

For the Bloomfield Times. Western Correspondence. PALOMA, Adams county, Ill., June 5th, 1872.

Sirs:—I send the enclosed $1.25 as I see my present term of subscription will end soon, and I cannot think of being without THE TIMES. I also send a few items which may be of interest to some of your readers.

This village is improving slowly, there are several new houses and other buildings going up this spring. The Methodists are erecting a fine large building for a Parsonage in Paloma which when completed will be a credit to the church and community.

This part of Illinois is well-improved with many good farm houses and some good barns but generally they do not have as large, or as good barns as in the east.

There will be about 60 acres planted in Cucumbers near this village this summer. There are picking establishments in Quincy that contract for and buy the pickles and pay 13 cents per hundred.

On the morning of May 23d a portion of this region was visited by a terrific Tornado that passed in an easterly direction but in a narrow course not over a couple of hundred yards in width, unroofing houses and barns, tearing up orchard and other trees and carrying them off many rods distant, and leveling fences and making the rails fly in the air like straws.

A reader of "The Times."
