

Vinegar Bitters are not a wine Fancy Drink, made of Root Beer, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin...

For Female Constipation, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blisters, Spots, Pimples, Furuncles, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scours, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Mechanical Diseases. Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, will be subject to paralysis of the Bowels.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

HUMOROUS ITEMS

What Will Take the Scent Out. Sitting on the piazza of the Cataract, was a young, foppish-looking gentleman, his garments very highly scented with a mingled odor of musk and cologne. A solemn-faced, odd-looking man, after passing the dandy several times, with a look of aversion which drew general notice, suddenly stopped, and in a confidential tone said—"Stranger, I know what'll take that scent out of your clothes; you—" "What! what do you mean, sir?" said the exquisite, "fired with indignation," starting from his chair. "Oh, get mad, now—swear, pitch round fight—just because a man wants to do you a kindness?" coolly replied the stranger. "But I tell you I do know what'll take out that smell—phew! You just bury clothes—bury 'em a day or two. Uncle Josh got a foul of a skunk, and he—" At this instant there went up from the crowd a simultaneous roar of merriment, and the dandy very sensibly "cleared the coop" and vanished up stairs.

A Puzzled Justice. There was once a very illiterate gentleman—one Peter Patterson—appointed as a justice of the peace. The first day his clerk handed him a duplicate writ. "Well, what shall I do with it?" was his query. "Nothing but sign your initials," was the reply. "My initials—what are they?" "Why two P.'s," replied the clerk, impatiently. Cold perspiration stood on the forehead of the unhappy magistrate, as he seized a pen with desperation in his face wrote "Two Pese."

A correspondent of an American paper, writing from the West Coast of Africa thus graphically describes his sensations "far away from civilization!" "Hear we are, on Afrik's burnin' shore, or, as the poet wud say, 'On Afrik's C beat shore I stand.' We are far away from civilization—from Kongress, and from your faul sitty. Here all is peas. The prime-evil forest is beautiful to behold. It is a sweet place I like the negroes. They are a contented people. They don't want nothing, and the kuntry is full of them. There iz no Court House, no Amerikus Klub, no Taminy Hall, and no Greely statoot in this place!"

A belligerent youngster, aged eighty-three, applied to the county clerk of Evansville, Indiana, for a marriage license. The clerk remonstrated, saying that a man of his age should turn his thoughts towards the other world, instead of matrimony. "I'm of age, ain't I?" asked the old chap. "Well, rather," answered the clerk. Off came the old man's coat and taking the attitude of a puglist, he said: "I kin jist knock fits out of any man who doesn't approve of this here matrimonial venture of mine. I want the license or there'll be somebody licked quicker'n thunder." He got it.

There is more than none way of talking on the subject of religion, and a better way, evidently, than the old lady had found whose husband lay wasting under a lingering disease. The rector expressed a hope that she sometimes spoke to him of the future. "I do, indeed, sir. Often and often I wake him in the night and say, John, John, you little thinks of the torment as is preparin' for you."

The credit system has been carried to a very fine point in some of the rural districts, if we may judge from the following dialogue, said to have recently occurred between a customer and the proprietor. "Wa'al, cash trade's kinder dull naow, Major; Boty Nipper has hort an egg's worth of tea, and got trusted for it till her speckled pullet lays."

As the early morning train down this morning drew up at the first station, a pleasant-looking gentleman stepped out on the platform, and inhaling the fresh air, enthusiastically observed to the brakeman, "Isn't this invigorating?" "No, sir; it is Bethel," said the conscientious employe. The pleasant-looking gentleman retired.

An old carpenter who has been employed at job work by an old lady, was asked why people of his trade always charged more in proportion for coffins than they did for chairs and tables. "Well, you see, ma'am, it's just because people won't bring coffins back to us to be repaired."

An Indiana paper describes the feast of a legislative delegation at railroad dinner. The reporter is a little reckless in his language, but he narrates the fact in the case very pointedly: "The delegation set at two P. M. They upset at five."

Schoolmistress (to dull boy)—"Johnny, I'm ashamed of you. When I was of your age I could read twice as well as you can." Johnny—"Yes'm, but you had a different teacher from what I've got."

A paper states that a girl in Illinois has drowned herself because of having warts on her hands. Perhaps she was trying wart-or-cure.
