Half-Sheets.—We must ask our exchanges and some of our new subscribers to excuse us for sending them half sheets again this week.

Election in North Carolina.

The Election in North Carolina which took place on Thursday last has probably resulted in the success of the ticket which was supported by the Liberal Republicans and Democrats.

LATER.—Despatches received this morning confirm the previous reports, and place the Liberal Republican and Democratic majority at 3 to 4,000.

Quite an earnest desire has been expressed by many persons to know which side Senator Sumner would take in this Presidential contest.

General N. P. Banks of Mass., has been the subject of various contradictory statements, and he has now ended all controversy as to his position by a letter, in reply to an invitation to address a Grant meeting, in which he states that he heartily approves of Greeley's nomination and says: "My duty to myself and to my country requires me to give him support."

Political Feeling South.

A correspondent of the Christian Union reports the following conversation which took place between himself and a Southern planter, as illustrative of the political feeling among the darkies in the South!

"There is Scowling," said Mr. B., pointing to the foreman of a gang of a hundred hands in a rice field: "I consider him one of my most reliable, trustworthy men. He knows me well, and I really think he would do anything I would ask him except vote for me; and if he had his own choice he would do that, but as matters stand now it would be as much as his life is worth to attempt it. He would vote in preference for the veriest rascal in the district—one whom he knew to be such—provided he called himself a Republican. Although I do not know that I have a single personal enemy among them, I could not count on more than eight votes out all the men I employ." Mr. B. never meddles in politics, and these remarks were made in reply to my question as to what chance he would stand were he to run for office.

A man in Tarrytown has a fast mare which he named Maggie Haggerty. Shortly after Miss Haggerty, who is a resident of that town, interviewed the owner of the animal and horse-whipped him declaring "I will teach you to name your horse after me." The conduct of the girl shows that naming the mare after her, was an insult—not to her however but to the animal.

Terrible Flood.

A letter from Keokuk, Ill., describes a flood which visited that city on the 26th ult. For four hours, from seven in the evening to about eleven at night, the rain came down in torrents, flooding nearly every cellar in the business portion of the city and causing great damage and loss, as many were stored with provisions. Throughout the whole city the yards, gardens, and cellars of residences were flooded and in several instances families were obliged to vacate the first floor of their dwellings and seek refuge in the upper stories.

No sooner did the animal find himself free than he immediately swam ashore.

Buried, and Yet Lives.

About the 16th ult. a young man was found in New York city suffering from sunstroke, and taken to Bellevue Hospital, where he gave his name and residence as John Bowers Schmidt, of No. 128 Rivington street. On the following day or the next he died, and the fact was made known to the people living at the place indicated, who took the body in charge, and on the 18th it was attended by a large funeral party and taken to the Lutheran Cemetery for interment.

Singular Doings of Lightning.

The Chester Democrat records the following remarkable freak of lightning which occurred a few evenings since to a former resident of Delaware county: On the evening in question Mr. J. Ford, of Brandywine Hundred, Del., was taking his family out riding in a two-horse carriage when the party was overtaken by a thunder storm. Mrs. Ford sat on the back seat of the carriage with her little son, some four or five years old, upon her lap.

An Oshkosh paper says: A ludicrous occurrence took place on the day of the fire, which caused considerable excitement on Main street, just south of Church street. While everybody was busy putting out the falling sparks, suddenly the screams of a woman were heard above the surrounding din, and she came running along the sidewalk with her bustle all on fire.

The woman ran and screamed, small boys and dogs got out of the way in a hurry, while strong men were so overcome by the excitement of the occasion as not to have many wits at their disposal. At length a man, bolder than the rest, grabbed the woman and beat her bustle until he put the fire out.

More Sensitive than Sensible.

A man in Tarrytown has a fast mare which he named Maggie Haggerty. Shortly after Miss Haggerty, who is a resident of that town, interviewed the owner of the animal and horse-whipped him declaring "I will teach you to name your horse after me." The conduct of the girl shows that naming the mare after her, was an insult—not to her however but to the animal.

The Buffalo Presbytery have deposited the Rev. M. L. P. Thompson, who is charged with adultery at Jamestown, from the ministry, and indefinitely suspended him from communion. Thompson was suspended some years ago for a similar offense in Cincinnati, and on recommendation of his Buffalo brethren, that he had heartily repented his sin was reinstated.

Miscellaneous News Items.

A child named Mary Jane Hawkins, died of starvation in Brooklyn last week.

A terrible fire occurred at Hunter's Point, opposite N. Y., on last Wednesday night.

At Evansville, on the 30th ult., during a heavy storm the German M. E. Church was blown down, and two houses unroofed. One man was injured.

Miss Jane Barsack, of Crete, Mo., recently awoke in the morning and found a three-foot rattlesnake in her bed. She got up with alacrity.

At Savannah, the attempt of negroes to ride on the street cars culminated in a riot on the 29th ult. Two whites and several negroes were wounded, and there is much excitement.

A Westport, Mass., dog attacked a circus elephant in the street the other day. An eye witness says that the dog in about one minute was spread out over seven yards of ground about the thickness of sheet iron.

Rev. Kenneth H. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist church in Dedham, Mass., was last week held for trial, in the Superior Court, on the charge of bastardy. The victim is Sarah J. Howell, one of the members of his congregation.

A woman near Dayton stepped on a barrel hoop which flew up and struck her on the limb causing her to believe that she was bitten by a rattlesnake, whereupon she drank a large quantity of spirits to counteract the effects.

At Terre Haute on the 31st ult., while a circus procession was passing Prairie City Bank, attracting the attention of the officers of the institution, a thief slipped in the back way and stole $3,937 in money, and escaped.

A valuable young horse belonging to Mr. George Keebaugh, of Dublin twp., Juniata county, took fright a few days ago, and while running over a flat, smooth stone, fell and broke its leg in two places. The poor animal was shot to relieve its suffering.

Between nine and ten o'clock on Friday morning, an embankment caved in at the Lebanon Valley ore bank, near Swatara station, instantly killing John Meackloy, who was at work there. Mr. Meackloy was a young man, and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his sudden demise.

On the 30th ult., a terrible steam-boat explosion occurred on the Mississippi river, two miles above McGregor, Iowa. The raft boat James Melburn, bound up, exploded her boiler with fearful effect. Of twenty-five persons on board only ten were saved as far as could be ascertained, and several of these are badly scalded.

St. Timothy Hall, recently well known as the Academic and Military Schools of Rev. Mr. Van Bokkelen, at Catonsville, seven miles from Baltimore, used at the present as a summer boarding resort, was burned on the 29th ult. Part of the furniture was saved. There was about one hundred and fifty boarders in the building, all of whom escaped unhurt.

Thomas Carroll, while riding near San Jose on Saturday night, saw two men who he supposed to be highwaymen. He shot one of them and captured the other one. An investigation shows the victim to be Henri Pattell, an inoffensive French florist, who, with a companion in the same business, was going to the woods to gather flowers. Carroll has been committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter.

The Lebanon (Ky.) Standard says: "In cutting into his counter the other day, in making an elevator, Mr. George Graves discovered a rat's nest which contained about a quart of fragments of bills and $13.50 of unutilized currency. The fragments comprise portions of $5, $2, and $1 bills, and different denominations of fractional currency. Thus are accounted for a number of losses incurred years ago, which the loser was at the time wholly unable to explain."

The women of Carthage, Indiana, have abolished all liquor saloons in that town, and the thirsty Carthaginians will hereafter be compelled to resort to the private bottle. Some sixty indignant matrons visited the dramshops and besought their owners to abandon their vile business, and, failing in their mission, they formed in solid phalanx, marched to the misery mills, one after the other, smashing the furniture and leaving havoc behind them in every case.

A Wonderful escape is reported from Bilston, South Staffordshire, England. A miner was shut up in a pit, when there was a tremendous fall of coal, and soon after the pit was quite flooded with water. It was thought that even if the poor fellow had escaped suffocation from the coal, his death by drowning was inevitable. Yet, after many hours imprisonment, the man was taken out alive and unhurt. He was strong enough, to walk home to his wife and which he insisted on being allowed to do. To those supposed bereaved ones, his appearance seemed literally that of one who had risen from the dead. Their joy and amazement may be readily conceived since no case of deliverance, under like circumstances, was ever before known in Bilston.

DR. CARPENTER,

No. 136 MULBERRY STREET, NEWARK, N. J.

Is now treating successfully Consumption, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, with his COMPOUND MEDICATED INHALATIONS, CONCENTRATED FOOD, AND COUGH SYRUP.

During the past two years Dr. Carpenter has treated and cured thousands of cases of the above named diseases, and has now in his possession certificates of cures from every part of the country. THE INHALATION is breathed directly into the lungs, soothing and healing over all inflamed surfaces, entering into the blood; it imparts vitality as it permeates to every part of the system. The sensation is not unpleasant, and the first inhalation often gives very decided relief, particularly when there is much difficulty in breathing. Under the influence of my remedies the cough soon grows easier, the night sweats cease, the hectic flush vanishes, and with improving digestion the patient rapidly gains strength, and health is again within his grasp.

THE CONCENTRATED FOOD rapidly builds up the most debilitated patient, presenting to the stomach food already to be assimilated and made into good, rich, healthy blood. THE COUGH SYRUP is to be taken at night to alleviate the cough and enable the patient to obtain sleep. Full directions accompany each box of my remedies, which consists of: One Inhalant; One Bottle of Alternative Inhalant; One Bottle of Soothing Febrifuge Inhalant; One Bottle of Anti Hemorrhagic Inhalant; One Bottle Concentrated Food; One Bottle of Cough Syrup.

Price of containing remedies to last one month, $10; two months, $18; three months, $25. Sent to any address C. O. D. Pamphlets containing large list of patients cured, sent free. Letters of inquiry must contain one dollar, to insure answer. Address: A. H. CARPENTER, M. D., Newark, N. J.

DR. CARPENTER'S CATARRH REMEDY will give immediate relief, and will effect a permanent cure in from one to three months. It is the only remedy for last one month, $5; two months, $8; 3 months, $10. CANCER in all its forms successfully treated.—Send for list of patients cured to A. H. CARPENTER, M. D., Newark, N. J. 6 31 32

The Great Cause OF HUMAN MISERY!

Just Published, in a Sealed Envelope, Price, 6 cts. A LECTURE ON THE NATURE, TREATMENT, AND RADICAL CURE of all Diseases caused by excess, &c. Also, Nervousness, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Elts, etc., etc. By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," etc., etc.

The World renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience, that the awful consequences youthful indiscretion may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cords, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically. THIS LECTURE WILL PROVE A BLESSING TO THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS.

$4,000 TO BE CREDITED TO MUTUAL POLICY HOLDERS. The Pennsylvania Central Insurance Company having had but little loss during the past year, the annual assessment on Mutual Policy-holders will not exceed 60 per cent. on the usual one year cash rates, which would be equal to a dividend of 40 per cent. as calculated in Stock Companies, or a deduction of 2 per cent. on the notes below the usual assessment; and as the Company has over $200,000 in premium notes, the whole amount credited to mutual policy-holders, over cash rates, will amount to $4,000. The same policy-holders insured in a Stock Company, at the usual rate, they would have paid $4,000 more than it has cost them in this Company. Yet some of our neighbor agents are running around crying "Fraud! Fraud!" and declare that a mutual company must fail. But they don't say how many stock companies are failing every year, or how many worthless stock companies are represented in Perry County to-day.

It is a well-known fact that a Mutual Company cannot break. JAMES H. GRIER, Sec'y of Penn'a Central Insurance Co. 6 25t
