LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

CALENDAR APRIL. Table with columns for days of the week and dates from 1 to 30.

We would call the attention of our Lady Readers to the advertisement of the Novelty Wringer in another column. It has the great improvement, Cog Wheels on Both Ends of the Rollers. Every Housewife should have one.

Wanted—Information regarding events that transpired in any part of the county. Persons sending letters containing items of interest will find their favors duly appreciated. If our friends don't wish to take the time to put their information in shape for publication, the facts will be just as acceptable.

The Carlisle Shoe Company, are putting out a class of work which pleases every one who has tried it. One of the best evidences of this, is the rapid increase of their business. Every merchant who has kept their goods, finds his shoe trade in a most encouraging condition. Their shoes have been introduced this season into Ohio, Maryland and West Virginia, by their agent Mr. Irvin C. Souders who is meeting with remarkable success, every one acknowledging the CARLISLE SHOE to be the best in the market.

Another Sudden Death.—On Friday morning last, at about 7 o'clock Mr. Israel Fritz dropped from his chair and almost instantly expired. His death occurred at the house of his son Washington, in Penn township. He had just passed into the room when he was heard to fall by his daughter-in-law, who at once went to his aid, but he breathed only two or three times after she reached him.

Mr. Fritz was in the 82 year of his age, but was as active and hearty as most men are at 60. It is only about eighteen months since a brother of his, Richard Fritz, died in almost the same manner.

The County S. S. Convention.—Sabbath Schools of the County, elect your delegates, four in number, for the Newport Convention on May 14th, three weeks from to day. Open all Schools if possible by first Sabbath in May, but, at all events, meet and elect your delegates by that time, sending the names on at once to W. Fickes or P. Bosserman Esqrs., for entertainment during the convention. The township sub-committees, as appointed last year, are also requested to send their names as well as their reports to the same parties if they design attending, and it is hoped they will this time.

A New Trial has been granted to Dr. Schöppe by the Cumberland county Court, under the act passed for his especial benefit. The trial is set down for the regular August term, to save the county the expenses attending an extra session. An arrangement is also made so that the District Attorney shall summon his witnesses for the day on which their testimony will be taken, so that each witness will only draw pay for the day the attendance is actually required, thereby saving the county considerable expense.

For nearly three years this man has stood under the shadows of the gallows, separated from death only by the scratch of a pen.

If guilty, he has already been severely punished, and if innocent, as his friends who have labored so zealously for his release assert, he is surely entitled to much sympathy.

Those Grasshoppers.—A gentleman who was much interested in the grasshoppers found so plenty early in the season, sent some to the Agricultural Department at Washington, and received the following reply:

Department of Agriculture, Washington, April 8th, 1872.

Dear Sir:—The grasshoppers you sent are in the larva or pupa state, and will acquire perfect wings after shedding their skins. The natural history of these insects is as follows:

The young grasshoppers make their appearance from the egg in almost exactly the same form as the perfect insect, but without wings. They then shed their skins and acquire rudimentary but perfectly useless wings, and it is only when they become fully grown that they acquire wings fitted for flight. These grass-hoppers are probably a species of Oedipoda, but we cannot tell exactly what species until they have acquired their full growth. Their early appearance, if in great numbers, certainly seems to indicate that they will be numerous this season. Respectfully,

FREDERICK WATTS, Commissioner.

A New Enterprise.—WOLF & HENCH, Wholesale dealers in Notions and Fancy Goods have opened a large Wholesale Store on the first floor of Braut's Hall, Harrisburg, where merchants can be supplied with Notions at the lowest Market Prices. Give them a call.

Newport Items.—The small-pox excitement in our town is now at an end, and probably no town in the state is in any more healthy condition.

A few days since a little darkey stole a case of instruments belonging to Dr. Orris and generously distributed them among his playmates. The doctor recovered them, but was not so fortunate with a small amount of money taken at the same time. Chicken thieves are still among us, as several of our citizens have discovered to their sorrow, when their chickens "turned up missing."

Our citizens are preparing to give a cordial reception to those attending the Sunday School Convention which is to be held here on the 14th of next month.

The boating season has commenced, and bids fair to be a prosperous one. O. C.

Barn Burned.—A York paper says: On Sunday morning of last week, while Mr. Daniel Asper, who resides near Wellsville, on the farm of Mr. Asahel Walker, was attending church with his wife, their little boy was left at home when he amused himself by playing with matches near the barn, and lighting paper which the wind blew to the straw stack in the barn yard, and in a short time the entire building was in flames and was destroyed, together with its contents. Seventeen head of cattle and two horses being tied in the stable were burned to death. The wind was blowing very strong and the fire spread among the fences and it was with much difficulty that some buildings in the locality were saved. Total loss, above the amount insured, about $1,400. The burnt barn was insured in the Dover Mutual, but the stock and contents were not insured. Mr. Israel Smith, who resides in the neighborhood lost a quantity of wheat.

A Horror in Harrisburg.—On Tuesday morning last a man and a woman were found dead in a house of bad repute in Harrisburg, having evidently been suffocated with coal gas. The man was a well-known newspaper correspondent named Luther Stroup. He had come to the house while under the influence of Liquor about midnight, and shortly after, the parties retired in apparent health. When called to breakfast the next morning their deaths were discovered and the coroner notified. Mr. Stroup leaves a young wife and child.

House Burnt.—On last Saturday evening a week, a large frame dwelling occupied by the Gaswint families, (three families,) in Cumberland county, about five miles northwest of York Springs, was destroyed by fire, with nearly all the furniture and wearing apparel. The fire originated from a stove-pipe passing through the roof. A high wind prevailing the fire burned very rapidly. A Hog-house, Smoke-house, with a lot of meat and eight scaps of bees, were also burnt. No insurance.—Star & Sentinel.

Strangled.—A correspondent informs us that on last Friday afternoon a week, at the junction of the Hanover Bridge and Bachman Valley railroad, Mrs. Emanuel Metzler went to do something in her garden, leaving her child, five months old, asleep in bed. The mother occasionally went to the window, to be assured that her child was still sleeping. After some time she went to the house, and was terrified to find the child dead. It had slipped from the bed next to the wall, and hung by the neck between the bed-rail and the wall, the feet not touching the floor. The child had worked the bed clothes into its face, probably by involuntary efforts to extract itself, and either died from suffocation or strangulation.—Jl.

Fires Along the R. R.—The Altoona Tribune states that on the 18th, a fire was raging in the woods and fields between that place and Huntingdon, along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, presenting a fearfully grand spectacle. Several dwellings and other buildings were destroyed. Long lines of fire were visible on the hills and mountains on either side of the road. At Tyrone the hills on either side of the town were in a blaze and, with a high wind prevailing, the town was not out of danger from the burning leaves and coals which were lifted and carried hundreds of yards in advance of the fierce flames.

Railroad Accident.—We learn from a correspondent at Millersburg, that the Buffalo express on the Northern Central road ran off the track, on 19th inst., a few miles above that place. The mail car was thrown across the track and upset. But one passenger car was off the track, and though the passengers were considerably shaken up, none of them received any injury. Two of the employees of the road were injured but neither of them fatally.

The accident caused great irregularity to all the trains during the day.

Kicked by a Mule.—Mr. Michael Oren, of Howe township, who earns a living by boating in the summer, got kicked in the groin by a mule belonging to a Mr. Zimmerman, of Millertown. The accident occurred on Wednesday morning near the Aqueduct station, and Oren came home on the afternoon Mail train, scarcely able to walk. He was taken to his residence in a buggy.—News.

The Carlisle Shoes are the best in the market. A full stock will be found at F. Mortimer's

Miraculous Escape From Death.—The Middleburg "Post" says: Mrs. Klose, wife of William Klose, of Adamsburg, this County, fell to the bottom of a well 33 feet in depth, on Wednesday, the 10th inst. The well contained no water and was covered with boards.—Mrs. K. thinking the covering secure stepped upon the same and fell through.—She is very severely bruised, but under circumstances is doing well and hopes are entertained of her recovery.

Brief Items.

The citizens of the upper end of the borough begin to think the Street Commissioners is neglecting that part of the town. Shaffner's counsel have determined to take his case to the Supreme Court, on a writ of error.

Millertown has a new military company called the Graybill Zouaves.

The water has been let into the canal and boats are already on the move.

Wanted—A few live men to stir up the Railroad excitement, so that in time the road from Duncannon to Loysville may be built.

New, Sugar Cured Hams and a lot of superior country Bacon for sale by F. Mortimer.

W. W. Davis, Esq., Editor of the Juniata County Republican, died on the 12th inst.

At the Cumberland County Court Judge Junkin fined several jurors $1 each for failing to answer to their names when called.

The rafting season has commenced, and quite a number went down the Susquehanna last week.

Our Duncannon correspondent has "played mum" for a couple of weeks. We hope he has not got tired of well-doing. Let us hear from you "Knickerbocker."

The Cumberland Valley Journal is getting inquisitive, and asks: "Who wrote Hartman's speech accepting the nomination? saying it was hawked around Harrisburg in printed form, four hours before the Convention met?"

We have received several answers to the Geographical Enigma in last week's TIMES, but the first correct one, was from A. H. Gleim near Landisburg. A. H. Moore, of Philadelphia, sends a correct answer to the riddle.

A fire occurred near Clay Lick Hall, Franklin county, on Wednesday last, destroying the Carpenter shop of John Angle. The sparks also communicated fire to the stable of Wm. Cutchall, near by, in which was a mare, cow and hog. A lot of corn and hay was consumed for Mr. Cutchall. The loss of Mr. Angle is about $1,000—$600 insurance.

It is a remarkable fact that Pain Cure Oil is driving all other "Oils" and Liniments from the market. Why is it? Because it will certainly do all that is claimed for it, and is warranted.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, he would, no doubt, have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped has are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others, will do well to remember this.

EDITORIAL NOTICES are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying that we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcohol nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Bilio-ness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as a general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the immense and continually increasing. 1444.
