STRONG presure is being brought on the President to induce him to appoint a colored man as one of his cabinet. They claim that they hold the balance of power between the parties, and that Grant's reelection is owing to their votes, and that consequently such an appointment is due the colored voters.

THE discovery has been made that counterfeit coupons of the Union Pacific Railroad bonds are in circulation, and an investigation is making to ascertain if the bonds have been counterfeited. A N. York firm was deceived by the artistic excellence of the counterfeit coupons, and paid them on presentation.

THE election for U. S. Senator in South Carolina comes off to-day. There are three candidates, namely: Ex-Governor Scott, J. J. Patterson, formerly of Juniata co., and Congressman Elliott, a colored man.

The colored men have a majority of four on joint ballot, and the probability is he will be elected. He is very black in color but a man of ability and education, having graduated at one of the German universi-

Female Suffrage.

Warrants having been issued against Susan B. Anthony and fifteen other females, for casting their votes at the last election. Miss Anthony, as soon as served with the process, at once retained Hon. Henry R. Selden to defend her. Judge Selden and Assistant United States District Attorney Pond met that P. M. by previous understanding at United States Commissioner Storr's office. Mrs. Authory and her sister were present. The warrant was read, but by agreement between the counsel, the examination was postponed until the 27th inst. Defendant says she is pleased to have her case brought properly before the Court. Warrants have been issued for the inspectors of election who received the ballots of Susan B. Anthony and friends.

Banker Missing.

The New York police are greatly excited over the sudden disappearance of Geo. Nicholas Peay, a banker from Louisville, Kentucky, who was on a visit to that city. Mr. Peay came there about three weeks ago and was at the time of his disappearance stopping at the St. Nicholas. Last Thursday morning he drew out $4,700, which he had deposited with a friend. The money was in his possession at the time of his disappearance. Thursday evening he visited with Mr. Martin the night clerk at the Brandreth House, an old and intimate friend. About midnight he bade good-bye to Mr. Martin at the door of the hotel, and since that time has not been seen by his friends. A watchman states, however, that be saw Mr. Peny cross over Canal street and enter into conversation with a man who accosted him. He subsequently passed down Canal street with this man. His friends think he has been murdered and robbed. The police are searching every house of ill-fame in the city, and have made several arrests of suspicious characters. Mr. Peay's brother is there prosecuting the search. It is said that Mr. Peay's domestic relations had become somewhat involved, and this gives rise to the hope that he may have secreted himself, and that he will yet turn up all right.

Can ght in a Snow Storm. A dispatch which was received from St. Pauls on Monday of last week says:

Gloomy news may be anticipated from Minnesota. As the track-layers on the extension of the Winona and St. Peters Railroad were approaching the Western State line at the rate of itwo miles daily, a terrible storm on last Thursday enveloped them, and cut them off from communication with civilization. The working force number over eight hundred men, and so sanguine were their expectations that the favorable weather would outlast November, that no preparations were made to avert the calamity, such as it is feared has befallen them. Only a limited supply of provisions was kept in store, for although a hundred miles distant from the telegraph construction trains, they maintained regular communication with "Sleepy Eye," the nearest white settlement. When intelligence of the storm reached Winona, J. H. Stewart, the General Superintendant, started with two locomotives and a train of cars, but so heavy and deep were the snow drifts, and so intense the cold, that up to Saturday morning they had not passed New Ulm.

At that place two additional locomotives were attached to the train, and then taking on board rations for thirty days and 150 men, besides materials with which to fit up boarding accommodations, in the cars, the train was again started. A passage-way had to be forced through drifts 8 to 10 feet deep, and even where the snow was only a foot deep, so hard was it and packed, that recourse was had to shovels before any advance could be made. On Sunday the train had proceed only twenty-five miles. Meantime the storm raged with a violence unprecedented, and when last heard from, on Tuesday night, the relief train was stuck fast in the ever accumulating snow, forty miles west of Sleepy Eye, and eighty miles short of the suffering track men. Yesterday morning the telegraph wires were down west of St. Peter, and the latest reports from Winona in the afternoon state that the wind had increased to a furious gale.

Murder at the Court Door.

Last week a murder was committed in New York under the following circumstan-

A referee case was being held by Judge Satherland. The suit being subsequent to a divorce suit between James King and his wife, to settle the question of the custody of the children of the parties. During the testimony given, Mr. Anthony F. O'-Neill and his wife related minute particulars as to the brutal treatment of wife and children by Mr. King. During the delivery Mr. King left the room. When the hearing was completed, Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill started on their way down the stairs. Mrs. O'Neill had noticed the disappearance of King, and seeing him on a lower floor was startled to see a pistol in his hand. She sprang to the side of her husband to get between him and the infuriated man below, Ere she had reached his side, however, King raised his pistol and fired three times, two of the shots striking O'Neill in the head and body. He feel back gasping into the arms of his wife, and cried out "I am shot; arrest that man." He was carried up stairs to another floor, but died in less than ten minutes. The murderer passed quickly up the stairs to Judge Sutherland's room and handed him the pistol, with two barrels yet undischarged. He then went up to another room and hid himself where he was found by the police. The affair created the most intense excitement in the lower part of the city, and as soon as it became known a large crowd collected around the building. There was some talk of Judge Lynch, but the police finally succeeded in getting their prisoner through a private entrance into a carriage, and hurried off to the station-house. The wife of the dead man was insane with grief, and was taken away by her friends.

A Clerical Scamp.

The trial of Rev. Gilbert Robertson has recently closed at Louisville. The Presbytery was in secret session from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m.; they found the accused guilty of drunkenness at the spring meeting of the Presbytery, at Carrolton, Ill., in 1868; on the cars from Chicago to Louisville, July 17th, 1872; and at the J. M. and Ill. railroad depot, in that city, July 19th, 1872. Guilty of lacivious conduct. Guilty of falsehood in saying he was in Toledo when he was in Chicago; of saying he was not in Chicago when he was; and saying he was never drunk prior to July 14th, 1872, when he was. The sentence was deposition from the office of minister of the Gospel and suspension from the privileges of the church until he exhibits satisfactory repentance. The vote on sentence stood deposition, 19; suspension, 3.

Earthquake in New Hampshire.

On the 18th inst., a severe shock of an earthquake was felt at Concord N. H., at about 2. a. m. It began with a sort of explosion, followed by trembling and shaking, which lasted about ten seconds. Buildings rocked violently, and the shock was plainly perceptible to people walking on the streets. The shock was distinctly heard, and its apparent course was from west to east. The telegraph operators at Contocook and Warner report the same shock there.

Escape of a Murderer in His Wife's Cloth-ing.

On Friday the 8th instant, Martin Baynard, a desperate character, was to have been hung at Hendersonville, N. C., for complicity in the murder of Silas Weston and his three children, for which crime George Baynard and Goven Adair who were the first convicted, had already been executed. Five thousand persons were assembled at Hendersonville to witness the third act of the tragedy, but it failed to take place. The prisoner's wife, who had remained with him the last night on earth, bade him an affectionate farewell the next morning, and soon after the apparently distressed woman passed through the crowd with a handkerchief to her face sobbing wofully. It proved to be the doomed man who, in his wife's dress, made good his Rosenzweig to have a New Trial.

At a full bench of the Supreme Court they unanimously set aside the conviction of Rosenzweig, who was sentenced last November to seven years imprisonment for the murder of Alice Bowlsby, by procuring an abortion on her, and ordered a new trial. Rosenzweig will be brought immediately to New York.

A Massachusetts Sunday-school recently undertook the novel task of raising money for the library by contributions of paper rags from the scholars. The evening of the gathering was rainy, but the whole amount of paper, rags brought was 1450 pounds, which will realize about $50.

An aged woman, named Boughter, of North Lebanon township, while on a visit to her friends near Shaefferstown, was found dead in bed last Saturday morning. In the evening she retired in apparently good health and spirits, and calmly and peacefully fell asleep in death. The cause is supposed to have been heart disease.

The Philadelphia Ledger takes up the money side of the horse-disease. There are about nine millions of horses in the United States, valued at six hundred and sixty millions of dollars. If but one per cent. of these should be carried off, making 90,000 horses, it would entail a direct money loss of $6,000,000-two per cent. or two deaths out of every hundred, would bring a loss of over $13,000,000, and three per cent., which is the mortality in some cities, swells the loss to nearly $20,000,000.
