Sheep Killed .- A few days since the Sheriff levied on sixteen sheep belonging to John Reeder, and the next night the dogs killed fourteen of them. On the same night eight sheep were killed belonging to Geo. Barnett, of this borough.

Unlucky .- Mr. Lloyd Yohn who is employed as brakesman, on a freight train, and who was a short time since badly hurt near Newport, was injured a few days since by some person throwing a stone which struck him in the face, while the train was pasing the Cove Tannery. His lip was cut open so that it required sugical aid to sew up the wound.

Struck by Lightning.-During the storm of Thursday afternoon last, the lightning struck the barn belonging to Henry Ayle in Centre twp. The fluid entered at the roof knocking two of the rafters to pieces, tearing off the weather boards at the gable end, then passing along the spouting to the opposite end of the barn doing but little damage there however, and then going into the ground.

To Pensioners.-Pensioners on account of the loss of any member or members of the boby are, under the act of June 6, 1866, entitled to increase by the act of Congress, passed May 27, 1872. To secure such increase no intervention of an attorney and no formal application will be necessary. The Commissioner of Pensions will, at an early day, inform the public of the steps requisite to establish the claim.

Sudden Death .- On Thursday morning last we were much startled by the report of the death of Mr. Robert Willis, a merchant of this borough. Mr. Willis' death occurred at about 5 o'clock on that morning. The day previous he had not been very well but up to five minutes of the time of his death, no one thought he was in any immediate danger and his sudden decease was a surprise to the whole community. Mr. Willis was a man respected by a large circle of friends. He was a member of several secret societies, three of which, the Odd Fellows, the Knights] of Pythias and the Mechanics attended the funeral. His remains were taken to the grave yard at "Little Germany."

A Big Safe has been bought by the County commissioners for the Treasurers office. When we had no bank in the county in which the Treasurer could deposit his surplus funds and the county had no large indebtedness, a safe was not considered necessary. It seems to us that an individual who would borrow money with which to purchase a pocket-book, would not rank high as a financier, and why should not officials be judged by the same rule. It might be thought that the safe was bought for the deposit of the "Lightning Insurance policies" issued by the Lightning rod company on the Poor House, but as they only cost $700, it is not probable that the Commissioners would pay $800, for a safe to keen them in.

We have received several communications on this subject one of which will be found in another column.

Fire .- On Saturday evening the 10th inst., the large barn belonging to Jacob Dunkle, in North Middleton twp., a half mile West of Carline was totally destroyed by fire, originating by a spark from the locomotive of the 5:30 p. m., train. The flames spread with great rapidity, and notwithstanding the exertions of firemen and citizens, the barn with its contents which consisted of some eighty bushels of corn, hay, straw, farming implements, &c., were entirely consumed. The stock, we believe was all

Interesting to Candidates.-A story is told of a Congressional Candidate who was out electioneering, and stopping at a house asked the lady who came to the door if her husband was at home. She replied in the negative. The candidate expressed regret, as he wanted to secure his vote for the coming convention. "Oh, if that's all," returned the lady, "you needn't give yourself any uneasiness; he'il vote for you. There were seven candidates along here this morning, before he left home, and he promised to vote for every one of them."

A Hard case. Says the Gettysburg Star & Sentinel-the bone man from York passed through New Oxford on Friday, the 17th ult., gathering bones. He stopped in the woods for the night near Kohler's Mill, one and a half miles from New Cocford, and slept in his wagon. His wife was with him, and she was found, dead in the mora-ing, having died of small pox.

TERRIBLE STORM. Buildings and Orchards Destroyed.

On last Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock a heavy rain accompanied by a terrific storm passed over portions of this county. The damage done by the storm seems to be mostly confined to Wheatfield twp., where the tornado tore up trees leveled fences and unroofed buildings. On Saturday we went over the road from this borough to Duncannon, which seems to have been the route taken by the storm, and noted the damage done.

The first evidence of the terrible gale is seen on the farm of Jessee Powell in Centre twp., where ten or a dozen large apple trees are torn out by the roots. Joseph Miller on the adjoining farm also lost a number of fruit trees. No damage except by the washing of the water was noticed from this point to the forks of the road, near the residence of Fred. Horn, where the little piece of woodland between the two roads had trees torn up and twisted off, for about twenty or thirty feet in width. A few rods further on, the storm crossed the road and shows a well marked track up through the woods on the left. From there until we reached the "Log Church" the only evidence of the storm was here and there an uprooted tree or a piece of damaged fence. At the church the storm appears to have taken renewed energy as nearly half of the grove of stout old oaks just west of the building are twisted off or torn out by the roots, some of the trees falling across the road. Fortunately the church is uninjured as the trees protected it from the gale. The battle with the oaks seems to have taken the force out of the storm, as for the next mile or more we noticed but trifling damage. Near the Centre School House however, it appears to have gathered new strength as in this vicinity great damage was done. The porches at the residence of Christian Heisley were injured and a great portion of the orchard just above his house was blown out by the roots. A wagon shed and a corn crib on the farm of Henry Bartruff was blown down and eighteen fine fruit trees were destroyed. John E. Ebersole had a large part of the roof blown off his barn and trees and fences demolished. The barn belonging to Henry Durnbaugh had the roof blown off, and the barn belonging to Aaron Keim had the roof taken off and was moved from its foundations. A log stable belonging to Wm. Keim was blown down. In it were two horses one of which was somewhat injured, the other not hurt. A little beyond we came to a large frame stable owned by Joseph Lepperd which has the roof blown off and is moved from its foundation and so badly twisted out of shape that it appears impossible to repair it. The barns belonging to Andrew Briner and A. Genzyl 'were also considerably injured.

The heaviest loss however falls on Jacob Ristine. His large barn which was a good one and built only a few years since, was unroofed and then blown from the foundation, leaving the building a complete wreck. Portions of the barn were found one hundred rods distant, where they had been carried by the wind. Some of the stock which was in the barn at the time was injured and two vehicles and a horse rake were buried in the ruins. His tenant house was also so badly injured that it is uninhabitable. Mr. Ristine thinks his loss will this point the storm seems to have spent its strength as east of there, the only evidence of the storm is the occasional uprooting of a tree, or the leveling of a few fences.

Some little damage was done on the farm of Henry Clay where we learn that a corn crib and wagon shed was blown down. In the Southerly part of Spring twp., some little damage was done to sheds and a few trees were uprooted. In this borough we had but little rain and no wind on that day, In some places in the county the rain was accompanied by hail. All through Wheatfield twp., where the most of the injury was done, the duration of the storm is said to have been only five or six minutes.

College of New Jersey .- The One hundred and twenty-fifth annual commencement of this college is to be held this month. The Baccalaureate sermon is to be preached on Sunday the 23d Inst., and the 24th 25th and 26th will be occupied by other exercises. Trains will leave West Philadelphia for Princeton at 7:15 and 8:30 A. M. arriving at 9:25 and 10:25 A. M.

Examinations for admission will be had on Saturday the 22d and Thursday the Drewned. - On Monday afternoon, between 8 and 4 o'clock, Daniel Longacre, an employee at the Keystone Hotel, Selinsgrove, in company with several other boys, was swimming in the canal at the railroad bridge and was drowned. | Search was made and the body found in about half an hour afterwards, twenty yards from the bridge. He was an orphan, aged about 16 years.

Freeburg Courier. Accident.-Jacob, son of Wm. Bertch, of Freeborg, met with a painful accident on Saturday, while mowing grass. He was defending himself from a locust that had been flying about his head, and in doing so tread into the ceythe, which he had first dropped, cutting his feet severely. We are pleased to learn that by proper treatment he is doing as well as can be expected.—1b.

The Public Finances.

Mr. Editor.—It has been a source of regret to your correspondent, and to tax payers generally, to see from time to time, that those in authority in our County, should so shamefully and wilfully a buse the best interests of the county, and disregard the interests of the people, by squandering their money in reckless and useless expenditure.

That the blame must be equally born by That the blame must be equally born by both parties, all know full well, as it is a fact, that, Commissioner Liueaweaver, and Commissioner Rice, struck hands and against the solemn protest of Mr. Stambaugh the other commissioner, ordered the purchase of a fire and burgiar proof safe for the use of the commissioners office, at a cost of only $800. It is a well known fact, that the commissioners have no money under their immediate convol and why under their immediate connrol, and why would not the vaults in the Court House answer every purpose to protect the vouch-er's books, and other papers ?"

This being the case patent to all what use is there for an expenditure of this kind, at this time to, when we are in debt to the sum of something like thirty thousand dol-

There is another item, that I cannot pass by, the purchase of about $700, worth of Lightning rods for the new Poor House, and this I know was done against the wishes and over the protest of Mr. Stambauch baugh. Now we ask in all candor why is this thusly? Mr. Lineaweaver being a Demo-crat and Mr. Rice a Republican, the people of this county irrespective of party would be pleased if they would rise and explain why this wanton waste of the peoples money? REPORMER.

Newport, June 15, 1872.

Henry Ward Beecher and Christian Union. Henry Ward Beecher and Christian Union.

The Christian Union is a Religious weekly, edited by Henry Ward Beecher, and published by J. B. Ford & Co., 27 Park Place, N. Y. It comprises 24 pages, large quarto, securely pasted at the back and trimined at the edges, ready and convenient for reading. It is the ablest and best religious paper published; active, carnest, alive on all questions pertaining to the growth of a healthy, religious life. Not blindly bound by creed or party, not tied to old conservative notions, and mouldy supercitions yet deeply, thoroughly, truly religious. But two years old, it circulates thousands more than any other religious paper in America; but its rapid growth does not so much surprise us when we consider that it fully meets the wants of our time,—for Christian union is the thing, broad-shouldered, clear-headed, farsighted, large-hearted.

This is the only religious journal for which Mr. Beecher writes, or to which he in any way contributes. His characteristic articles of all kinds and the only complete and authorized verbatim reports of his weekly "Lecture Room Talks," as well as Mrs. H. B. Stowe's delightful (and for the year 1872 exclusive) contributions, are attractive features of the paper; while the various outside articles and the admirably sustained regular departments of the paper furnish something of interest to every member of the family.

"Wide Awake" and "Fast Asleep," a pair of French Oll Chromos, will be given away to all annual subscribers. The regular market price of these beautiful pictures is ten dollars, at which thousands of them have been sold. They are simply charming, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children. The Christian Union one Year and both these chromos will be sent for $2$; ten cent extra for postage; and twenty-live cents extra for mounting and varnishing, when that style is preferred, as it nearly always is. $4,000 TO BE CREDITED TO MUTUAL POLICY HOLDERS. The Pennsylvania Central Insurance Company having had but little loss during the past year, the annual assessment on Mutual Policy-holders will not exceed 60 per cent, on the usual one year cash rates, which would be equal to a dividend of 40 per cent, as calculated in Stock Companies, or a deduction of 2 per cent, on the notes below the usual assessment; and as the Company has over $200,000 in premium notes, the whole amount credited to mutual policy-holders, over cash rates, will amount to $4,000. Had the same policy-holders in sured in a Stock Company, at the usual rate, they would have paid $4,000 more than it has cost them in this Company. Yet some of our neighbor agents are running about crying Fraud! Fraud! and declars that a mutual company must fall.—But they don't say how many stock companies are falling every year, or how many worthless stock companies are represented in Perry County today. It is a well-known fact that a Mutual Company cannot break.
