Strawberry Festival,-The Reformed Sunday School of this place will hold a Strawberry Festival on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings (being the 12th and 13th) for the benefit of said school. The scholars of the school are requested to come at 6 P. M., on Thursday eve.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

Accident .- On Friday evening last Lilly Kepner a girl about 8 years of age, and the oldest daughter of Wm. T. Kepner of this borough, fell from the loft in her father's stable, and received severe injuries. Besides breaking the right arm, between the wrist and the elbow, the wrist was put out

Arm Broken .- On Saturday afternoon a child about four years old, daughter of David Hochenscheilt, residing in Centre twp., fell from a chair and broke its right arm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Ard of this borough, and the little girl is getting along as well as can be expected.

A Leg Off.-On Wednesday evening of last week, a man giving his name as Peter Totten, and who is a resident of Massachusetts, jumped off a freight train going West, near the Acqueduct Station, in this county, and was thrown on the other track where he was caught by the mail train East, and had his leg so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. The man was taken to Harrisburg where the operation was performed. He was also injured about the head, but it is thought not so seriously, but that he may recover.

Another Accident.-On Saturday afternoon last, Mr. Woodmansee proprietor of the Foundry at Newport, had his right hand badly mashed and his arm broken while putting on a belt, by getting his hand between the belt and the pulley.

Barn Burned. -- About 1 o'clock on Saturday night last, the barn occupied by Abraham Long, on the other side of the Juniata river opposite Newport was found to be on fire. There is no doubt but what the building was set on fire, as all the stock was let loose except one calf. The remaining contents including a large amount of grain and most of the farming implements were destroyed. The loss is quite large. We did not learn whether Mr. Christian Long to whom the barn belonged, had any insurance on his building.

Reunion .- Thursday the 9th inst., was the day appointed for the annual reunion of the 9th Penn's. Cavalry at Duncannon. This battle-scarred and and gallant old regiment was well represented by its surviving members from Perry, but there were few in attendance from the neighboring Counties. A sumptuous repast was prepared in the yard of Shires' Hotel, and the occasion was enlivened by the music of the Duncannon band. An impromptu and very spirited address was delivered by Isaac G. Black, Esq., of Bloomfield. The day was closed by a ball a the National Hotel.

A Villianous Act .- On Monday afternoon of last week a little girl, whose parents reside in Centre twp., (whose name we do not give at their request,) was attacked while returning from school in this borough, by a villian who attempted to commit a gross outrage upon her. The child who is not yet ten years of age was somewhat injured by the scamp. She describes him as a short stout man, and what is rather singular is, that her description of him compares with the description given by two other girls, who have had similar attempts made upon them in that part of the township within two years. It is high time this villian was hunted up, and planted under the superintendence of Judge Lynch, as there is no doubt, but what all these outrages have been committed by the same person, and one who belongs in that vi-

Fatal Accident.-A boy named Isaac Myers, about fourteen years of age, accidentally fell under the wheels of a dirtwagon he was engaged in driving out on the dirt bank at Williamstown colliery, on Tuesday morning last, the wheels of which passed over his left leg, cutting it almost entirely off. Medical aid was immediately called to his relief, but the system had received so severe a shock that it could not again rally and he expired in the afternoon of the same day at the house where he, with his father, whose name is Jacob P. Myers, were boarding. They had come to this place about three weeks ago from the vicinity of Gettysburg, to which place his body was conveyed on Wednesday .- LyA Mysterious Affair.

On last Thursday a startling report reached us, stating some time during the previous night, Mr. Thomas Shearer residing near Shermansdale, had been called from his house by some person, who beat and stabbed him and leaving him for dead.

Upon further inquiry we learned that Mr. Shearer's statement of the matter is as follows: He says that during the night he was awakened by some person calling him to come out, and that he accordingly obeyed the summons, and as he stepped out he saw no one, but had his attention attracted by a noise across the road. Just at that instance he heard a noise behind him, and as he looked around, was struck by a stone or club and knocked senseless. When he recovered and got into the house, he found that he had been stabbed in the breast, but that the knife had struck a bone and done but little injury. He also says that he was kicked while down and hurt internally. It is stated that a letter was found saying that the injuries had been inflicted by the same person, who, a few mouths since had set fire to Mr. Shearer's store, which with most of its contents was destroyed, and this was a portion of the revenge which the writer had visited upon his victim.

On Wednesday evening, a man was arrested by constable Gibney on a warrant issued by 'Squire Fleck, and was brought before Esq. Clouser, of this borough when bail was entered for his appearance .-George Askins was the person arrested, but there is no doubt of his innocence, and his arrest only adds to the wrong that has been done. There are many startling rumors in circulation in connection with this affair, and the matter is being thoroughly investigated. The parties conducting the investigation are confident of soon clearing up the mystery and expect to find that the person guilty of causing the destruction of the store will be found to be the same person who has caused this last

The Crops.—The Harrisburg Telegraph of last week says: "Forty miles journey through a neighboring county has convinced us of the fact that the crops(excepting hay) will be immense. Grain, fruits and vegetables of all kinds are in a forward state, considering the season. The wheat is especially very promising; oats may be short, should the weather continue dry; but apples, pears, cherries and peaches will yield a very large crop. Our readers will be yield a very large crop. Our readers will be gratified to learn that there is every promise of an abundance of fruit, and that pri-ces will undoubtly be lower than they have been in the past fifteen years.

We wonder what sort of spectacles the Telegraph man looks through. As far as we have seen, and we have been through Lebanon and Cumberland as well as this county, there is no chance of more than half a crop, of either wheat or hay. Many of the wheat fields could be hoed without cutting off a stalk of wheat. Fruit is about the only thing which now promises a good

Killed on the Railroad.-A York paper says:-On Thursday night shortly after twelve o'clock as the Cincinnati Express was passing along a short distance south of York, a German man named Henry Steinicker who was on the track was run over and crushed in a horrible manner. His entire body was mangled, only his head and one leg could be recognized as parts of a human being. The train stopped and the sad intelligence was taken back to the depot, when the yard engine was brought out and the mangled body was taken to what is known as the dead-house near the depot. The unfortunate victim was about 60 years of age and has several children. He resides near the depot. He was a tailor by trade but worked around town as a day laborer.

Accident. - At the third lock, about three mile above Mifflintown, last Sabbath afternoon a party of young folks, more bent upon observing their own pleasure than upon observing the Sabbath and its worship, went out in the river in a boat. By some accident one of the party Miss Dorthyetta Warner, daughter of R. S. Warner, fell overboard and was taken out of the water in an insensible condition. Whether she fell out by accident or was suddenly attacked by spasm is not known. She still lies so dangerously ill that there is but little hope of her ultimate recovery. In-

Another Candidate. The Shippensburg "News" of last week says: "We understand that Gen. William Willis of New Bloomfield, Perry county, is strongly urged by his friends to become a candidate for nomination for Congress in this District. Mr. Willis is both a gentleman and a scholar, and if the XVth District has to be represented by a democrat, we say by all means select him."

Brief Items.

Newville is disgraced by calithumpian

Strawberries sold in this borough last week for 12½ cents per quart.

Ten "drummers" in town last Thursday and it was not a good day for drummers

Benjamin Rice, Jr., of Spring twp., expects to have 1500 quarts of strawberries from 1 of an acre.

If you want any job printing done well and cheap, call at this office. We will do it promptly.

Fires were necessary for comfort on the 4th and 5th of this month. How is that for June weather?

A New Post office to be called Fontana has been established in South Anville twp., Lebauon county. New potatoes as large as a walnut was were brought into our office last week by Mr. George Swartz. Fruit is about the only crop that now promises even an ordinary yield, and that bids fair to be very plenty.

On Saturday last a resident of Lewistown employed on the railroad was run over by the cars near that place and killed.

The "Valley Sentinel" at Shippensburg has been purchased by a new firm and came to us again last week looking as natural as "If you want to be cheated, patronize tramping peddlers. If you want to get your money's worth, patronize legitimate, established dealers.

Centre twp., is undoubtedly the champi-on township for miles of road. Some farmers think the roads will soon cover as much as is left for cultivation.

A house in Spring twp., occupied by Thomas Anderson was struck by lightning during the shower on Wednesday evening But little damage was done.

The remains of an infant was found in the attic of a house in Altoona recently, and from appearances the child had been put there a year or two since.

The lightning rod swindlers, continue to flourish. A Spring twp., man was caught last week to the tune of $108. It is singular that people will put more confidence in strangers than they would in there own neighbors.

Wm. A. Lindsay, Esq., who is well known to many of our citizens and who was recently county superintendent of Common Schools in Cumberland county has recently been appointed to a clerkship in the State department of Common Schools, by Hon. J. P. Wickersham. Mr. L. is well qualified for the position, and we congratulate him on his appointment.

On Friday evening Dr. J. G. Shatto while returning from a fishing excursion to the Millerstown dam lost his pocket book and did not discover his loss until he reached home. The next morning another party from this borough found it about two miles from town with the contents all safe. Their luck at finding pocket-books was better than their luck at catching fish.

THE BAR ROOM REMEDY for weakness THE BAR ROOM REMEDY for weakness of the stomach is a dose of Rum Bitters. They are surcharged with Fusel Oil, a deadly element, which is rendered more active by the pungent astringents with which it is combined. If your stomach is weak, or your liver or bowels disordered, tone, strengthen and regulate them with Vinegar Bitters, a pure Vegetable Stomach Corrective and Aperient, free from alcohol rnd capable of infusing new vitality into your exhausted and disordered system.

DEATHS.

GALBRAITH .- At Landisburg on the 8th inst., Dr. James Galbrath aged about 76 years.

In Memory of Mrs. M. E. Shuler.

A few years ago there stood in our midst a fair and lovely weman anticipating bright hopes for the future, but alas she is now numbered with the slent sleepers of the dead! For some time she has been the victim of that insidious disease con-sumption. Her sufferings, though often acute, she bore with Christian fortitude. She desired to live, but only for the sake of her husband and children. Just as the first mild breath of Spring had caressed her pale cheek, and the tiny floweret peered up its modest head for kindly recognition and admiration; when all nature seemed bursting into life, this tenderly nurtured and cherished flower suddenly droops and dies. Although greatly afflicted for a long time, yet she with her family indulged hopes of her recovery. Alas for human expectations! dispelled like the mists of the morning by the brightness of the sun. Yet we sorrow not as those who have no hope, we feel that our loss is her gain, that she has but left a house on earth for one of the many mansions of the skles. After returning from a visit to the south, we again called to see her, and found her as usual suffering. but patient and submissive. The languid smile of recognition as we came into her room, and the low weak tones of her voice as she said. "Oh I am so glad you have come home again," we knew then in after years would be our sole memento of There was a still voice whispering to us (as we listened to her sweet tones of courteous greeting) that but a few days would pass, and our hearts would be darkened with sorrow, our brains throbbing with the terrible meaning of the words is dead!" "Dead!" whisper the word softly; let it echo deeper in our hearts, say it over and over ere you realize the truth and know that she is gone. On the stairs her light familiar step has ceased to sound, and we who have so often met her lovely smile, and received her kind greeting, shall never again hear that sweet voice; but the echo of those frail lost footsteps will ever sound sadly in our ear. Oh how silently would we have greeted her when last we met, had we known that her foot was already upon the first step of that bright stairway leading to her home on high, and her eyes were gazing far above to that glorious door opening to receive her. Alas it is not given us to know this! There is a picture photograped on our memory that time may soften but never wear away. The last look in life before she was confined to her room-her face so white and pure-her kind eyes fixed upon us, her hands crossed upon her breast to hold the shawl more closely If a horse has a good constitution, and has once been a good horse, no matter how old ours. But the tone was sad that answered us, and the lips looked weary as she said, "I am so tired, I shall rest now my Auntle has come." But the Cold Water Cure brought no return of health to her cheek, and she came home more prostrated than when she left. She has gone from the loved one of her choice; from the sweet voices of her children; from the tender care of her little daugh ter, all that remains to them is the memory of her true good heart. Through the hall rings a plain-tive cry "Mamma, Mamma," and in the lovely eyes of her child is a searching lonely look, as if the lovely head was missing its wonted caress. No mother's arms will ever again fold the little brown head close to a loving heart, and soothe its childish griets. No mothe's voice will ever again whisper " My precious Jennie, my darling Willie" and thus deepen the love light in her childrens eyes Their yearning must ever shadow them, time has softened the blow. They have lost a lov ing mother, one who was ever solicitous for their happiness and pleasure. We who met her as a stranger, yet became attached to her after a few months intercourse. With a sad heart for her loss and a sincere sympathy for her invalid husband and motherless children, I offer this as a tribute to her memory "Strangers into life we came and dying is but going home." BETTIE H.
