The Bloomfield Cimes.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENN'A. Tuesday, September 10, 1872.

THE number of persons lost by the "Me tis" disaster, proves to be between forty

A Man in Howard county, Kansas, is growing what he calls Japanese wheat very much resembling millet or Hungarian grass. It yields several tons to the acre, and is said to be excellent food for cattle and horses. It is already from five to six

A PITTSBURG special says that the Western Iron and Western Nail Association held a meeting there, the result of which was a decision to raise the price of iron and nails. The price of iron is to be advanced and policy, but column after column are four dollars on the previous rates, and nails twenty-five cents per keg.

THE Republican conferees of the District composed of Blair, Mifflin, Huntingdon and Cambria counties, have had three meetings and about two hundred and fifty ballots without yet making a choice of a candidate. The vote so far has been Barker.

Vermont Election.

At the Election in Vermont on the 3d inst., the Republican majority was about 26,000. The vote in that state for a few years past has been as follows:

	Dem. vote	Rep. vote	Rep. ma
1864	13,321	42,419	29,000
1868	12,051	44,173	32,12
1870	12,058	33,367	21,309

THE rule in the "civil service reform" that forbids assessments does not amount to much, judging by the following Washington despatch: On Saturday the clerks in the Post-office Department were paid off, minus two per cent, of their annual salary, which sum was assessed for political purposes, and there is great murmuring and indignation expressed in some cases at this action of the heads of bureaus.

CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL, one of the oldest Churches in England was seriously damaged by fire, last week, and for a time the destruction of the building seemed inevitable. It has been the habit for the past three hundred years to hold religious services in the Cathedral daily, and this custom was not broken by the fire, as the services were held after the suppression of the flames.

For some time past there has been "a corner" in wheat in Chicago, and in consequence that article had advanced largely in price, until the figures reached 156j cash per bushel in that city. Last week this corner gave way, and the price rapidly declined until it reached 110. It is to be ho ped that the breaking down of the corner, will carry with it to financial ruin, all who were engaged in building it up. The misfortune in this case, is that in their overthrow, will be involved that of many innocent persons.

The Louisville Fizzle.

The "straight out" convention which met at Louisville on the 8d inst., was a slim affair. The meeting was held in the Common Pleas court room, which accommodated the delegates but left little room for spectators. The convention went through the usual forms, and nominated for President Chas. O'Connor of New York, who declares he will not accept. For Vice President John Q. Adams of Mass., was nominated, who will accept. As the convention was held for the purpose of aiding Grant, a much better way and a cheaper one too, would be for the disaffeeted to vote direct for him. It is asserted that the clerks of Washington were assessed to raise money to pay the expenses of the convention.

Express Business.

The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad has assumed the express business on its different branches. The results to be obtained are, more thorough system and lower rates. Express companies have become monopoles, and it might not be a bad move on the part of all railroad companies to take the matter in hand and make a general reduction of rates. Business men everywhere avail themselves of the rapid transit occasioned by the express system, and would do so to a greater extent were the charges less. The post office department has offered the use of its mails for packages not weighing more than twelve ounces. And the railroads might still further benefit the people, by taking the express business from these companies which are swindling the public with outrageous charges.

Personal Abuse of Candidates.

If we were to judge by the party papers we would suppose the November election was to be held solely for the purpose of deciding whether Horace Greeley had been an able editor and whether Grant's course as a general during the war, was to be considered a success. The discussion of these questions, and personal abuse of the men, form the basis of all partizan editorials. Upon this subject an exchange speaks as

If we were to believe all that is said by each political party of its adversaries we should lose our abiding faith in the virtue of the people, and have no hope of the permanency of Republican Institutions. It is lamentable that great parties in these days do not rely upon the great principles underlying them. Instead of calling the popular attention to their principles, partizans now seem to depend entirely upon personal abuse and vituperation. Political campaigns have come to partake largely of this kind of warfare, until it would seem to the calm observer that our elections have been degraded into a mere conflict of personalities. The candidates of each supposed to be the standard bearers of principle, have become targets for the abuse and slanders of an uncrupulous partizanship.

We see but feeble attempts in the party press to discuss governmental principles devoted to personal attacks on opposing candidates, and abuse and villification of all who dare to differ. All this is wrong, leads to mischief, and portends an early decay of Republican institutions if continued. For when thus led, many people do not stop to think. It is the prerogative of American citizens, in their sovereign capacity, to exercise their own judgment, unbiassed and equally divided between Blair, Guss and uncontrolled. No Republic and no party can be held together by force. Men who think should and will act together, and the will of the majority is the law of the land.

In the campaign now in progress, questions momentous in their nature are on trial before the people. The course and policy of the administration seek the endorsement of the people, and is placed before them by the action of its friends for judgment. That policy, has passed into history, and its friends should devote their energies to its defence, while its opponents point out its alleged errors and failures. A conflict of personalities serves only to distract the attention of the people from the important issues before them, and an appeal to prejudice is constantly liable to lead to unjust judgment.

Cheap Postage.-The new postal law, if the people choose to avail themselves of its advantages, will seriously interfere with the express business, which is not wholly free from the charge of being an oppressive monopoly.

"By the new postal law which came into operation on the first of July, packages of dry goods hardware, drugs, (excepting liquid drugs), and other merchandise not exceeding twelve ounces in weight, can be mailed to any part of the United States at a charge of two cents for each two onncesor fraction of two ounces. Much time and money will be saved by this arrangement. The express companies demand at least

Francisco for twelve cents. For instance a pair of boots, if neither boot weighs more than the specified twelve ounces, may be wrapt up in two separate parcels, and sent across the continent for twenty-four cents ; whereas, under the old plan the transportation of goods of this description would have cost almost more money than they were worth. Up to the present time the post-office has lost money by the new system, owing to the fact that the general public has not taken advantage of it to such an extent as to make it remunerative. But it is expected that when the advantages of the system are thoroughly appreciated, the scheme will prove as profitable to the government as it is beneficial to the public.

A two year old child of Mr. Jacob Rohrbaker, of West Newton, came to its death on Monday uight of last week under the following distressing circumstances: An older sister was engaged in ironing and had a lamp lighted sitting on the table at which she was occupied. Having occasion to leave her duties for a moment, the child being left alone, upset the lamp, which exploded, setting its clothes on fire and burning itself in a terrible manner. The unfortunate child lingered in great agony for about eight hours after the accident, when death happily relieved it.

On the 3d inst., The Pacific Mail Company received a cable dispatch from Yokohama, via Hong-Kong, announcing that their steamship America, from San Francisco, August 1, arrived at Yokohama August 24, and the same night was burned to the water's edge. The crew were saved. Hong-Kong treasures, amounting to $400,-000 was on board, and was lost. The vessel was the newest of the company's steam ships, built in 1869, and valued at $1,000,000. The company are their own underwriters.

Another Illinois woman has kindled her fire with kerosene oil, and left ten orphan children.

A Remarkable Charge.

The Louisville "Ledger" publishes a letter from one of the delegates to the "Straightout" convention which makes some remarkable statements a portion of which we copy as follows:

"The Pennsylvania delegation was composed of all Grant men except myself, not one of whom even intended to vote for the nominee of this Convention. Their transportation to this Convention was obtained and paid for by the Grant people. My own and those of five others, each representing a district in Pennsylvania, I procured in the office of the Grant State Central Committee of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, corner of Eighth and Walnut streets, over a well-known tailoring establishment. For this transportation I had an order from Sipes, Chairman of the Bourbon State Central Committee of Pennsylvania. That order was obeyed by the State Treasurer of Pennsylvania, Bob Mackey, who is well known as one of Cameron's subjects. The band of music that accompanied us was furnished and paid for by the same Grant people, and our little banner that was carried by George Mountjoy is the same that designated the seats in the Radical Convention of the 5th of June, of the Pennsylvania delegation, that nominated U. S. Grant. * * * I now assure all my Democratic friends who may chance to see this communication that what I have stated here are facts, all of which I am prepared to
