FARM AND HOUSEHOLD ITEMS

We invite communications from all persons who are interested in matters property belonging to this department.

The Cost of Poor Stock.

Probably few farmers think of what it costs to keep a poor cow or a land-pike hog. They readily understand that a good cow, or a hog that will dress 200 lbs. at ten months old, is profitable stock to keep, but the fact that this gain is really the amount of loss on the poor stock, is rarely considered. If a cow yields 200 lbs. of butter in a year, which brings $60, and another yields 76 lbs., which brings $22,50 tue loss on the poor cow is just $35.50. The dairy business of this country is not on a satisfactory footing by any means and solely on account of the multitude of poor cows, which are kept year after year. This is a matter which should be looked after by the County Agricultural Societies. Every one of these associations should introduce improved stock, by means of thoroughbredmale animals, into their localities. It is a good work to elevate the ideas of farmers and to foster a taste for improvements, but to the great majority of their clients the possession of such stock, or the use of it is quite unattainable, on account of want of the necessary means. By making this a special branch of their operations, the usefulness of these societies would be much increased, and their importance greatly enchanced .- Agriculturist.

A Certain Cure for Founder.

As soon as you have discovered that the horse is foundered, take him to the nearest branch or stream of water, and tie him standing in the water nearly up to his belly "-his head being so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm, let him stand in the stream several hours; then take him out, rub his legs thoroughly to promote circulation, and again tie him in the water if he is still lame. By repeating this process two or three times, the horse will be effectually cured. If the weather is cold when the horse is foundered, the horse must not be allowed to stand in the water more than about twenty minutes at a time; he should be taken out and his legs rubbed diligently till they become dry and warm and the circulation of the blood made active, and this process must be repeated till the horse is cured, which will be generally within 24 hours. This remedy will cost nothing, can do no possible harm and will, in every instance, cure if the disease has not been of too long standing. Don't be afraid to try it .- Rural World.

Selling Corn in the Ear.

There is a practice, prevailing to some extent of selling corn in the ear, at 70 pounds to the bushel, which makes an addition of from 12 to 14 pounds for the cols according as shelled corn is reckoned at 56 or 58 pounds.

In transporting corn in the ear there is a loss of 12 to 14 pounds in weight on every bushel-about one-sixth. There is yet another: the cobs have a value on the farm which they have no where else. It is true they take considerable time to decay, but they become one of the best fertilizer on the farm. They are good absorbents of turine and other liquid manure, and it is much better to use them in this way on the farm, than to give them away at a heavy outlay of time and hauling, and then buy and haul fertilizer to the farm.

Then, again, in dry seasons by giving 70 pounds of corn in the ear to the bushel you give from two to four pounds of corn with the cobs, which will more than pay for shelling and other expense.

Scotch Cake.

(Confectioner's receipt). One pound of fine flour, a half-pound of fresh butter, a half-pound of finely-sifted loaf sugar; mix well in a paste, roll out an inch thick a square, pinch the edges so as to form small points, ornament with comfits and orange chips; bake in a quick oven. When of a pale lemon color, it is done. This is easy, and very nice.

Jelly Pudding.

To one quart of sweet milk add one-half pint of bread or cracker crumbs, the yolks of three or four eggs, one cup sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a little lemon. Bake a few minutes, cover the top with jelly, beat the whites of the eggs with three-quarters cupful of sugar, and spread above the jelly. Brown in the oven.

Ginger Snaps-Excellent.

Two cups of shortening (one of butter soft, but not melted,) one cup of molasses, one cup of sugar, two cups of water, a little salt, one large teaspoon of soda. Ginger to the taste. Mix very stiff, roll thin, and bake in a quick oven.

Steam Pudding.

Two cups of flour, one cup of milk, one half cup of butter, one half cup of sugar, one half cup molasses, one cup raisins, one teaspoon soda. Steam two hours and serve with a sauce.
