CARSON'S STELLAR OIL.
This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best is in the end by far the cheapest. Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which will, wherever USED, remove the CAUSE of such accidents.—We allude to
Carson's Stellar Oil
FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.
The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for, and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family,—
1ST, Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.
2D, Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.
3D, Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.
TH, Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCY will always be maintained,—for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.
To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.
STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.
All orders should be addressed to

HUMOROUS.
A Good Sell.
During the month of January, 1850, while stopping at the Sutter House in Sacramento City, California, I accidentally overheard a conversation between two gentlemen, one was from New York city, and had been in the country nearly a year, and the other had just arrived.
The new comer was lamenting his condition and his folly in leaving an abundance at home—especially two beautiful daughters who were just budding into womanhood—when he asked the New Yorker if he had any family.
"Yes, sir, I have a wife and six children in New York, and I never saw one of them."
"After this reply, the couple sat a few moments in silence, the interrogator again commenced:
"Was you ever blind, sir?"
"No sir."
"Did you marry a widow, sir?"
"No, sir."
Another lapse of silence:
"Did I understand you to say, sir, that you had a wife and six children living in New York and had never seen one of the them?"
"Yes sir, I so stated it."
Another and a longer pause of silence. Then the interrogator again inquired:
"How can it be, sir, that you never saw one of them?"
"Why," was the response, "one of them was born after I left."
"Oh! ah!" and a general laugh followed, and after that the New Yorker was especially distinguished as the man who had six children and never saw one of them.

An Irishman a short time since, while leading a pig through the streets of Lewistown, Me., wished to fill his pipe, and tied the piggy to the wheel of a hack while he charged his "tuden." In the meantime the hackman, all unconscious of the weight attached to the carriage wheel, took his seat and drove off, dragging the pig after him. Pat was last seen picking up stray pieces of pork on the street.

A lawyer, upon a circuit in Ireland, who was pleading the cause of an infant plaintiff, took the child up in his arms and presented it to the jury, suffused with tears. This had a great effect, upon which the opposite lawyer asked the child, "What makes you cry?" "He pinched me," answered the little innocent. The whole court was convulsed with laughter.

Judge Hoar was trying a case in New Bedford, where the witnesses all rejoiced in the name of "Cash," every one of whom appeared badly on the witness stand. As the District Attorney was bringing on his fifth witness, "John Cash," he leaned forward and whispered: "I suppose you call your witnesses cash because they are no credit to anybody."

The test by which a young man cannot fail to find a good wife, is to select one who wears her own hair only. This receipt was furnished by a venerable Boston Clergyman.
P. S.—To ascertain the fact take her by the head and jerk.

A Frenchman was once asked to dinner, with an assurance from his host that he would not make a stranger of him. "But I beg you will make a stranger of me," said the wily Frenchman, who doubtless calculated that, in the latter capacity, he would have the best chance of a good dinner.

Near Manchester the following is posted on the fence: "NOTES.—Know how is aloud in these medders, eny men or women letten thars kowsn the rood, wot gits inter my medders aforeseed shall have his tail cut off by me, Obadiah Rogers."

"Gentlemen of the jury," said a blundering lawyer, in a suit about a lot of hogs, "there was just thirty-six hogs in the drove. Please to remember that fact—thirty-six hogs—just three times as many as in that jury box, gentlemen."

An exchange, describing a fashionable party, speaks of a gallant who whispered to a lady and "took her part," and ungallantly adds that "it is not a very difficult feat to take a lady apart, these times; but then there is very little left of her afterward."

A youthful novice in smoking turned deadly pale and threw his cigar away. "O, dear!" he said "there's some'in' in that segar that's a makin' me sick." "I know what it is," said his companion, puffing away. "What?" "Tobacker."

Scene in a horse-car in Boston—Car stops, smiling young lady enters; every seat full. An old man rises at the other end. "O don't rise," said the lovely girl, "I can just as well stand," he replied, "I am going to get out."

A sharp old gentleman traveling out West got a seat beside his wife in a crowded car by requesting the young man who sat by her to please watch that woman while he went into another car, (as she had fits.
