CARSON'S STELLAR OIL This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best is in the end by far the cheapest. Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which, wherever used, remove the CAUSE of such accidents. We allude to

Carson's Stellar Oil FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.

The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for, and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.

1ST. Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.

2D. Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.

3D. Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.

TH. Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCY will always be maintained, for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.

To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.

STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

All orders should be addressed to JARDEN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, 130 South Front Street, Philadelphia.

HUMOROUS ITEMS.

Heartless Joke.

One of the most heartless jokes ever done, was a trick once played on Pope, the epicurean actor. A wicked friend asked him to dine off a small turbot, and a boiled aitchbone of beef, apologizing for the humble fare with the usual feigned humility of friends. "Why, it's the very thing I like," said Pope, in his reply, referring to the aitchbone. "I will come, my son, with all the pleasure in life." He came, he saw, he ate; ate till he grew nearer the table, and could eat no more. He had just laid down his knife and fork, like a soldier tired of war's alarm, when a bell was rung, and in came a smoking haunch of venison. Pope saw the trick at once; he cast a look of reproach upon his friend, trifled with a large slice, then again dropped his now-useless weapons, and burst into hysterical and unrestrainable tears. "A friend of twenty years' standing," he sobbed, "and to be deceived in this manner!"

"One-eyed Winston" was (and probably is) a negro preacher in Virginia, and his ideas of theology and human nature are very original, as the following anecdote may prove. A gentleman thus accosted the old man on Sunday:

"Winston, I understand you believe every woman has seven devils. Now, how can you prove it?"

"Well, sah, did you never read in de Bible how de seven devbles was cast out'er Mary Magdeleene?"

"Oh! yes; I've read that."

"Did you ever hear of 'em bein' cast out of any odder woman, sah?"

"No, I never did."

"Well, den, all de odder got 'em yit."

The News says they 'cleaned house' at the domicile of the editor of the Litchfield Enquirer last week. The editor was called home and entrusted with the artistic operation of painting the kitchen chairs. He finished one of them and sat down on it to paint the others. They had to build a fire under the chair to thaw him off. It ruined the chair, but he has had a bay window set in his pants, and they are now about as good as new.

A young man becoming engaged recently, was desirous of presenting his intended with a ring appropriately inscribed, but being at a loss what to have engraved on it, called on his father for advice.—"Well," said the old man, "put on 'when this you see remember me'!" The young lady was much surprised a few days after with receiving a beautiful ring, with this inscription: "When this you see remember the old man."

A person having been mentioned who had been notoriously unfortunate in his first marriage relation, and yet had soon afterwards married again, Johnsonson was asked if it was not rash to embark anew in an adventure which he had already found so disastrous. "No," said the philosopher, elevating his hand, and his countenance glowing with enthusiasm, "it was the triumph of hope over experience."

Mr. Copley, the celebrated portrait-painter, once met a lady in the street, who said to him, "Ah Mr. Copley! I have just seen your likeness, and I kissed it because it was so much like you." "And did it kiss you in return?" he asked. "Why, no," was the reply. "Then," said Copley, "it was not like me."

A down-caster advertises his wife thus: On the sixteenth of July, on the night of Monday, eloped from her husband, the wife of J. Grundy, his grief at her absence each day growing deeper, should any one find her, he begs them to keep her.

A man went to borrow a mule of a neighbor, who said the animal was from home. Meanwhile the mule chanced to bray, upon which the borrower exclaimed, "How? did you not tell me the mule was abroad?" The other replied in a passion, "Do you prefer the mules word to mine."

"I think," said a wife who could not agree with her husband—"I think, Mr. Jibbs, we had better divide the house. You shall live on one side and I on the other." "Very well my dear," replied he; "you take the outside and I'll have the inside."

An editor whose name was Fry took unto himself a "fifth rib." His neighbor of the quill, being very kindly disposed toward him and his better half, wished "success to Mr. and Mrs. Fry and all the small 'fry.'"

A lawyer and a doctor were walking arm in arm, a wag said to a friend "These two are just equal to one highwayman." "Why?" was the response.—"Because they are a lawyer and a doctor—your money or your life."

A Western editor thinks if the proper way of spelling, tho is "though," and lo "beaux," the proper way of spelling potatoes must be "boughteigteaux."

"Men own to cotton their successes," Says Lucy Stone. Fair lady, yes— And so do woman, you can swear it, The artful nymphs know where to wear it.
