CARSON'S STELLAR OIL. This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best in the end by far the cheapest. Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which will, wherever USED, remove the CAUSE of such accidents. We allude to

Carson's Stellar Oil FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.

The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.

1ST. Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.

2D. Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.

3D. Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.

TH. Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCY will always be maintained, for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.

To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.

STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

All orders should be addressed to JARDEEN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, 139 South Front Street, Philadelphia.

VALUABLE Farm at Private Sale. THE undersigned offers at private sale, a farm in Ryan township, Perry county, Pa., containing 57 ACRES.

The land is the best in the neighborhood, with running water in every field, is under good fence, and has thereon erected a new Frame Dwelling House.

There is also a thrifty Young ORCHARD on the place. This land lies along two public roads—the Fishing Creek road and the Lamb's Gap road—the last named divides the land in two parts—30% on the one side and 20% on the other; on the 20% acre piece is a New Frame Dwelling House, and on the other FRAME 22 x 28, erected for a house with a never failing Spring of water. This land will be sold as a whole, or in two Tracts, to suit purchasers.

Persons desiring to purchase a farm will do well to examine this one before investing elsewhere, as it lies within four miles of Marysville, and the Pennsylvania Railroad—one of the best markets in the county.

Further information can be had by addressing Dr. JOHN USAW, Jenner X Roads, Somerset county, Pa.

HUMOROUS ITEMS.

Note for Darwin: In time the mulberry tree becomes a silk gown—and a silk gown becomes a woman, at least some of them.

A western paper describes a letter of Horace Greeley's as looking "as if somebody had smashed a bottle of ink over it, and tried to wipe it off with a currycomb."

A crusty old bachelor says that "love is a wretched business, consisting of a little sighing, a little crying, a little dying, and a great deal of lying."

Says an Irishman writing home from Chicago, "Shoor, there are no people at all in the dinsel population districts, and the side walks is in the middle of the street."

Miss Rose Hawthorne, the youngest daughter of the novelist, has recently married, and by her change of name destroyed the proverb. She is now a Rose without Hawthorne.

Speaking of theoretical farming, Josh Billings says he once knew a man who wouldn't even set a gate post without having the ground analyzed to see if it possesses the proper ingredients for post holes.

A Western publisher lately gave notice that he intended to spend fifty dollars for "a new head" for his paper. The next day one of his subscribers dropped him the following note: "Don't do it—better keep the money and buy a new head for the editor."

A Mr. Wilkinson has written to a Western paper, informing the public that he thinks the newspaper report of his death is incorrect. He says that, to the best of his knowledge, he is alive, and would be kicking, if he could find the author of the report.

A paper gives the following directions for using its new patent hen pills:—"From one to ten boxes of pills is a dose for young fowls. The best way to give the remedy is to tickle the chicken under the wings until it laughs, when the medicine can be shot down its throat with a musket or horse pistol."

An editor down east thus speaks of a contemporary: "He is too lazy to earn a meal and too mean to enjoy one. He was never generous but once, and that was when he gave the itch to his apprentice. So much for his goodness of heart. Of his industry, the public may the better judge when we state that the only day he ever worked was the day he mistook castor oil for honey."

An editor relates how a colored barber made a dead-head of him. He offered him the usual dime for shaving, when the fellow drew himself up with considerable pomposity, and said:

"I understand dat you is an editor."

"Well, what of it?" said we.

"We nebbber charge editors nuffin!"

"But, my woolly friend," we continued, "there are a good many editors traveling nowadays, and such liberality on your part will prove a ruinous business."

"Oh! nebbber mind," remarked the barber: "we make it up off de gummens."

A serving woman, who was sent to bring water for some domestic purposes, returned completely drenched, after what was considered rather an unreasonable length of time. Her mistress demanded what had kept her so long. "Kept me so long!" said the dripping absentee, with a look of surprise; "deed, ye may be glad to see me again; the burn was runnin' frae bank to brae. I missed a fit and fell in, and if it hadna been for Providence and another woman, I'd ha' been drowned."

A punning correspondent of the New York Sun recently visited a female seminary, and here is his account of it:

I told the boss that I didn't think this could be a good school.

Says he: "Why?"

Said I: "There are too many misses here for correct lessons."

Then he called up a lovely girl in green merino, with a yellow silk string round her neck, and she stepped up to a nice clean blackboard and took a piece of chalk and daubed it all up. Then the boss exclaimed: "What do you think of that?"

I told him that any fool could make white marks on a blackboard with a piece of chalk. "Give her a piece of charcoal," says I, "and if she makes them white marks with that, then she will be smart."

"Why," said he that is the map of Asia. "Drawn by a minor," said I; "that makes it Asia Minor."

The boss told me to give 'em a problem to solve. I did, and I don't think they have solved it yet. I got up and said:

"My dear young ladies, I propose to you the following problem, and I'll give you ten minutes to stick your fingers in your ears, and rock to and fro to solve it: If it takes one hundred years for a hard shell clam to hop one mile on one foot, avoidu-ous measure, how long will it take a loco-motive going forty miles an hour to reach its destination, apothecaries' weight?"

"They couldn't one of 'em do it. One wanted to know how old the clam was, another where the destination; in fact they wanted me to do the sum for 'em, and I got disgusted and left."
