Our Western Correspondence.

Topeka, Kansas, September 29th, 1872.

Dear TIMES-This being our first dreary fall looking day, with mist but not cold yet fire is pleasant, I seat me to send you some Kansas news. Last week we held our State Fair here but none of your readers come out to see our fine products of stock fruits, and grain. Cotton is being grown here as fine as ever I saw in Georgia. Seasons not being so long, the yield will not be so good, unless the difference in the soil will make it. Kansas took the premium in fruit over Missouri, and they got it last year. In my last letter, I left your readers at Hutchinson, on the Arkansas river, a town laid out in last January, then beyond all settlement, they now have over 600 inhabitants. It is strictly temperate and has no saloons in the place. The bridge across the Arkansas river, 1660 feet long is being rapidly pushed forward. But I promising to tell you of the towns farther up the valley. Peace is the next town up the river, 20 miles distance and is a quaker settlement, as the name indicates. This is a quiet town and in all their dealings there does not appear to be a disposition so common in this western country to get money, "honestly if you can, but get it any way." This also is a temperance town. As Peace is a good town, and setling very fast, there is good openings for good business men, shoe shops, blacksmith shops, &c., &c. There are many good homesteads here to be had yet. The next town above this is Raymond, pleasantly situated on a rise or bluff and commanding a fine view of the country as well as the river a half mile distant. This river has no banks, as do all the other streams west of the Mississippi, I have ever seen. That makes it very pretty with its sandy shores, and directly opposite is a large grove, the first timber above Hutchinson. Here is an abundance of fine building rock. The R. R. was finished to this point 3d of July 1872. Daily trains are now running to fort Dobbs 130 miles farther west. On the 4th of July Raymond had 4 buildings, now it has over 40 besides a large Hotel, which is now building. All along this road from Hutchinson west is now open for settlement. No land in this valley can be bought by speculators except the R. R. land. It is only open to pre-emption and homestead. Each man is entitled to both pre-empt once, and homestead once. Here the water is pure and generally soft, and is found in eight to fifteen feet from the surface. The soil is a sandy loam, four to five feet deep. The Arkansas is a swift running stream and is always full during July and August as the snow melts most rapidly then in the mountains. Although the country might be called level there are no sloughs or marshes and no ague, the land having an altitude of 1500 above the Gulf of Mexico, and a gentle breeze generally, fanning the prairie. The summers are long. This has been a very plentiful season having had an abundance of rain.

I will just say there is plenty of inducements to satisfy any person wanting a home, to settle in this lovely and fertile valley. A man to homestead must have money enough to buy a team and waggon, build a small house and to keep his family until the first crop grows, and with energy and perseverance, success is certain. March is the best time to move on to a homestead though May the 1st will do, as a good crop of corn can be grown, planted in June.

A Sad Case.

About two weeks ago, Patrick Levy, a lunatic in the Wards' Island Asylum, was granted leave of absence for a month, he being considered in a mild and improving condition. A few days since cries of murder were heard from the rooms occupied by Levy and his family, in a tenement house in N. Y. The door was burst open, and the policeman who entered saw Levy in centre of the room, holding his daughter to the floor with one hand, and an old meat saw raised with the other, in the act of striking her over the head with its jagged edge. The floor and furniture of the room were covered with blood, and Levy's wife lay in a pool of gore by the stove. After a hard fight, the officer succeeded in knocking Levy insensible, and getting him to the station-house, where he was put in a straight-jacket. It was then ascertained that Mrs. Levy had sustained two terrible wounds in the head, one of which had fractured her skull, and will probably prove fatal. The daughter's wounds were less serious, but are considered dangerous.-Levy made the attack without warning, and in a sudden fit of phrenzy, under which he is still raving.

Four young men of Jonesburg, Mo., consisting of two Furgeson boys, Owens and Pullen, on Saturday started to Arkansas in a spring wagon, and when about four miles south of Jonesburg one of the party got out of the wagon to shoot a squirrel, but the gun going off accidently shot three of them. Young Furgeson received two shot in his breast and side, creating considerable pain. Owens was considerably damaged but not seriously, while Pullen only received a few flesh wounds.

EW Five fresh young ladies were among the sixteen freshmen lately admitted to the University of Vermout.

and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, with his COMPOUND MEDICATED INHALATIONS, CONCENTRATED FOOD, AND COUGH SYRUP.

During the past ten years Dr. Carpenter has treated and cured thousands of cases of the above named diseases, and has now in his possession certificates of cures from every part of the country. THE INHALATION is breathed directly into the lungs, soothing and healing overall inflamed surfaces, entering into the blood, it imparts vitality as it permeates to every part of the system. The sensation is not unpleasant, and the first inhalation often gives very decided relief, particularly when there is much difficulty in breathing. Under the influence of my remedies the cough soon grows easier, the night sweats cease, the heetle flush vanishes, and with improving digestion the patient rapidly gains strength, and health is again within his grass.

The CONCENTRATED FOOD rapidly builds up the most debillitated patient, presenting to the stomach food already to be assimilated and made into good, rich, healthy blood.

THE CUIGH SYRUP is to be taken at night to alleviate the cough and enable the patient to obtain sides. Full directions accompany each box of my remedies, which consists of One Inhaler; One Bottle of Alterative Inhalant; One Bottle of Soothing Febrifuge Inhalant;
