CARSON'S
STELLAR
OIL
This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best is in the end by far the cheapest.
Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which will, wherever USED, remove the CAUSE of such accidents.—We allude to
Carson's Stellar Oil
FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.
The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for, and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are so broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.—
1ST, Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.
2D, Because it is the most-BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.
3D, Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.
4TH, Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCE will always be maintained,—for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.
To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., &c. It is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.
STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

HUMOROUS.

Didn't Like Mutton.
A good story is told of the recent excellent performance of Handel's "Messiah" at the Broadway Baptist Church. A farmer took his wife to hear the grand music so splendidly rendered on that occasion, and, after listening with apparent enjoyment, the pair became suddenly interested in one of the grand choruses: "We all, like sheep, have gone astray."
First a sharp soprano voice exclaimed, "We all, like sheep—"
Next a deep bass voice uttered, in the most earnest tones.
"We all, like sheep—"
Then all the singers at once asserted.
"We all, like sheep—"
"Darn'd if I do!" exclaimed old rusticus to his partner. "I like beef and bacon, but I can't bear sheep meat!"
There was an audible titter in that vicinity but the splendid music attracted attention from the pair, and they quietly slipped out.

The philopena trick, where "the young lady takes an almond in her teeth and the young man bites it off," used to be popular in Doylestown, in this State; but it is hardly ever tried any more since the painful accident which occurred at a philopena party not long since. The lady who held the almond between her teeth was somewhat advanced in years and not a little dilapidated. The almond was uncommonly tough, and the man who nibbled was in deadly earnest. He closed his teeth on it and pulled. It would not give. He pulled harder, but made no impression. He clinched his jaws upon it and gave a desperate wrench. It is unpleasant to relate what followed but as truth crushed to earth will certainly rise again anyhow, whether we try to keep her down or not, we may be pardoned for saying that as a consequence of the violent efforts of the young man, he found himself standing up in that room holding in his mouth a nut in which were fixed a double set of porcelain teeth belonging to the aforesaid maiden. It was embarrassing in a certain sense for all parties; the young man thought it would be soothing to the feelings of the company if he went home. Other and less perilous games are in vogue at Doylestown now.

A funny incident occurred at a Detroit barber's the other day. An old negro arose from his seat to take one of the barber's chairs, when looking at one of the pier glasses, he saw, as he supposed, another gentleman about to take the chair. The old darkey at once apologized for rising out of his turn, and was about to sit down, when he noticed his image about to do the same. He again arose, and the mysterious stranger followed. This was repeated two or three times much to the darkey's disgust, and he finally yelled out, "If it's your turn, why don't you sit down?" amidst shouts of laughter from the rest of the customers.

A few days since one of our popular attorneys called upon another member of the profession, and asked his opinion upon a certain point of law. The lawyer to whom the question was addressed, drew himself up and said, "I generally get paid for telling what I know." The questioner drew a half dollar "fractional" from his pocket, handed it to the other, and coolly remarked: "Tell me all you know and give me the change." There is coolness between the parties now.

A Girl of nineteen, was continually manifesting her natural lively spirits in laughing "he, he, he," for which her good mother gently reprimanded her, saying that it was not nice to be forever uttering that masculine pronoun "he." "Pshaw," returned the daughter with bewitching archness, "don't the fellers all laugh her, her, her?" Her mamma had nothing to say.

Two neighbors living in Westchester county had a long and envenomed litigation about a small spring, which they both claimed. The Judge, wearied out with the case, at last said: "What is the use of making so much fuss about a little water?" "Your Honor will see the use of it," replied one of the lawyers, "when I inform you that the parties are both milkmen."

The grand-ma of a little four-year-old had been telling her one day not to say that people lied, but rather that they were mistaken. Her grand-ma, to amuse her, told her a bear story, which was a tough one to believe. After she had finished, the little girl looked up into her face and exclaimed, "Grand-ma, that is the biggest mistaken I ever heard."

"Do you think Jonah cried when he was in the fish's belly?" was the question put to an oily seaman by a sleek querist. "Don't know," replied Jack, "but should think not as there was plenty of blubber without his'n."

A very little girl was learning to read and part of her lesson ran: "The cat has a rat." She thought a moment, and then exclaimed: "Cats don't have rats, cats have kittens. But sister Susan has rats in her hair."
