A FAMILY PAPER

Which can be trusted and which is always full of interest, is a necessity of the times.

Christian Union

The Unsectarian, Religious, Literary Family Newspaper, whose Editor is HENRY WARD BEECHER.

It has something for Every Member of the Household, in matters of Religion, Morals, Politics, Literature, Art, Science, Agriculture, Poetry, News, Fiction for Young and Old, Truth for Everybody.

MR. BEECHER'S vigorous pen, in his Editorials and Star Papers, and Mr. Ellinwood's famed verbatim reports of the helpful LECTURE ROOM TALKS in Plymouth Church, are great attractions.

Attractions For 1872.

Wide Awake and Fast Asleep.

Two exquisite FRENCH OIL CHROMOS, the subjects of which are Life-Size, and cannot fail to please all who love art or children.

The "New York Evening Mail" says of these Chromos:

"Wide Awake," and "Fast Asleep," are two examples of the Chromo Lithographic Art, which has few rivals in the market in attractiveness."

A subscriber writes to the Publishers: "The Chromos far surpass in beauty and style, anything that I expected. A neighbor of mine bought the same Chromos in New York a few months ago, and paid ten dollars for them. Please accept my thanks for them."

ENLARGEMENT AND CHANGE OF FORM.

On the first of January the paper was enlarged, and will hereafter be folded in Twenty-four Large Quarto Pages, pasted at the back and trimmed at the edges, a decided advantage in convenience for reading, possessed by no other religious weekly published.

MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE

during the year 1872. WILL WRITE EXCLUSIVELY for the CHRISTIAN UNION (with the exception of One short story already engaged for another publication.)

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

are as follows: ONE YEAR ONLY $3 00.

This will entitle the subscriber to the paper and the above pair of beautiful Oil Chromos, delivered at the publication office.

If the subscriber will add Ten Cents for expenses of wrapping, mailing, etc. ($3.10), the Chromos will be mailed, post-paid, in the order of names on the Subscription List; and if the subscriber prefers to send still 25 cents more ($3.25 altogether), the copies so mailed will be strongly mounted on card-board, sized and varnished, all ready for framing.

This is the method we recommend as the most satisfactory and the one which nearly all our subscribers order.

Send money by Postal Orders, Drafts, or Registered Letters.

FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

CARSON'S STELLAR OIL. This is not the lowest priced, but being much the best in the end by far the cheapest. Do not fail to give it a trial, and you will use no other.

THE alarming increase in the number of frightful accidents, resulting in terrible deaths and the destruction of valuable property, caused by the indiscriminate use of oils, known under the name of petroleum, prompts us to call your special attention to an article which will, wherever USED, remove the CAUSE of such accidents.—We allude to

Carson's Stellar Oil

FOR ILLUMINATING PURPOSES.

The proprietor of this Oil has for several years felt the necessity of providing for, and presenting to the public, as a substitute for the dangerous compounds which are sent broadcast over the country, an oil that is SAFE and BRILLIANT, and entirely reliable. After a long series of laborious and costly experiments, he has succeeded in providing, and now offers to the public, such a substitute in "CARSON'S STELLAR OIL." It should be used by every family.—

1ST, Because it is safe beyond a question. The primary purpose in the preparation of STELLAR OIL has been to make it PERFECTLY SAFE, thus insuring the lives and property of those who use it.

2D, Because it is the most BRILLIANT liquid illuminator now known.

3D, Because it is more economical, in the long run, than any of the dangerous oils and fluids now in too common use.

4TH, Because it is intensely BRILLIANT, and therefore economical, giving the greatest possible light at the least expenditure to the consumer. Its present standard of SAFETY AND BRILLIANCY will always be maintained,—for upon this the proprietor depends for sustaining the high reputation the STELLAR OIL now enjoys.

To prevent the adulteration of this with the explosive compounds now known under the name of kerosene, &c., &c., it is put up for family use in Five Gallon cans, each can being sealed, and stamped with the trade-mark of the proprietor; it cannot be tampered with between the manufacturer and consumer. None is genuine without the TRADE-MARK.

STELLAR OIL is sold only by weight, each can containing five gallons of six and a half pounds each, thus securing to every purchaser full measure. It is the duty and interest of all dealers and consumers of illuminating oil to use the STELLAR OIL only, because it alone is known to be safe and reliable.

All orders should be addressed to

JARDEN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, 136 South Front Street, Philadelphia.

June 4, 1872.

HUMOROUS.

Had no Change.

While riding in the cars in Ohio, some days since, I sat beside a fellow who looked weather beaten, as though he had sat out on a water melon, for a couple of weeks.

I said to him, "What's your name?"

Said he, "Adolphus."

Says I, "Your mother's name?"

Says he, "Mary."

I looked amazed, and says I, "Mary, Mary? can it be possible that you are the lamb?"

Says he, "The what?"

"The lamb that Mary had."

He revealed the fact that he was not the lamb, and he further observed that "It is all fired hot!"

Says I, "Did you ever visit a tropical clime?"

Says he, "A what?"

Says I, "A hot clime."

Says he, "Jimminy crix, stranger, I've plowed up a side hill Fourth of July when the sun set my straw hat on fire and if that ain't a hot climb why I hain't been to one yet."

Before I had time to reply, the conductor came along and shouted "tickets."

Greeny—"I've got none."

Conductor—"Money then."

Greeny—"I hain't any."

Conductor—"Got a pass?"

Greeny—"No, hain't got a pass."

Conductor—"Thunder and spikes, you don't expect to travel on the cars for nothing, do you?"

Greeny—"You advertise to take a feller for nothing anyhow."

Conductor—"How so?"

Greeny—"Down there in your office in Cincinnati you've got a big sign stuck up in store writing, it says 'Thro' to New York without change, and nary a cent of change have I got."

The conductor dropped his anchor and set the fellow ashore right by a big white post with some black letters on it, which read C, 30 miles.

Near Goodrich's landing, La., their lived, some years ago, two brothers, Pete and Jake Weir. They were the ugliest-looking specimens of humanity that ever trod earth; their hands and feet were of monstrous size, of which John Mulligan the minstrel might say: "I'll fro 'em all over ye!" One day a flatboat having landed from down the river, Pete, who was not quite as ugly as his brother, went down to purchase a barrel of flour. On seeing him the captain could not suppress a burst of laughter. On recovering he said to Pete: "By Jove! you're the ugliest looking man I ever saw. If you can bring me a more hideous specimen of manhood than you are you may have the flour for nothing."

With a grin of satisfaction Pete turned on his heel, muttering "Jake's the man!"

The captain was almost dumbfounded to see him return soon after with a much worse looking oddity. He was shocked at the sight of such a repulsive couple but his tongue soon loosened, and Pete and Jake had hardly got within hearing distance when he roared out:

"You needn't come on board at all, I'll have the flour rolled out on the Levee."

A Parisian millionaire once wrote to the celebrated comic author, Scribe:—"Honored Sir—I wish very much to ally my name with yours in the creation of a dramatic work. Will you be so kind as to write a comedy of which I shall compose one or two lines, so that I may be mentioned in the title? I will bear the entire pecuniary expense, so that I may divide the glory." Scribe, who was vain to conceit, replied:—"Sir—I regret that I cannot comply with your modest request. It is not in accordance with my ideas of religion or propriety that a horse and an ass should be yoked together." To which the millionaire quickly responded:—"Sir—I have received your impertinent letter. How dare you call me a horse!"

An Irishman went into a Chicago store and says he:

"Did you put in the paper you wanted a man, sur?"

"Yes," said the storekeeper, "and I distinctly stated all applications must be made by mail."

"An' snith, an' it's myself that's a male, sure," said Pat.

A little girl went into a drug store the other day and said to the proprietor in a half whisper:

"If a little girl hasn't any money, how much chewing-gum do you give her for nothing?"

A painter being asked to estimate the cost of painting a certain house, drew forth a pencil and paper, and made the following calculation: "A naught is a naught; fives into three you can't, I'll paint your house for fifty dollars."

"Ye are the children of the devil," was the text of a minister recently in the morning, and in the afternoon he said, "children obey your parents."
