Notice. - Subscribers wish to change their post office address will please mention the name of the office to which the paper has been sent, as well as to the office to which it is to be sent in future. Attention to this request will insure the desired change.

Train.-George Francis Train was in Harrisburg on Tuesdoy. He indulged in an hour's speech in the House before the Legislature assembled.

Dead .- We published last week an account of an accident to a lad named Zacharias of Mechanicsburg, who was so severely injured by attempting to jump on a freight train that one of his legs had to be amputated. He has since died of lock-jaw.

A Good Hat House.-For a good Hat House we can reccommend Messrs Barnes Bro's., & Herron, 503 Market St., Phila. And if you wish a pleasant man to deal with ask for Mr. D. Port Beale. Our word for it you will be well pleased, and have your orders faithfully filled.

A Good Corn Planter.—The Morrison's improved corn planter is undoubtedly the best in use. It has advantages over all others that are made, and every farmer should have one. Mr. W. H. Henderson is the patentee of this county and is at present in the upper townships soliciting orders. Mr. Henderson's address is 179 North Hanover street Carlisle.

Badly Scared .- A few days since a young man whose face appeared to indicate a recent recovery from the small-pox entered the bar-room of the Robinson House, in this borough. It was exceedingly amusing to notice with what apparent unanimity the occupants of the room remembered engagements they had elsewhere, and how suddenly they departed. The proprietor of the house anxious for the comfort of his guests, called the stranger aside and questioned him, when the man acknowledged that he had recovered from that foul disease, but as it was about seventeen years since he had it, thought there would be no danger of his spreading it. The crowd soon recovered its equanimity.

Another Sudden Death .- On Thursday night last Mrs. Peale of this borough received a paralytic stroke from which she died on Saturday forenoon. Mrs. Peale had gone to her room to retire for the night, and at that time seemed in unusual good spirits. About three quarters of an hour later, her son, Mr. S. A. Peale, and his wife going up, noticed her light still burning, and thinking they heard a moan in her room, entered and found the old lady able and from appearances, she must have received the shock shortly after going up stairs. Although every effort was made for her recovery she remained insensible until death come to her relief. Mrs. Peale had a large circle of friends and relatives, over whom her sudden death has cast a

A Grateful Cus-tomer. - We believe there was no public donation sent from this place to Chicago, but if there had been we don't think any of our citizens would have received such a letter as the following which was sent to a man in the Western part of the State.

"The committy man giv me amongst other things what he called a pare ov pants, and 'twould make me pant sum to ware 'em. I found your name an where you live on one of the pokits, my wife laffed so when I shode em to her that I thot she wood have conjusting fit. She wants to wood have conipshun fit. She wants to no if there lives and brethes a man who has lega no bigger than that. She sed if there was he orter be taken up for vagrinsy fur havin no visible mean of support. If you hav another pare to spare my wife wood like to get 'em to hang up by the side of the fire plase to keep the tongs in.' wood have conipshun fit. She wants to Attempt to Perpetrate a Fraud .- On Thursday last, a young man who gave his name as Henry Renshaw, presented a note at the Juniata Valley Bank for the sum of $500, endorsed by Mr. Elias Horning, of Fermanagh township. Upon an examination of the signature of Mr. Horning by Mr. Irwin, Cashier of the Bank, he was suspicious that the name was a forgery, and refused to pay the note until he would see Mr. Horning. Renshaw left the note lay upon the counter and went out to find Mr. Horning. Renshaw forgot to come back. Mr. Horning came into the bank the next day, and when shown the note said he knew no man of that name, and that the name upon the note was a forgery, that he had never saw the note before and had not endorsed his name upon it. - Democrat & Register.

Court Preceedings .- At the Common Pleas Court held last week the following cases were disposed of.

S. E. & L. B. Sprout vs. Wm. Burn. This was a suit to recover for a note given for Patent Hay Forks. Verdict for def't. Potter for plff-Barnett for def't.

Andrew Stephens vs. Township of Miller. This was a suit brought against the supervisors of the township to recover damages sustained by the def't. in consequence of the bad condition of the road. Verdict for plff. damages $25. McIntire and Barnett for plff. Sponsler Bailey and Murray for def't.

Daniel Zeigler vs. Samuel Morris. This def't having been attached, he claimed that the title was in his wife's name, by a deed given in 1852, though not recorded until 1870. Verdict of the jury for the deft., but the Judge reserved the question whether the non-recording of the deed for 18 years did not invalidate her title, the former title being in the husband's name, and being calculated to mislead. For plff. Sponsler, for del't. Graham and McIntire.

Eunice Patterson for use of Henry Bradley vs. Edward Matchett and Mary A. Matchett his wife, seeking to charge said Mary A. Matchett's estate. A jury being sworn, found for the def't. the plff. not appearing.

Maggie E. Holsman vs. Jacob Dim def't. and Lewis Gilfillin and James Witmer garnishees. Verdict for the defts., the garnishees. The verdict in this case, also settled a number of other cases, growing out of the same transaction.

McCoy vs. Roush. Case settled by the ARGUMENT LIST.

Woods vs. Stokes. Rule for a new trial discharged.

Peter Long vs. McLaughlin. Motion for new trial was denied.

Duncapnon Items .- Our Duncapnon correspondent sends the following:

Last Wednesday noon Henry Stevenson's place was set on fire by sparks from a passing engine, and it was only by the strenuous exertions of the citizens, that an extensive confiagration was prevented. There was a very high wind and many of the shingles that were knocked of the roof, were blown half a square away. The next day their kitchen roof took fire from the same cause, but being discovered in time a bucket of water did the work. It is time the citizens made a move to protect themselves, or some of these days we'll have a Chicago fire on a small scale.

The Duncannon Nail factory is idle this week but I think they expect to commence operations on Monday the 25th.

Mrs. Cyrus Hochlander for many years a resident of this borough, died on Wednesday evening. She leaves a large family, and much sympathy is felt for them.

On Friday morning the cry of fire was again raised and the excitement was intense. Nathan Vanfossen and T. B. Lewis's stables were burned, the former's loss will be $500, the latter is fully insured. At least one dozen houses were fired by sparks from the burning buildings, and the men worked like heroes to save them.

A notice is up this evening calling a pubic meeting to take action in regard to th fires, and a petition is to be circulated asking that fire catchers be placed in the stacks as of yore. It is not only property, but life that is at stake as the danger is the same by night as by day and the fire might easily spread at night so that the inmates of the dwelling could not escape, before an alarm could be raised.

Mr. Geo. W. Charters, Sr., has been dangerously ill from his exertions at Stevenson's fire. He became overheated, and was drenched with water meant for the flames, the result-inflamation of the lungs.

They are sinking a well on Duncannon hill, to get water for the masons to use in laying the foundation of the new houses to be built by the company.

On Saturday morning Groff a well digger who was at work in the bottom of the well called to his partner to come. He started but accidentally knocked a plank down injuring Groff badly. You request those who send conundrums, to send answers. I have one, but the answer is a mystery. "Why do some of the men here come out of the back door (outo the R. R. on Sunday morning) instead of the front door "This the Government Dispensary, says that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not, it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica of as much importance to the soldier and the sailor as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Newport Items .- On Tuesday the high wooden structure in process of erection at the furnace below town, to be used for hoisting the ore, was blown over by the Three carpenters were employed on the building at the time, and two of them were considerably injured. They were both from Middletown. I think the main cause of the disaster was an insufficent foundation for the height of the building. On Tuesday night a child of Mr. A. J. Fickes was buried having died from small pox. This is the second death, and the prospects are that we have seen the worst of the disease.

The action of the council in trying to was a case to try the title to a piece of have the schools closed on account of the ground in Watts twp. The property of the small pox meets with the disapproval of many, who claim that such a course will only increase the "scare" throughout the county and do no good. We have had two alarms of fire since my last letter but neither did damage worth mentioning.

The re-election of Burgess Sheats would seem to indicate that his course in trying to enforce the ordinances, met with the approval of a majority of the voters, if not agreeable to the boys. O. C.,

Fire in Altoong .- At a late hour on Tuesday night last the new extension of the Logan House at Altoona was discovered to be on fire and before the flames could be extinguished the extension was burned. The fire communicated to the east wing, and the upper stories of that were also de stroyed. The furniture of that portion was mostly saved. The extension, which was nearly completed, contained sixty-six room but was not furnished. The large dining room, the central portion of the building west wing, kitchen and engine-house are all safe, and passenger trains diving as usual The repairs to the burnt portion will be made at once. The remaining portion of the house will be open for the accommoda tion of guests, as usual. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at sixty thousand dollars.

Local Option .- In Shippenburg on the 15th inst., by a special act of the Legislature, a vote was taken on the license question, when the vote stood.

DUNCANNON March 23d, 1872. MR. EDITOR.-Mr. David Carns, Sen., an old and respected citizen was buried on Friday. Mrs. C. H. Hochlander, an excelent christian lady was buried to day.

Our town has been fired by the sparks from locomotives a number of times, and really it is time that our citizens see after their interests; and if there is a way compel the R. R. Co., to respect our rights.

Knickerbock, says many think and he concurs in the view that it would be more reasonable to compel the property holders along the R. R., to put slate roofs on the exposed buildings, rather than for the present to hire watchmen. Wonder how how many beside himself "think" and "concur?"

COMMUNICATED. The County Account.

Mr. Editor.—I was pleased to see the Times. But there is a little mis-statement which I wish to see corrected. H. goes on to show that one of the commissioners has drawn more days pay than there are day in the year, but he neglects to state tha the bill presented is for ten months service a portion of the amount charged, it is a a portion of the amount charged, it is asserted, being held back to go into future account. I do not know positively that this is so, but it is generally believed to be so in this vicinity, and if not true the statement should be contradicted. J. Centre twp., March 22, 1872. JUSTICE.

COMMUNICATED.

Miller township March 23, 1872.

Mr. Editor:-Our usually quiet community was on last Thursday night about 9 o'clock P. M. thrown into a state of great excitement by hearing the cry of fire. On learning the truthful account of the affair it appears that a passing locomotive set fire to the residence of John Byrnes, foreman of this division, he being in Newport at the time. The neighbors gathered and by the application of a few buckets of water managed to extinguish the fire.

The death of the above children was very affecting. When the first was in its coffin, it was brought to the bedside of Senorah, and she kissed it, as a parting kiss, but the separation was very short. They soon met in the Spirit-land; just as the mourners returned from the grave, the spirit of Senorah took its flight to that happy land, where disease is not known and separation will never take place.
