CARSON'S STELLAR OIL.
This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best is in the end by far the cheapest. Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.
THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which will, wherever USED, remove the CAUSE of such accidents.—We allude to
FOR
ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.
The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for, and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.—
1ST, Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.
2D, Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.
3D, Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.
4TH, Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCE will always be maintained,—for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.
To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.
STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

HUMOROUS ITEMS

Undergoing repairs—the lady whose peace of mind was broken.

Says John to Boosey you are such a big devil that whenever you come near, satan gets into me. That's so replies Boosey for the scriptures tell us that the devil came out of the man and went into the hog.

The new style of collar for gentlemen is simply terrific. They are an economical article, however, as with moderately long pantaloons they do away with all necessity for a shirt.

A clergyman, having made several attempts to reform a profligate, was at length repulsed with, "It is all in vain, doctor; you cannot get me to change my religion." "I do not wish that," replied the good man, "I wish religion to change you."

An Indian complained to a rum-seller that the price of his liquor was too high. The latter, in justification said: "that it cost as much to keep a hog-head of liquor as to keep a cow." "Maybe he drink as much water," replied the Indian, but he no eat so much hay."

"Why, Emily, how do you do?" "I am very well, Julia. I celebrated my wooden wedding last week." "Why, I didn't know you were married. How did you celebrate it?" "By marrying a block-head."

Two weasels found an egg. "Let us not fight for it," said the elder weasel, "but enter into partnership." "Very good said weasel the younger. So taking the egg between them, each sucks an end. "My children," said Redtapes, the attorney, "though you have but one client between you, make the most of him."

An Irishman at Philadelphia was watching the conscription wheel, when suddenly, losing all control of himself, he burst out, "Whirl it round! rouse it, will ye?" "What's the matter with you?" said the Provost-Marshal. "Oh, be jabbers! turn it round a dozen times, for the man you drew last is my next door neighbor."

A learned clergyman, was accosted in the following manner by an illiterate preacher who despised education: "Sir, you have been to college, I suppose?" "Yes sir," was the reply "I am thankful," rejoined the former, "that the Lord opened my mouth without any learning." "A similar event," retorted the clergyman, "took place in Balaam's time; but such things are of rare occurrence, at the present day.

A negro witness, on a horse trial in New Jersey court, was asked to explain the difference between a box stall and a common stall. Straightening himself up, he pointed to the square enclosure in which the judge was seated, and said: "Dat ar's what I calls a box stall dere whar dat old hoss is a sitting!" It took a good many raps of the judge's gavel to restore order in that court.

In a Cincinnati church on a recent Sunday a gentleman who had placed his hat in the aisle beside his seat was greatly surprised to see it a moment later following a lady down the aisle. He immediately got down on all fours and went for his hat, but every time he put his hand out to get it the lady took a step forward and it was just kept out of his reach until he had gone the full length of the aisle. By this time the audience were in a titter, and he took his stove-pipe and went out in a hurry.

H. G. sometimes indulges in a little humor, as for instance:—
Being importuned by a couple of uncommonly ragged, dirty beggars for alms, he asked a gentleman with him.
"Why are these fellows like lillies?"
"I give it up," was the reply. "I should call them nettles."
"They are like lillies," replied H. G. "in that they toll not, neither do they spin; yet Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like them."

Benjamin Greenleaf the mathematician, whose mathematics have puzzled so many young brains, was an eccentric man, who loved a pleasant joke. Going one day with a basket on his head into a room where there were several boys, he asked one boy after another. "Are you fond of fractions?" Each lad, fearing a problem would follow, said, heartily and promptly, "No sir." But one courageous fellow said, "Yes sir." To him was given the basket with its contents—a number of nice apples, halved and quartered—with the remark, "You may divide those fractions."

An Irishman was up before a criminal court on the charge of having in his possession forged notes, knowing them to be counterfeit. "Do you know your rights?" said the judge.
"Not so well as I know my wrongs," said he; "for we haven't been so intimate acquaintances of late."
"Well, you have the right to challenge the twelve men who will be called upon to try you," said the judge.
"Pon my sowl, thin," said the prisoner, "I'm not going to exercise it. That's a nice job you'd be after givin' me this mornin', to challenge and fight them too— one down and another come on, I suppose."
