CHEAP FOR CASH, CALL AND SEE. CARSON'S STELLAR OIL. This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best is in the end by far the cheapest. Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which will, wherever USED, remove the CAUSE of such accidents.—We allude to

Carson's Stellar Oil FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.

The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for, and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.—

1ST, Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.

2D, Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.

3D, Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.

TH, Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCY will always be maintained,—for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.

To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. He has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.—

STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

All orders should be addressed to JARDEN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, 136 South Front Street, Philadelphia. 15 1 y

HUMOROUS ITEMS

A western editor speaks of a contemporary who is "so dirty that every time he goes up stairs there is a rise in real estate."

Massa, Christopher Columbus was a queer man," said a negro orator. "A notion crossed him one day, and den he crossed an ocean."

Irate Officer.—"O'Brien, you're out o' step, sir?" Smart Private—"Shure, thin, darlin', it's meself that's only man in the houl ridgment that's in step, ye mane."

A lady tells us that when she was a poor girl, living in the country, she used to "plant corn in her bare feet." This imparts a new idea of the origin of these troublesome things.

Rowland Hill made a good remark upon hearing the use of the letter H discussed, as to whether it were a letter or not. If it were not, he said it would be a very serious affair for him, for it would make him "ill" all the days of his life.

The compositor has his own way of punctuating and spelling, and this is the way he treated a familiar passage of Scripture: "The wicked flea, when no man pursueth but the righteous, is bold as lion."

A wretched husband in St. Paul advises for the recovery of his wife, "a taul woman with grey eyes and a small babie just beginning to wank," who have been appropriated by "a taul pok maket feller with red hare."

The greatest instance of impudence on record, is that of a Yankee, who, in an Italian city, stopped a religious procession in order to light his cigar from one of the holy candles. Ere the procession had recovered from its astonishment, the audacious smoker had disappeared.

Rather corpulent old lady: "I should like a ticket for the train." Booking clerk (who thinks he will make a joke): "Yes'm; will you go in a passenger train or in the cattle train?" Lady: "Well if you are a specimen of what I shall experience in the passenger train, give me a ticket for the cattle train by all means."

A schoolmistress, while taking down the names and ages of her pupils, and the names of the parents, at the beginning of the term, asked one little fellow.

"What's your father's name?" "Oh, you needn't take down his name; he's too old to go to school to a woman," was the reply.

A young couple who had been holding a cosy tele-a-tele in a retired alcove at a party in Nashville, were somewhat abashed, on emerging into the party, to find that around the young man's neck there was the print of two arms in chalk and diamond dust, on his shoulder a quantity of good powder, and other equally unaccountable phenomena observable elsewhere.

A dissipated young man who ran away from home, and spent his substance in riotous living, resolved at last to return to the paternal roof. His father was kind enough to forgive the young rascal for his wickedness, and rushing into the house, overcome with joy that the boy had returned, cried out to his wife: "Let us kill the prodigal; the calf has returned!"

Mr. Jones, after having spent an evening over his bowl, went home a little "how come you so." He was fortunate enough to find his better-half asleep. He went to bed, and, after a moment's consideration he thought it would be policy to turn over lest his breath might betray him; when Mrs. Jones opened her eyes, and, in the mildest manner in the world, said: "Jones you needn't turn over, you are drunk clear through."

A new lady in town was attracted Sunday evening by a little boy on the street. He was a bright little fellow but was, rather shabbily dressed, and had an appearance of being better acquainted, with the shades than the light of the world.

"Where is your home, my little son?" she asked. I haint got no home," he answered. "Got no home?" she repeated the tears standing in her eyes. "No, marm," said he equally affected; "I board."

A Yankee was narrating some of the war sights he had seen to a crowd of astonished Germans; and among the rest he said, "Why when I was in Mexico, under Scott, I saw a ball larger than this house." This was too much for the credulity of the Germans, and one of them said, "Dunder and blitzten! vare you dey got de cannon to fire it off?" "Dunno," replied the imperturbable Yankee, "but I saw it." "Vat kind of ball was it?" "Oh, a ball given by the general in Mexico to celebrate the victory."

An Irishwoman at a loss for a word, went into a drug-store, and looking much puzzled, said she had come for some medicine, but the name had slipped her mind "entirely" but sounded like "Paddy in the garret."

The druggist willing to "make a sale," tried to think what it could be, and hit upon Paragoric. "Indade thin that's it," said she, obtaining the medicine, and going away delighted, that she had come so near the "right word."
