MRS. HORACE GREELY died at New York on last Wednesday morning. Her death has been expected for some days, and for several years she has been an invalid.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE has had a lift upwards as will be seen by the following:

The Norwalk board of selectmen to-day admitted to the rights of electors Mrs. Sarah M. T. Huntingdon, and she will vote for presidential electors. She is believed to be the first female voter thus admitted.

Election to-Day.

To-day in addition to the general election for President, elections for State officers and Congressmen will be held in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Nevada and Tennessee, and elections for Congressmen in California, Connecticut (one district), Delaware, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin. In all the other States, except South Carolina and Florida, Presidential electors alone will be voted for; in South Carolina and Florida the Legislatures choose the Presidential electors.

The Horse Disease.

An able physician of Rochester, having made a post mortem examination of a horse who died from it, makes a report and recommends the following treatment. The posure, colds, hard labor, &c., but most probably it is produced by some atmospheric poison. The treatment should be the same as for a person, but as the horse is a disagreeable animal to take medicine, we cannot expect the same result from medicine that we would in administering to a person; the disease must vary in intensity, like all others; and in mild cases the animal will need but very little medicine; keep them warm and quiet; give one dram of the carbonate of potash in one half pint of water, every six hours, and apply to the throat externally equal parts of the oil of cubebs and cinnamon oil, three times a day until it produces considerable irritation. In the severer forms I should give the potash every two honrs until it acted upon the kidneys freely, three times a day; also, take six ounces tincture of bloodroot, six ounces of glycerine one dram of each the tincture of iodine and tincture of aconite root and thirty drops of carbolic acid, mix them all together and give one table spoonful three times a day in one half pint of water; apply a small fly blister to the throat externally, and hold the animal's head over some hot water and steam it by adding hot brick to the water, at the same time cover the head with a blanket; also give ten grains of quinipe and one-half grain of morphine night and morning; and if the animal gets it so it cannot swallow I would give one grain of sulphate of morphine, with the hypodermic syringe night and morning. Keep the animal warm, and wait for nature to produce reaction, or perform the operation called tracheotomy. "J. B. HENION. M. D."

At Cincinnati last week a man named Wm. Thomas was killed, by a boy about tifteen years old. Thomas was whipping his wife, who fled to the house of a neighboring woman. The latter expostulated, his son coming in shot him with a revolver, killing him instantly.

A Woman's Confidence tiame.

On Thursday of last week, a lady called at the National bank of Elkton, and asked for a draft on New York. Mr. Brown, the teller, told her the cashler, Mr. M'Farland, was out, and that she could not be accommodated with a draft till his return. She then said a certified check would answer, that she wanted to send it to Kentucky to pay some taxes on property in that State. The amount was $9.16, and Mr. Brown told her he could give her a certified check, and she paid him over the counter the amount of the desired check, $9.16, and signed the check H. T. Smith as drawer.

She was quite communicative on financial matters, and inquired and talked about investments, asking the Teller's advice in the matter. She also asked if the bank received money on deposit, allowing interest for the same, and finally saying she had some money she would deposit and check out. She left the bank, however, without making the deposit, and was soon forgotten by the bank officers.

On Wednesday last, the bank received through their Philadelphia agency the certified check raised to ninety 16-00 dollars, endorsed by E. J. Williams, and cashed by the Middletown (Del.) Bank. The check had been altered by adding ty to the nine, and the word traced over to make all the letters correspond. The amount in figures at the bottom had been doctored to correspond to the body of the check by adding an 0 to the right of the 9.

A Little Boy hangs Himself.

On Saturday afternoon last, Mrs. Wm. Hammonds, of this place, sent her little son Willie, aged about twelve years, into the cellar to sweep it out. At first she heard him stirring about. In about twenty minutes time, the little fellow not coming up and not hearing him, she became uneasy and looking into the cellar, discovered him hanging by a swing, (crected for his amusement,) and fearing something was the matter, hurried to him. He was sitting astride of the swing seat, with the rope under his right arm, over his shoulder and around his neck. To her horror and amazement she discovered that he was dead-having been choked to death with the rope. She immediately called to Mrs. Samuel Hammonds, a neighbor, to come to her assistance. The latter answered her call, and assisted the grief-stricken mother in taking her little and only son from the swingboard. It is said that Willie was fond of engaging in gymnastic exercises, and the probability is that while attempting some feat he became entangled in the rope, with the result above stated .- Boonton (N. Y.) Bulletin.

Successful Escape of Criminals.

Providence, Oct. 31 .- In the State prison at 2 o'clock this morning, Elisha E. Peck, a convict got out of his cell, knocked down the watchman with a piece of gas pipe, and bound and gagged him. He then liberated Charles Williams, another convict, and unsuccessfully tried to liberate Dennehey, the the alleged murderer and Geo. Calamiti, a burglar. Failing in this Peck and Williams took the watchman's pistol, watch and money, and at 4 o'clock the hour for calling the baker, they rang his bell as is usually done by the watchman, and when the baker appeared they knocked him him down and escaped through the door. One of them had six years and the other eight years to serve.

Singular Balloon Accident.

A singular accident happened at Dekalb, Illinois, last week. An geronant had a balloon ready to ascend when, before he had entered the car, it broke loose and flew upwards. A hanging rope caught round the leg of a man named McMann, and carried him up to the height of about a hundred feet, when he managed to climb into the basket. When the balloon had reached a distance of about four hundred feet from the earth McMann deliberately jumped out and was picked up dead.

Corn for Fuel.

A Chicago paper says that Iowa is burning corn for fuel, and thinks that if a dollar's worth of that cereal will make more heat than a dollar's worth of wood or coal. it should be burned by all means. It is a pity that locomotives on the railroad could not burn it too. If one-half of the entire crop were burned, the remainder would, in all probabilty, sell for more than the whole would bring now.

A telegram from Key West brings the intelligence of the burning at sea of the steamship Missouri, from New York for Havana. Only twelve persons are known to be saved out of all the passengers, officers and crew. The Missouri left New York for Havana, via Nassau, on the 17th ult. She was a fine vessel, and her commander popular with all who sailed under his protection. The calamity will reach to scores of homes in the country, as the list of those who perished must be large.

A colored man named Joshua Gill, formerly a slave in the family of the late Robert Oliver, of Baltimore county, departed this life on the 25th ult., aged 116 years. He had a distinct recollection of Gen. Washington and of his visit to the State of Maryland. He was active and induswhen Thomas commenced beating her, and trious, and retained his mental faculties in a wonderful degree to his death.—Baltimore Miscellaneous News Items.

LTA North Carolinian, aged within four years of a century, is under indictment for killing his wife, a few years his junior, and the extenuating plea offered is that he was rendered insanely jealous by her flirting with other young fellows.

An ordinance for the regulation of the liquor traffic in the town of Sterling, Illinois, provides that if the windows or doors, of drinking saloons shall be obscured by means of screens, paint or other devices to conceal what is going on within, the proprietors shall be liable to a fine of from five to twenty dollars.

A little son of Mr. Skinner, of Syracuse, Kosciusko county, Ind., accidently killed himself on last Sunday a week, while playing with a sling. He was swinging the sling around his head, and the stone in it somehow hit him on the head, just under the ear, killing him instantly.

A boy named Argot Williams, aged about ten years, entered one of the mines at Johnstown the other day to carry his father's dinner in. The little fellow lost his way, entered an abandoned "room" filled with gas, when it became ignited from the lamp the boy was carrying, and he was burned to a crisp.

TA man got a premium at the Northampton, Mass., cattle show for a two year old colt, though he exhibited only a horse eight years old. He kept the colt and the horse in the same pasture and the hired man he sent to get the colt, which he intended to show, took the horse; but it was all the same to the committee who awarded

A few days ago a child near the corner of West and M'Carty streets was bitten by a dog, and the relatives were highly excited over the probability of hydrophobia. Yesterday, on the advice of a butcher, so it is reported, the dog was killed, his heart taken out, made into soap, and then fed to the child as a preventive against the dread disease .- Indianapolis News

Last week at Rochester, the following incident occurred:-The last one of the two splendid "greys," costing the city $650, was dying. Suddenly the bell tolled out an alarm of fire. True to old impulses, the dying steed endeavored to regain his feet, and actually did raise himself on his fore-legs, only to fall helpless immediately. Death closed the faithful animal's eyes an hour and a quarter after.

A drawing-room car porter got off his car at Barrytown, N. Y., and kicked a goat standing near the station. The consequence was that the goat bucked the porter in the basement of his pantaloons, knocking him heels over head, and delaying him until the train went off and left him. He got up by next train, some four honrs afterward. He will probably be careful what sort of a goat he kicks next Turin, October 28.—The damages caused by the inundations of the Po, especially in the provinces of Mantua and Ferrara, are immense. Several hundred kilometres of the most fertile land in Italy are covered with water, and whole towns and villages are submerged. Many houses have been undermined and fallen. In some places the water reaches the roofs of the highest buildings. Thousands of people are homeless and others are flying from their dwellings, which are threatened with destruction. The towns of Casal, Maggirre and Astiglia, on the river Po, are in great danger, and the inhabitants are panic-stricken. The suffering is widespread and intense, but relief is going forward from all parts of Italy.

The officers of her Majesty's ship Ganges, stationed at Falmonth, England, gave the other day, a concert at a place called Redruth, a few railes distant, in aid of the Foresters' funds. Mr. Boynes, chief gunnery instructor, forty years of age, sang a humorous song in character, which was warmly applauded. He re-appeared to an encore, and staggered forward upon the orchestra. His fall being taken to be intentional, the applause and laughter were renewed, but Boynes continued struggling, and the merriment was soon turned to wild nlarm. Doctors were summoned, but before their arrival all motion had ceased, and in full view of the audience he had died.

London, October 26 .- The steamship Atrato, from London for Melbourne, has returned to port with a broken shaft. Three men were washed overboard and drowned. New Advertisements.
