher: "People go according to their brains; if these lie in their head, they study; if in their stomach, they eat; if in their heels, they dance."

A man from the country whose wife had eloped and carried off the feather-bed, was in search of them; not that he cared anything about his wife, "but the feathers, said he, them, worth a dollar a pound."

"I," said Sneaxby the other day, "have never been known to turn my back upon any of my friends." "That's a fact," said Jack Grinham, "you know better; for if you did, they would at last get an opportunity to give you a kicking."

A crazy man having got into the gallery of the Senate of the United States during the rambling debate, was taken out, the sergeant-at-arms telling him that he was "out of place in that gallery."—"That's so," said the lunatic; "I ought to be on the floor with the Senators."

Some clever fellow has invented a new kind of ink, called "love-letter ink." It is a sure preventive against all cases of "breach of promise, as the ink fades away and leaves the sheet blank in about four weeks after being written upon.

A lady hearing the remark that the storm signal was sent, inquired what that meant; and being told that the Signal Department at Washington now watches the weather and telegraphs in advance all over the country, replied: "Now isn't that convenient for washer-women!"

A young lady who has been taking the quinine in large quantities became so impregnated with iron that one cold evening, when her lover kissed her at the door, he had the same experience that small boys do who approach their mouth to lamp posts, and before he could separate his lips from hers, was caught by his ought-to-be mother-in-law. Moral—don't take quinine.

A Detroit thief went to the door of a house, rang the bell and asked the servant to call her mistress, as he had particular business with her. The lady came when the stranger informed her that Mr.——, naming the name on the door-plate, had sent him to the house to get twenty dollars which was due him. But for one thing he might have got the money. The lady's husband had been dead seven years.

During the Christmas holidays, a customer came into one of our book-stores, and, after selecting some books, asked the clerk who waited on him if he could not allow him a discount or deduction from the usual price, saying as an inducement: "I am in business myself, and if you should ever want anything in my line, I will make a liberal discount." And thereupon he handed to the clerk his card, which read thus: "John Smith, Undertaker and Coffin-maker!"

A day or two since, a man not over and above familiar with the dark ways of telegraphing, went into one of the offices with a dispatch, which he insisted upon having sent off immediately. The operator accommodated him, and then hung the dispatch on a hook. The man hung around some time, evidently unsatisfied. At last his patience was exhausted, and he belched out: "Ain't you going to send that dispatch?" The operator politely informed him that he had sent it. "No yer ain't" replied the indignant man; "there it is now on the hook."

A few evenings since in a country store of a neighboring town, a little knot of men were discussing the merits of the hydraulic ram; an honest farmer, who was making some purchases, overheard a part of the conversation, and he, stepping forward just as one of the speakers expressed his strong belief in the good qualities of the machine, remarked, "Yes, gentleman, I know they are good—that three year old ram I sold to Deacon Cooper last week was partly hydraulic."

Ten or fifteen years ago a public dinner was given to the members of the legislature at Providence, and a Narragansett preacher, called the "Regular Pae r," because in his prayers he had a habit of standing behind a chair, stepping backward and hitching it after him, was called on to ask a blessing. He stood up in his usual style and began a lengthy prayer. There was an open door behind him, and he soon unwittingly backed into an adjoining room taking his chair along, when some one softly closed the door, and the hungry guests proceeded to dine, while the petition was finished at leisure by the abstracted minister.
